The Future of Foreign Policy Is Feminist Kristina Lunz, 2023-09-05 As old white men continue to dominate the national and international stages the needs of women and minorities are constantly ignored International politics are shaped by a ruthless competition for advantage and the world is full of conflicts crises and wars Things have to change Activist and political scientist Kristina Lunz is on a mission to do just that In her work from New York to Bogot from Germany to Myanmar she became aware of a stubborn unwillingness to think past the status quo and to embrace new innovative voices from marginalized groups She also saw that the tradition of feminist activism combined brilliantly with diplomacy both require grim tenacity boundless creativity and a solutions oriented approach In her attempt to reconfigure the field of foreign policy she aims to set in motion a paradigm shift replacing grandiose displays of military might with feminism solidarity and climate justice A feminist foreign policy requires the promotion of equal rights in the handling of foreign affairs and security matters worldwide with a particular focus on marginalized and politically underrepresented groups Ultimately this is nothing less than an inclusive visionary policy for the twenty first century one where security and prosperity health and climate justice are possible in other words where peace is possible for everyone everywhere Handbook for Achieving Gender Equity Through Education

Promotional Culture and Convergence Helen Powell, 2013-04-17. The rapid growth of promotional material through the internet, social media, and entertainment culture has created consumers who are seeking out their own information to guide their purchasing decisions. Promotional Culture and Convergence analyses the environments necessary for creating a culture of collaboration with consumers and critically engages with key areas of contemporary promotional development, including promotional culture's primary industries: advertising, marketing, PR, and branding, and how they are informed by changes in consumer behaviour and market conditions. It shows how industries are adapting in the digital age to attract both audiences and advertising revenue, the evolving dialogues between new consumers and producers, and promotional industries. Ten contributions from leading theorists on contemporary promotional culture present an indispensable guide to this creative and dynamic field and include detailed historical analysis, in-depth case studies, and global examples of promotion through TV, magazines, newspapers, and cinema.
