Christian Faith and the Earth E. M Conradie, 2014 Early Ecotheology and Joseph Sittler Panu Pihkala, 2017 When did Christians begin to address environmental questions What can be learned from these pioneering thinkers This study reveals that between 1910 and 1954 many theologians called for responsibility towards nature The focal point is the work of Joseph Sittler 1904 1987 an American Lutheran and ecumenical theologian The role of these early ecotheologians is discussed in relation to environmental history and education The findings show that ecotheology was not as strongly separated from other environmentalism as it was after the 1960s Series Studies in Religion and the Environment Studien zur Religion und Umwelt Vol 12 Subject Religious Studies Environmental Studies Ecotheology Joseph Sittler Routledge Handbook of Religion and Ecology Willis J. divides and carbon mitigation This rich ecumenical cross cultural conversation provides a comprehensive and in depth engagement with the theological and moral challenges raised by anthropogenic climate change Ecology in Jurgen Moltmann's Theology Celia E. Deane-Drummond,2016-09-01 This book offers a critical and constructive analysis of the contribution of Jurgen Moltmann to the field of ecotheology Moltmann is one of the foremost and influential contemporary theologians of our time but his specific contribution to ecotheology has received relatively scant attention in the secondary literature The author deals sensitively with the relevant scientific aspects necessary in order to develop an adequate theology of the natural world She also offers a careful and constructive analysis of the specific systematic theologies of creation humanity eschatology and Trinity that are woven into Moltmann s rich interpretation of the relationship between God and creation The End of All Things Is at Hand Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen,2022-01-20 This book proposes a bold vision of the end of human life and the cosmos based on the hopeful vision of Christian faith In a dialogue with the best of Christian tradition the natural sciences conjectures of the end as well as Islam s rich teaching on the doctrine of the Last Things a fresh constructive eschatology is recommended While based on wide and deep academic learning the conversational style of the book makes it suitable for various kinds of audiences from pastors to students to scholars and to interested lay folks God and the Natural World Ted Peters,Marie Turner,2020-05-01 This collection of essays is a fitting tribute to Denis Edwards who was one of Australia s leading theologians In exploring the most challenging questions of our time these essays canvas some of the great themes of Christian theology that were the focus of Edwards research Denis Edwards was a theologian of dialogue dialogue with our rich theological tradition dialogue with science dialogue with contemporary theologians The contributors to this volume enter into a dialogue with substantial parts of the theological output of Denis Edwards In the process they capture something of his humanity his love of creation and his concern for our common home The book demonstrates the commitment Denis Edwards had to a theology that is truly ecumenical and always learning from the insights of others The editors and authors have done a great service in helping many others to deepen reflection on Denis Edwards contribution to our understanding of God and the natural world Theology and Ecology in Dialogue Dermot A. Lane,2020-05-21 This book opens with an examination of the meaning of the innocent sounding category of Integral Ecology in contemporary thought and its significance for theology today According to well known Irish theologian Dermot Lane Integral Ecology changes everything In this book he focuses on the neglected implications of Integral Ecology for systematic theology Ecology challenges theology to reimagine who we are who the Spirit of God is who Christ is where creation is going and what is the role of liturgy in society all in the glare of the ecological crisis This book also mines the theology within and behind the ground breaking encyclical Laudato Si On Care for our Common Home Until fairly recently climate change was left to the scientists politicians and activists More is needed Now is the time to hear voice of religion in that debate in the public forum with a view to initiating new transformative practices in society in politics and in religions This new book will be of interest to activists politicians priests christian educators and theologians The book is born out of the conviction that climate change is not just one more problem to be addressed by politicians rather it is the challenge facing humanity in the 21st century and as such is the challenge underlying all other challenges at this moment in history Redeeming Sin? Ernst M. Conradie, 2017-10-11 Can Christian sin talk be retrieved within the public sphere In this contribution to ecotheology Ernst M Conradie argues that amid ecological destruction discourse on sin can contribute to a multidisciplinary depth diagnosis of what has gone wrong in the world He confronts some major obstacles related to the plausibility of sin talk in conversation with evolutionary biology the cognitive sciences and animal ethology He defends an Augustinian insistence that social evil rather than natural evil is our primary predicament If the root cause of social evil is sin then a Christian confession of sin may yet yield good news for the whole earth