Yellin, 2017-05-12 This wonderful resource from two authors with an infectious enthusiasm for children's literature will help readers select and share quality books for and with young children. Specifically focused on infants through the third grade, Sharing the Journey contains descriptive book annotations, instructive commentary, and creative teaching activities tailored for those important years. Extensive book lists throughout will help readers build a library of quality children's literature. Books representing other cultures are included to help celebrate diversity as well as cultural connection. Genre chapters include poetry, fantasy, and realistic and historical fiction. A chapter on informational books demonstrates how young children can be introduced to and learn to enjoy nonfiction. El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2000, 2000 Harriet Tubman: Leading Slaves to Freedom Debra J. Housel, 2010-09-01 A series that lets young readers explore the lives and influence of important individuals whose stories and contributions have left an imprint on United States History. Includes primary source photographs, high interest nonfiction text, fun facts, timelines, glossary, and index. Common Core Curriculum Maps in English Language Arts, Grades K-5 Great Minds, 2011-10-19 The first books to present specific guidance for teaching the Common Core State Standards. Forty-three states plus the District of Columbia and the U.S. Virgin Islands have signed on to adopt the Common Core State Standards (CCSS). The need for curriculum guides to assist teachers in helping students meet these standards has become imperative. Created by teachers for teachers, the research-based curriculum maps in this book present a comprehensive, coherent sequence of thematic units for teaching the skills outlined in the CCSS for English language arts in Grades K-5. The maps address every standard in the CCSS yet are flexible and adaptable to accommodate diverse teaching styles. Each grade is broken down into six units that include focus standards, suggested works, sample activities, and assessments, lesson plans, and more. Teachers can use the maps to plan their year and craft their own more detailed lesson plans. Any teacher, school, or district that chooses to follow the Common Core maps can be confident that they are adhering to the standards. Harriet Tubman Doraine Bennett, 2017-12-13 Read Along or Enhanced eBook Low level biographies introduce young readers to the lives of key American leaders and their contributions to the history and founding of the United States. Levelled informational text for content and reading instruction. Children's Biographies of African American Women Sara C. VanderHaagen, 2018-11-15 A study of how rhetoric has shaped the life stories of African American role models in children's literature. In Children's Biographies of African American Women: Rhetoric, Public Memory, and Agency, Sara C. VanderHaagen examines how these biographies encourage young readers to think about themselves as agents in a public world. Specifically, VanderHaagen illustrates how these works use traditional means to serve progressive ends and thereby examines the rhetorical power of biography in shaping identity and promoting public action. Drawing on scholarship in rhetoric, memory studies, and children's literature, VanderHaagen presents rhetorical analyses of biographies of three African American women: poet Phillis Wheatley, activist Sojourner Truth, and educator-turned-politician Shirley Chisholm, published in the United States during the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. VanderHaagen begins by analyzing how biographical sketches in books for black children published during the 1920s represent Wheatley and Truth The study then shifts to books published between 1949 and 2015 VanderHaagen uses a concept adapted from philosopher Paul Ricoeur the idea of the agential spiral to chart the ways that biographies have used rhetoric to shape the life stories of Wheatley Truth and Chisholm By bringing a critical rhetorical perspective to the study of biographies for children this book advances the understanding of how lives of the past are used persuasively to shape identity and encourage action in the contemporary public world VanderHaagen contributes to the study of rhetoric and African American children s literature and refocuses the field of memory studies on children s biographies a significant but often overlooked genre through which public memories first take shape
