Wiederman, Bernard E. Whitley, Jr., 2012-12-06 Human sexuality researchers often find themselves faced with questions that entail conceptual methodological or ethical issues for which their professional training or prior experience may not have prepared them The goal of this handbook is to provide that guidance to students and professionals interested in the empirical study of human sexuality from behavioral and social scientific perspectives It provides practical and concrete advice about conducting human sexuality research and addresses issues inherent to both general social scientific and specific human sexuality research This comprehensive resource offers a unique multidisciplinary examination of the specific methodological issues inherent in conducting human sexuality research The methodological techniques and advances that are familiar to researchers trained in one discipline are often unfamiliar to researchers from other disciplines This book is intended to help enrich the communication between the various disciplines involved in human sexuality research Each of the 21 self standing chapters provides an expert overview of a particular area of research methodology from a variety of academic disciplines It addresses those issues unique to human sexuality research such as how to measure sexuality variables how to design studies recruit participants and collect data how to consider cultural and ethical issues and how to perform and interpret statistical analyses This book is intended as a reference tool for researchers and students interested in human sexuality from a variety of disciplines including psychology sociology family science health communication nursing medicine and anthropology Practical Research Methods for Media and Cultural Studies Máire Messenger Davies, Nick Mosdell, 2006 Many very intelligent people don't like dealing with numbers Similarly many gifted scientists are not especially interested in studying people and their cultural behavior In this book we argue that being interested in people and their cultures and helping students and others to use numbers to pursue these interests are not mutually exclusive Research methods are becoming an increasingly important requirement for students of all kinds But many students particularly those in the humanities struggle with concepts drawn from the social sciences and find quantitative and statistical information inaccessible and daunting Nonetheless such concepts are found in nearly all areas of society from market research to opinion polls to psychological studies of human behavior This book provides a simple guide to the process of conducting research in the humanities with special reference to media and culture from the planning stage through the data gathering to the analysis and interpretation of results planning it doing it and understanding it The book shows how students own choice of research topic can be refined into a manageable research question and how the most appropriate methodologies can be applied Each section draws on actual examples from research that the authors and their students have conducted Topics covered include choosing a research question and method instrument design and pilot data practical procedures research with children looking at statistics and interpretation of results Media Studies: Content, audiences, and production Pieter Jacobus Fourie,2001 This book includes theoretical approaches as well as a production section that focuses on basic techniques and introductory applications of media studies Communication Research Methods Mr. Rohit Manglik,2023-11-23 Methods for conducting research in media and communication fields Studyguide for the Dynamics of Mass Communication Cram101 Textbook Reviews,2013-05 Never HIGHLIGHT a Book Again Virtually all testable terms concepts persons places and events are included Cram101 Textbook Outlines gives all of the outlines highlights notes for your textbook with optional online practice tests Only Cram101 Outlines are Textbook Specific Cram101 is NOT the Textbook Accompanys 9780521673761 20 Questions about Youth & the Media Sharon R.
