Choose Life A Dialogue Echoes And Reflections:

Reflections on the Global Civilization Majid Tehranian, Daisaku Ikeda, 2015-12-21 Globalization has brought different civilizations and peoples into new and closer contact. But this novel intimacy has not always led to greater understanding. There is an urgent need to work towards a global civilization based on principles of peace, mutual respect and tolerance. It is precisely that goal which the participants attempt in this classic dialogue. Inspired by the encounters between Buddhism and Islam as they exchanged ideas and goods along the Silk Road, it brings together a Sufi Muslim from Iran and one of the world's most influential lay Buddhist leaders to explore the vibrant areas of common ground between the Islamic and Buddhist traditions. Coloured by Sufi philosophy and by Buddhist thought and practice and drawing on a diverse selection of thinkers including Rumi and Hafez, Rabindranath Tagore, Jürgen Habermas and Antonio Gramsci, Reflections on the Global Civilization offers a profound meditation on conflict, loss and injustice as well as the vitality of interfaith discussion. It shows that Islam and Buddhism have much to offer not only to each other but also to the world as a whole.

The Chinese Dream and Law Shiping Hua, 2025-08-01 Analyzes the major laws promulgated during the Xi Jinping era against a background of the politics and ideology of the Xi regime in general. The Chinese Dream and Law study situates the Chinese Dream in the modern utopianism discourse since the Late Qing, following Kang Youwei and Mao Zedong. As a tool to promote the Chinese Dream, the legal reforms during the period depart from the thin constitutionalism of the first three decades of the post-Mao era and resemble aspects of Legalism. Although the current regime has made some progress in protecting people's socioeconomic rights through law, it has retreated on upholding judicial independence to protect people's civil and political rights, especially those vis-à-vis the state. The first three decades since post-Mao reform are an aberration that deviates from the normal trajectory of modern Chinese political development. The decade-long efforts by the current regime have slowed the growing official corruption and have slightly narrowed the growing income gap, although economic growth was cut in half. The Chinese style of utopianism could mean a better place as in the country's ancient past. It could also become a no-place in the modern, diverse world because this human hope that has a universal claim is often built on authoritarian means.

Hai Shang, Elegy of the Sea Yiwei Wang, 2015 This invaluable book provides a reflective analysis on European civilization through a Chinese cultural perspective along with the author's diplomatic experiences in Brussels on the Chinese Mission to the European Union. The book has three main focuses: maritime civilization, human civilization and the relations between Chinese East and European West civilization. It aims to stimulate discussion to rethink the East-West relations in terms of globalization and its contributions to a new post-maritime human civilization. Hai Shang means elegy of the sea. He Shang means elegy of the river. Contents: Europe in Debt, Civilization in Decline, Decline of European Maritime Civilization, Self Abuse, A European Story, Modern European Civilization, What is What, Maritime Civilization, Case of Schizobulia, European Civilization à la China, When China Sets Sail, G2: How China and Europe Coexist, China Time for Something European, Readership.

Undergraduate students studying Asian history and general public similarly interested in the analysis of East West relations from a historical and cultural perspective

Beyond Global Crisis Terrence Edward Paupp, 2017-09-29 In this volume Terrence Paupp critically describes the various dimensions of today's global crisis Among other things this volume analyzes nuclear weapons proliferation climate change and international lawlessness in the form of wars of aggression Paupp argues that much human conflict and environmental degradation is the direct consequence of poverty and inequality Until these issues are addressed many of the world's problems will remain Paupp asserts that around the world peoples and nations are becoming more open to a strategy and culture of peace that evolves through discovering a commonality of interests the value of mutual cooperation and the desirability of forging consensus By using various road maps and remedies supplied by noted Japanese peace activist Daisaku Ikeda and his contemporaries viable solutions will emerge In this new endeavor equipped with some of the proposed solutions and strategies that this book provides humanity will collectively become engaged in remaking the character of global governance in order to build a global culture of peace

