Literacy Across the Community Laurie A. Henry, Norman A. Stahl, 2020-12-17 This volume explores and evaluates community-based literacy programs, examining how they bridge gaps in literacy development, promote dialogue, and connect families, communities, and schools. Highlighting the diversity of existing literacy initiatives across populations, this book brings together innovative and emerging scholarship on the relationship between P-20 schools and community-based literacy programming. This volume not only identifies trends in research and practice but it also addresses the challenges affecting these community-based programs and presents the best practices that emerge from them. Collaborating with leading scholars to provide national and international perspectives and offering a clear, birds-eye view of the state of community literacy praxis, chapters cover programming in a multitude of settings and for a wide range of learners from early childhood to incarcerated youths and adults, including immigrants, refugees, and indigenous communities. Topics include identity and empowerment, language, and literacy development across the lifespan, rural and urban environments, and partnership programs. The breadth of community literacy programming gathered in a single volume represents a unique array of models and topics and has relevance for researchers, scholars, graduate students, pre-service educators, and community educators in literacy.
