

Q16443326 : How-Many-Word-Count Study Adapted from: English and Math, (2016)

How-Many-Word-Count Study: How-Many-Word-Count Study is a study of the effect of word count on students' reading comprehension. The study was conducted by a group of researchers at the University of California, San Diego. The study was designed to investigate the relationship between word count and reading comprehension. The study was conducted with a group of 100 students in the 4th and 5th grades. The students were divided into two groups: a control group and an experimental group. The control group was given a reading passage with a word count of 100 words. The experimental group was given a reading passage with a word count of 200 words. The students were then asked to answer a series of questions about the passage. The results of the study showed that the experimental group performed significantly better than the control group on the reading comprehension test.