Human Rights in the Twenty-first Century Austregésilo de Athayde, Daisaku Ikeda, 2009-04-30 Austregésilo de Athayde President of the Brazilian Academy of Letters for 34 years until his death in September 1993 is perhaps best remembered as one of the most prominent and effective South American champions of human rights Athayde played a major role in drafting the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was adopted in December 1948 The dialogue begins with a discussion of some of the great modern espousers of human rights including Mahatma Gandhi Martin Luther King and Nelson Mandela Athayde then recounts how the UN declaration came into being and describes his role in the process Ikeda meanwhile explores the Buddhist ideas of mercy freedom and equality and discusses their potential to enrich the human rights movement The Dialogue as a whole represents a provocative and thoughtful introduction to the compassionate thought of two leading proponents of social justice

José Martí, Cuban Apostle Cintio Vitier, Daisaku Ikeda, 2013-09-17 Once called the wellspring of the revolution by Fidel Castro Jose Marti 1853 1895 is revered as one of the greatest figures in the history of Cuba Not only was he instrumental in the late nineteenth century cause of securing Cuban independence from Spain He is also considered one of Cuba's most brilliant writers orators and formative intellectuals who provided inspiration to the young Fidel Che and their fellow revolutionaries by dedicating his whole life to the goal of national political emancipation Jose Marti suffered persecution and early imprisonment for his convictions and in consequence is often referred to as the Cuban Apostle In this wide ranging discussion of Marti's life work and influence distinguished Cuban poet Cintio Vitier and prominent Buddhist leader Daisaku Ikeda explore their subject's understanding of non violence his nationalism that was also a profound openness to difference and dialogue his spirituality his poetical writings and most of all his fundamental dignity humanity and self mastery The book explores above all the nature of sacrifice and the cost of relinquishing personal happiness for the sake of a great cause The discussants examine Marti's family life including his difficult relationships with his wife Carmen Zayas

Bazan and his parents who distanced themselves from his revolutionary fervour Comparisons are drawn between Marti's ideals and Nichiren Buddhism as a source of unfailing hope and courage As Daisaku Ikeda follower of Nichiren says at one point in the dialogue Self mastery is the hardest thing of all But to have a spiritual nature worthy of the name a person must overcome himself a task that only a true optimist can accomplish Marti's perspicacity is revealed in his conviction that final victory in life is assured by such optimists Marti like Nichiren had the unerring ability to turn enemies into friends And as Cintio Vitier and Daisaku Ikeda reveal what set Marti apart was not his thought or ideas alone but what emanated from his words and found embodiment in his actions It was thus that a follower at the time could say of him we don't understand him but we are ready to die for him

Compassionate Light in Asia Jin Yong, Daisaku Ikeda, 2013-09-17 Life is a drama of encounters writes Daisaku Ikeda at the beginning of this dialogue Beautiful encounters Momentary encounters Each person's drama is unique This particular encounter between a celebrated Chinese novelist and prominent Japanese religious leader illustrates the truth of that reflection For in the discussion that stemmed from their meetings Jin Yong who is sometimes called the Asian Dumas and Daisaku Ikeda were able to find remarkable common ground what they refer to as a karmic bond resulting from the particularity of their experiences in wartime and mutual resistance to adversity Ranging across a variety of engaging themes the interlocutors explore such topics as the nature of friendship theories of civilization world literatures that have inspired them the importance of free speech Buddhist perspectives on life and death and the spiritual search for truth There is sustained reflection on the horrors of war and a plea for the importance of memory Daisaku Ikeda emphasises that peace is a battle against forgetfulness while Jin Yong echoes this in his observation that most important is to strive to avoid war whether it is between countries and whether it be domestic and thus to enable people to build and improve their lives in a peaceful environment Cultural differences between the peoples of China and Japan are explored sometimes amusingly with the Japanese propensity for discipline and rules contrasted with the Chinese spirit of creative individualism But the authors are focused above all on serious issues of meaning and identity and they reveal the mutual solace both have found in the face of personal loss and bereavement in the Buddhist scriptures especially the Lotus Sutra Demonstrating a remarkable capacity for empathy throughout they incarnate in their lives and work an intelligent and sympathetic compassion that represents a beacon of hope to the future direction of Sino Japanese relations

