Ebola's Evolution Michael B. A. Oldstone, Madeleine Rose Oldstone, 2021-06-04 This book provides an intimate portrait of multiple outbreaks of Ebola in Africa and reveals how the results of that experience can help us fight COVID 19 Michael B A Oldstone who led the Viral Immunobiology Laboratory at the Scripps Research Institute worked with Ebola teams up with Madeleine Rose Oldstone to give a detailed account of the 2013 2016 and 2018 2020 Ebola outbreaks The authors trace the origin of the disease its spread like a tsunami thru Guinea Sierra Leone and Liberia the collapse of economies and the development of anti viral therapies against Ebola They compare the outbreaks of one of the world's deadliest viruses with today's struggle to overcome the COVID 19 pandemic You will gain intimate knowledge of a deadly pathogen that devastated a region of the world that lacks resources to fight it and learn why the world was unprepared for the Ebola outbreak You will meet people who fought heroically with limited resources including Sheik Kahn who died fighting Ebola and was declared a national hero by the Sierra Leone government Pardis Sabeti a geneticist working in infectious diseases from Harvard and MIT who was named Scientist of the Year by Time magazine and Robert Garry who headed the fight against viral hemorrhagic diseases and kept the White House and the press informed Sabeti and Garry worked with Oldstone and provided information about the outbreak to the authors making the narrative particularly incisive and timely Ebola's Evolution will give you a fast paced detailed and fascinating picture of a feared disease that killed thousands of people and threatening to become a global pandemic before it was stopped Emerging Infectious Diseases, 2018

Communication and Community Engagement in Disease Outbreaks Erma Manoncourt, Rafael Obregon, Ketan Chitnis, 2022-05-30 This book provides readers with a critical conceptual and applied understanding of the role of communication and community engagement for disease outbreak preparedness and response Until the WHO declared COVID 19 a pandemic on March 11 2020 for several years public health authorities and influential voices in the international public health community have warned of a pandemic and therefore a need to strengthen governments and communities ability to prevent and respond to it effectively to minimize its impact on lives and economies While investments have focused on clinical diagnostic and vaccine research preventing and minimizing the impact of disease outbreaks requires a wider socio ecological systems approach that places communities at the centre of the response Such an approach is still rare in public health practice One of the key lessons that the authors have learned and on which they reflect in the chapters is that technical inputs will be as effective as they are fully integrated within the broader architecture of disease outbreak preparedness and response The ten chapters of this contributed volume are organized under three parts a conceptual framework case studies and recommendations Communication and Community Engagement in Disease Outbreaks is a timely and essential resource for public health managers donors implementers organizations engaged in disease prevention and control and academics called on to support the response These audiences should benefit from this approach as the book highlights dimensions that are often under resourced Ebola's Curse Michael B.A. Oldstone, Madeleine R.

Knowledge for Governance Johannes Glückler,Gary Herrigel,Michael Handke,2021-01-14 This open access book focuses on theoretical and empirical intersections between governance knowledge and space from an interdisciplinary perspective The contributions elucidate how knowledge is a prerequisite as well as a driver of governance efficacy and conversely how governance affects the creation and use of knowledge and innovation in geographical context Scholars from the fields of anthropology economics geography public administration political science sociology and organization studies provide original theoretical discussions along these interdependencies Moreover a variety of empirical chapters on governance issues ranging from regional and national to global scales and covering case studies in Australia Europe Latina America North America and South Africa demonstrate that geography and space are not only important contexts for governance that affect the contingent outcomes of governance blueprints Governance also creates spaces It affects the geographical confines as well as the quality of opportunities and constraints that actors enjoy to establish legitimate and sustainable ways of social and environmental co existence

Paragraph 3 L. Kevin Kelly,Lt. General John F. Mulholland,Kevin McDermott,2022-03-18 When the COVID pandemic burned across the world in 2020 the United States found itself in an unaccustomed place A country that had always assumed its superior capacity to deal with large problems instead flailed in its response not only to the health threat posed by the virus but to the economic calamity and social unrest accompanying it When crisis came where was leadership Paragraph 3 Prepared Leadership in the Age of Uncertainty illuminates the how of guiding organizations and institutions in what promises to be a long era of uncertainty of which the upheavals of the pandemic were only a taste Paragraph 3 is not another leadership book It is a practical guide to running organizations in an age when every operating environment will be complex volatile and ambiguous The interviewees in Paragraph 3 are a striking cross section of American leaders a diverse collection of senior leaders men and women from the military and corporate worlds admirals and generals now working in the private sector CEOs a leading surgeon technology innovators Paragraph 3 captures their real world lessons for finding a way forward Paragraph 3 is a manual for the 21st Century Advanced praise for Paragraph 3 A compelling read that takes you into the trenches with men and women who have achieved success in business medicine technology and the military Paragraph 3 is the guidebook we need in the post COVID world where unpredictability and uncertainty are part of our everyday reality Leaders are expected to move their teams and their organizations forward whether the path ahead is obvious or not This book provides a roadmap to do just that Alison Levine author of the New York Times bestseller On the Edge Leadership Lessons from Mount Everest and other Extreme Environments One of the best books I have read this year I love the thesis of Paragraph 3 which is that in a very uncertain world there are what the authors call recombinant risks that accelerate unpredictability Reading the introductory essay I wanted to underline every other sentence The authors back up their ideas with insider accounts of key moments in our recent history Every single interview offers something powerful Organizational success in an unpredictable reality depends on two abilities The first is the collective intelligence to determine the right changes for the future The second is the emotional know how to inspire people to embark on that journey Paragraph 3 gives you the tools to do both A must read for any leader Sanyin Siang Professor at Duke University and CEO Coach Paragraph 3 is a practical guide to running organizations in an era when every operating environment may be subject to periods of serious instability The heart of Paragraph 3 is its collection of page turning interviews with accomplished men and women from the military and corporate worlds They see beyond the COVID era s overlapping crises and beyond the fluidity of long term disrupters like artificial intelligence They offer us tools for working in a new kind of world A compulsive read Kevin O'Brien CEO of Orbital Insight