Theology, Science and Life Carmody Grey, 2023-01-26 Offering a bold intervention in the ongoing debate about the relationship between theology and science Theology Science and Life proposes that the strong demarcation between the two spheres is unsustainable theology occurs within and not outside what we call science and science occurs within and not outside theology The book applies this in a penetrating way to the most topical contentious and philosophically charged science of late modernity biology Rejecting the easy dualism of expressions such as theology and science theology or science modern biology is examined so as to illuminate the nature of both In making this argument the book achieves two further things It is the first major English language reception and application of the thought of philosopher Hans Jonas in theology and it makes a decisive contribution to the unfolding reception of Radical Orthodoxy one of the most influential schools in contemporary Anglophone theology Environmental Humanities and Theologies Rod Giblett, 2018-06-13 Many ways of thinking about and living with the environment have their roots in the Bible and the Christian cultural tradition Environmental Humanities and Theologies shows that some of these ways are problematic It also provides alternative ways that value both materiality and spirituality Beginning with an environmentally friendly reading of the biblical story of creation Environmental Humanities and Theologies goes on to discuss in succeeding chapters the environmental theology of wetlands dragons and watery monsters including crocodiles and alligators in the Bible and literature It then gives a critical reading of the environmental theology of the biblical book of Psalms Theological concepts are found in the works of English writers of detective and devotional stories and novels American nature writers and European Jewish writers as succeeding chapters show Environmental Humanities and Theologies concludes with an appreciation for Australian Aboriginal spirituality in the swamp serpent It argues for the sacrality of marsh monsters and swamp serpents as figures of reverence and respect for living bio and psycho symbiotic livelihoods in bioregions of the living earth in the Symbiocene This is the hoped for age superseding the Anthropocene Environmental Humanities and Theologies is aimed at those who have little or no knowledge of how theology underlies much thinking and writing about the environment and who are looking for ways of thinking about being and living with the earth that respect and value both spirituality and materiality It is a new text nurturing sacrality for the Symbiocene Hope and Community Veli-Matti Karkkainen, 2017-10-23 The culmination of Karkkainen's multivolume magnum opus This fifth and final volume of Veli-Matti Karkkainen's ambitious five volume systematic theology develops a constructive Christian eschatology and ecclesiology in dialogue with the Christian tradition with contemporary theology in all its global and contextual diversity and with other major living faiths Judaism Islam Buddhism and Hinduism In Part One of the book Karkkainen discusses eschatology in the contexts of world faiths and natural sciences including physical cosmological and neuroscientific theories In Part Two on ecclesiology he adopts a deeply ecumenical approach His proposal for greater Christian unity includes the various dimensions of the church's missional existence and a robust dialogical witness to other faith communities Extinction and Religion Jeremy H. Kidwell, Stefan Skrimshire, 2024-01-02 Human caused extinctions have never been so prominent in our political and cultural landscape Extinction and Religion is a collection of wide ranging chapters that explore the implications for religious faith and experience as it relates to a sixth mass extinction in Earth's history Further it seeks to answer the question as to how religious and spiritual practices are shaping responses to the crisis Edited by Jeremy H Kidwell and Stefan Skrimshire this collection aims to set a new postsecular agenda articulating the questions challenges and ways forward for thinking about religion in an age of mass extinction rather than provide responses from world religions in isolation It covers subjects such as the multitude of challenges posed by mass extinction to beliefs about the future of humanity death and the afterlife the integrity of creation and the relationship between human and nonhuman life Wide ranging and incisive Extinction and Religion amply demonstrates the many ways in which the threat of extinction profoundly affects our faith and religious life worlds Navigating Post-Truth and Alternative Facts Jennifer Baldwin, 2018-09-15 Navigating Post Truth and Alternative Facts Religion and Science as Political Theology is an edited volume that explores the critical intersection of religion and science and our contemporary political and social landscape with a tailored eye towards the epistemological and hermeneutical impact of the post truth society The rise of the post truth society has specific importance and inherent risk for nearly all academic disciplines and researchers When personal beliefs regarding climate change trump scientific consensus research projects are defunded results are hidden or undermined and all of us are at a greater vulnerability to extreme weather patterns When expertise itself becomes suspect we become a nation lead by fools When data is overcome by alternative facts and truth in any form is