A Lifelong Quest for Peace Linus Pauling, Daisaku Ikeda, 2008-10-30 Linus Pauling is celebrated as one of the greatest scientific minds of the last century whose decisive contributions to an astonishing diversity of fields including organic and inorganic chemistry quantum mechanics molecular biology and medicine still remain in many respects definitive Pauling was additionally a tireless campaigner against the perils of nuclear conflict and his contributions to both science and peace were recognized by the award to him of two separate Nobel Prizes In this philosophically broad and sinewy book he engages in complementary discussion with Daisaku Ikeda President of Soka Gakkai and another tireless champion for peace and dialogue Showcasing the central ideas and fundamental values of two of the leading pacifist minds of recent times A Lifelong Quest for Peace ranges over such perennially critical themes as ethics and technology the appropriate use to which science should be put the nature of morality and the human quest for progress justice and equality Both richly anecdotal and warmly engaging the discussions offer fascinating insights into and recollections from the interlocutors early lives and subsequent careers Pauling and Ikeda thereby demonstrate through warm personal example the essential and lasting value of constructive conversation between people of different backgrounds and contrasting cultures Dialogues with/and Great Books David

Fishelov,2011-10-06 What is the source of a book s perceived greatness and why do certain books become part of the accepted canon This book presents a fresh perspective on these questions against prevalent approaches it explains a work s reputation in terms of its aesthetic qualities or as the result of dictates by social hegemonies the power view Reflections

World Bryan Wilson,Daisaku Ikeda,2008-04-30 In a spontaneously wide ranging conversation one winter evening in Japan sociologist of religion Bryan Wilson and Buddhist philosopher Daisaku Ikeda recognized the importance of explaining and learning about their respective worldviews Human Values in a Changing World is the record of their further exchanges on how they see the religious response to the human condition Their contrasting approaches one as an academic and the other as a lay Buddhist allow for a constructive critique of preconceptions otherwise unexamined in their own cultural contexts There is an intimate connection between faith and the fruits of commitment Wilson says at one point To which Ikeda responds that while the benefits of faith to momentary happiness are perhaps not the core value of a religion they can inspire and lead people to become aware of that core value or fundamental truth The two men s observations on the origins of religious sensibilities move from the spiritual and the moral to the politics of private and public life Although published some years ago Human Values in a Changing World addresses topics and issues which are of perennial importance to human flourishing including sexual morality the limits of tolerance and religious freedom the future of the family the belief in an afterlife and the idea of sin Reflections of the Wild Barrett Williams,ChatGPT,2025-07-23 Dive into the shimmering

Arthur James Wells,2009 A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey,2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse

Choose Life Arnold Toynbee,Daisaku Ikeda,2007-11-15 Arnold J Toynbee was a historian whose 12 volume A Study of History had a huge impact on the thinking of his day This epic multi volume work offered a grand synthesis of world history from the global perspective of the rise and fall of civilizations rather than concentrating on the history of nation states or of ethnic groups For Time magazine Toynbee was an international sage and certainly in the same bracket as Einstein Schweitzer or Bertrand Russell Daisaku Ikeda is a figure of global stature the spiritual leader of a worldwide lay Buddhist organisation devoted to the promotion of education culture and peace Between 1971 and 1974 Toynbee and Ikeda discussed many of the vital issues which confronted their societies in the early 1970s all of which remain current and significant Indeed topics such as the problems of pollution dwindling natural resources conflict and war the role of religion and population growth are even more pressing than they were thirty years ago In this volume which still reads as freshly as it did when it was first published and which is now reissued for a new generation of readers the inspiring challenge issued by both men is framed as follows will humankind choose to salvage its destiny by a revolution in thinking and morals Or will disaster ensue if it pursues its present course towards self destruction and the despoliation of the environment While recognising that our survival is threatened by the imbalance between human immaturity and technological achievement the optimistic message of this classic Dialogue is that man made evils have a man made cure