suspect where is the space for religious and or scientific scholarship The central curiosity of this volume is what is the role of religion and science scholarship in a post truth society This text explores truth lies fear populism politics faith the environment post modernity and our shared public life God, Evolution, and Animal Suffering Bethany N. Sollereder, 2018-10-29 After the publication of On the Origin of Species in 1859 theologians were faced with the dilemma of God creating through evolution Suddenly pain suffering untimely death and extinction appeared to be the very tools of creation and not a result of the sin of humanity Despite this paradigm shift the question of non human suffering has been largely overlooked within theodicy debates overwhelmed by the extreme human suffering of the twentieth century This book redresses this imbalance by offering a rigorous academic treatment of the questions surrounding God and the suffering of non human animals Combining theological philosophical and biblical perspectives this book explores the relationship between God and Creation within Christian theology First it dismantles the popular theological view that roots violence and suffering in the animal kingdom in the fall of humanity Then through an exploration of the nature of love it affirms that there are multiple reasons to suggest that God and creation can both be good even with the presence of violence and suffering This is an innovative exploration of an under examined subject that encompasses issues of theology science morality and human animal interactions As such it will be of keen interest to scholars and academics of religion and science the philosophy of religion theodicy and biblical studies

Ecclesiastes: An Earth Bible Commentary Marie Turner, 2017-09-21 Qoheleth is one of the most challenging and intriguing of the biblical authors Above all he is attentive to life's realities neither optimistic about the world nor unappreciative of its goodness and pleasures In this volume Turner examines the writings of Qoheleth in the book of Ecclesiastes and provides an ecological reading of the text that gives readers clear insights into how biblical wisdom literature can be used to respond to the challenges facing the environment in the present day as well as advancing the field of ecological hermeneutics In this commentary Turner looks at the concept of Qoheleth's eternal earth moving through the chapters of Ecclesiastes with an ear attuned to the voice of the Earth as it struggles to be heard above the voice of the economy Such a voice is not necessarily antagonistic to that of Earth but neither is it neutral The ecological reader knows that a prudent economy is necessary for living but if it is given precedence at the expense of Earth there will be no future let alone eternity for Earth Eco justice demands that contemporary readers should be mindful of future generations and heed Qoheleth's counsel to value the fruits of one's labour without greed allowing ecological hermeneutics to provide insights into contemporary environmental issues Illustrating how a biblical framework for environmentally responsible living may be generated Turner's analysis is vital both to those studying Qoheleth and to those invested in the Bible and ecology

Glocal Theological Education Bård Norheim, Shantelle Weber, 2024-06-14 This book presents a vision for Glocal Theological Education an invitation to rethink and reshape theological training in times of crisis The aim is to train theological judiciousness the ability to exercise sound judgment and practice discernment in the face of the different crises in the world of today like the climate crisis the changed role of the church and the challenge of youth citizenship It explores what has been learned from developing shared global learning within the framework of local learning communities in Norway South Africa and beyond The book also discusses key practices such as the combination of coteaching online and learning in local contexts and best practice research on other educational activities Contributors also reflect more theoretically on where how and what we can learn from crisis and how these theoretical insights can help us shape theological leaders for the future who can read the times

Post-Sustainability John Foster, 2018-10-22 The sustainability discourse and policy paradigm have failed to deliver. In particular, they have failed to avert the dangerously disruptive climate change which is now inevitable. So if there is still a case for some transformed or revitalised version of sustainability, that case must now surely be made in full acknowledgment of deep seated paradigm failure to date. But if we really take ourselves to be living in a post sustainable world, the issue of what next must be faced and the hard questions no longer shirked. What options for political and personal action will remain open on a tragically degraded planet? How will economic and community life, political and social leadership and education be different in such a world? What will the geopolitics of crisis, migration and conflict look like? Where does widespread denial come from, how might it be overcome and are there any grounds for hope that don't rest on it? The urgent challenge now is to confront such questions honestly. This collection of essays by thinkers from a diversity of fields including politics, philosophy, sociology, education and religion makes a start. This book was originally published as a special issue of Global Discourse.