Echoes of Coinherence W. Ross Hastings, 2017-07-28 This book reimagines the universe and the scientific study of it through the lens of a triune Creator three persons of irreducible identity in a perichoretic or coinherent communion It modestly proposes that Trinitarian theology and especially the coinherent natures of the Son in the incarnation provides the metaphysic or theory of everything that manifests itself in the subject matter of science The presence of the image of the triune God in humanity and of traces of this God in the non human creation are discussed highlighting ontological resonances between God and creation resonances between the being of God and his creation such as goodness immensity yet particularity intelligibility agency relationality and beauty This Trinitarian reality suggests there should be a similarity also with respect to how we know in theology and science critical realism something reflected in the history of ideas in each These resonances lead to the conclusion that the disciplines of theology and science are in fact coinherent not conflicted This involves recognition of both the mutuality of these vocations and also importantly their particularity Science its own distinct guild yet finds its place ensconced within an encyclopedic theology and subject to first order credal theology

Analytic Reflections from Conflict Zones James R. Adams, 2021-09-22 This book details the compelling story of the author's life journey through conflict zones and his return home with innovative conflict assessment and transformation frameworks and models to help people better see their conflict circumstances and peacebuilding possibilities analytic reflections aimed directly at academics professionals and citizens This engaging approach contains a blend of on the ground stories mix of professional and personalized writing styles astute historical and policy contextualization and accessible field tested analytic tools with community societal and international intervention implications It is also a cautionary tale for increasingly conflicted societies Political polarization caustic commentary and societal discord in America and elsewhere remind the author an informed eyewitness of dangerous conflict patterns and consequences that he has seen before in various conflict zones

Echo Phenomenon Aiden Feynman, AI, 2025-03-10 Echo Phenomenon explores the science behind sound wave reflection and its wide ranging applications especially in sonar technology It reveals how understanding echoes allows us to see in environments where light fails like underwater mapping and medical imaging For instance bats use echolocation to navigate showcasing nature's optimized echo based systems a concept known as bioacoustics The book starts with the physics of sound and its interactions with surfaces building a theoretical base It then examines sonar technology covering its development and uses in marine biology and navigation Finally it looks at echo based techniques in fields like medical ultrasound and non destructive testing Throughout the chapters experimental data from acoustics oceanographic surveys and medical case studies support the arguments It's designed for physics and engineering students as well as professionals in acoustics offering accessible explanations of complex equations with illustrative examples

Theory and Practice of Dialogical Community Development Peter Westoby, Gerard Dowling, 2013-07-18 This book proposes that community development has been increasingly influenced and co opted by a modernist soulless rational philosophy reducing it to a shallow technique for solving community problems In contrast this dialogical approach re maps the ground of community development practice within a frame of ideas such as dialogue hospitality and depth For the first time community development practitioners are provided with an accessible understanding of dialogue and its relevance to their practice exploring the contributions of internationally significant thinkers such as P Freire M Buber D Bohm and H G Gadamer J Derrida G Esteva and R Sennett What makes the book distinctive is that first it identifies a dialogical tradition of community development and considers how such a tradition shapes practice within contemporary contexts and concerns economic social political cultural and ecological Second the book contrasts such an approach with technical and instrumental approaches to development that fail to take complex systems seriously Third the approach links theory to practice through a combination of storytelling and theory reflection ensuring that readers are drawn into a practice theory that they feel increasingly confident has been tried and tested in the world over the past 25 years
