Crime Delinquency And Justice A Caribbean Reader:

Crime, Delinquency and Justice Ramesh Deosaran, 2007 This reader presents fresh insights on the rapidly expanding and changing crime related problems in the Caribbean as well as provides information on new dimensions of crime and criminology that are occurring with increasing regularity A path breaking and comprehensive work Crime Delinquency and Justice A Caribbean Reader has come at a time when all societies in the Caribbean region are grappling with crime in all its forms and when the structure of the justice system on which all these societies are founded is being challenged to adjust to changes in society locally and internationally The work addresses both theoretical and practical issues indicated by the broad range of areas covered including Theorizing a Caribbean Criminology Juvenile Delinquency and Public Policy Domestic Violence and the Criminal Justice System Community Policing Police Styles and Use of Force Corrections Crime Statistics the Jury System Drug Trafficking Terrorism Social Upheaval and Political Violence and Human Trafficking Much of the contributions are research and data driven and overall have policy development as their focus This makes the volume suitable for courses in criminology and criminal justice at both the undergraduate and graduate levels as well as for specialist courses in various aspects of policing and law enforcement Crime, Delinquency and Justice Ramesh Deosaran, 2007

Race, Ethnicity, Crime and Criminal Justice in the Americas A. Kalunta-Crumpton, 2012-01-25 This book examines race ethnicity crime and criminal justice in the Americas and moves beyond the traditional focus on North America to incorporate societies in Central America South America and the Caribbean

Crime, Violence and Security in the Caribbean M. Raymond Izarali, 2017-11-20 Security challenges pose significant hardship for citizens of Caribbean nations Public safety is threatened by high rates of crime especially violent crime in much of the region the plague of the illicit drug trade transnational organized crime gangs the current global proliferation of crimes of terrorism and related violent extremism and radicalization The situation diminishes morale among the youth their education and their future and operates as a major push factor Yet surprisingly there has been a scarcity of scholarly work that addresses these conditions This interdisciplinary volume succinctly responds to the gap in criminological and security studies on the Caribbean by drawing attention to the understudied nexus of crime violence and security that is so pervasive in the region and the ways in which underdevelopment re creates environments for insecurity The book is organized in three parts Part one encompasses conceptualizations of crime violence and punishment Part two takes up country cases on crime and security Part three addresses issues of regional security both public and private This timely volume will be valuable reading for scholars students practitioners and policy makers who share a critical interest in the scope impact and inter relationality of crime violence and in security in the region The Palgrave Handbook of Caribbean Criminology Wendell C. Wallace, 2024-07-30 This handbook explores crime deviance and punishment in the Caribbean with a focus on marginalized perspectives from scholars in the Caribbean It explores the region s unique cultural context and challenges particularly the ongoing influence of colonialism It also covers types of criminal activities and punishment including contemporary and emerging areas such as cybercrime and white collar crime as well as discussing victims and victimization and crime and justice policies This handbook builds on the growing field of interest in this region to establish a Caribbean Criminology It speaks to both students and practitioners

A Study of the Extent and Forms of School Violence and Delinquency Among the High Risk Secondary Schools in Trinidad Stacy Ramdhan, 2011-08 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2010 in the subject Sociology Children and Youth grade A The University of the West Indies St Augustine language English abstract The aims of the study is to understand the real life conditions and experiences of children together with the extent and forms of school violence in the Secondary Schools in Trinidad among whom the highest incidences of violence have been reported and if possible to construct an adequate theory about the upsurge in crime in this youthful section of the population using the dynamics of race gender social class limited opportunity for employment poverty and family background The objective of the research is to investigate the experiences of students in the Secondary School system in the high risk schools in Trinidad and to enquire into their perceptions experiences of the root causes consequences and outcomes of youth engagement in violence A further objective is to propose policies and recommendations to address the root problems of school violence and delinquency exposed by the research to reduce the levels of crime and violence in the high risk schools In addition to recommend police strategies to strengthening student protection school staff families and the community as a whole The increase in criminal behavior among the Secondary School population in Trinidad and Tobago has been of national concern for some time Reports of serious crime murder attack with a weapon rape larceny kidnapping allegedly committed by school students and reported in the press have given rise to great concern and stimulated resultant explanations from lay persons and policy makers alike The reasons for and the appropriate methods of dealing with this relatively new phenomenon in the Trinidad context have abounded and are discussed in various public fora

Public Policy Making, Gender, and Human Security in the Caribbean Deborah N. Mc Fee, Tracie A. Rogers, 2025-05-08 This edited collection brings together the work of practitioners civil society actors and academics either located in the Caribbean or involved in Caribbean based work on public policy making and its implementation The compendium challenges traditional dichotomies of external versus internal actors in the policy process thereby framing Caribbean public policy as a complex multi stakeholder undertaking The collection is informed by three broad thematic areas Gender and Policymaking Human Security and Social Policy Sub themes include Gun Violence and CARICOM Small Island Developing States and the People Face Social Cost of Climate Change This volume is ideal for researchers policy makers academics and graduate students

Decolonising Restorative Justice Leanne Alexis Levers, 2023-09-01 This book critically examines the colonial dimensions of restorative justice through the lens of justice policy reform in Jamaica Restorative justice is not new Practices of restitution can be found throughout history predominantly in non Western traditions and religions One of the key principles of restorative practices is contextualisation

That is restorative practices are developed and embedded within the political economic and cultural context of the communities in which they are practised Many of the countries that have gone on to develop restorative justice as part of their formal justice system have developed their policy on the model of their indigenous communities for example in Canada and in New Zealand However with the globalisation of restorative practices within the past decade many countries have sought to colonise restorative justice by developing a standardised best practice approach Instead of a practice that is developed and formed by its community colonised restorative justice dictates that one size fits all Examined through the lens of the development and implementation of restorative justice policies in Jamaica this book argues that this Westernised approach diminishes the effectiveness of restorative justice in its capacity to address the victim s needs to hold the offender accountable in a way that reintegrates them into society and to empower the community by involving them in the provision of justice to victims Restorative justice then must be decolonised and local indigenous practices acknowledged if it is to achieve its aims This book will be of interest to a range of scholars with interests in decolonisation as well as alternative dispute resolution especially those in sociolegal studies criminology human rights social policy political science and Caribbean studies

Citizenship on the Margins Yonique Campbell,2019-09-26

This book critically explores the impact of national security violence and state power on citizenship rights and experiences in Latin America and the Caribbean Drawing on cross country analyses and fieldwork conducted in two garrisons a middle class community and among policy elites in Jamaica where high levels of violence in security and transnational organized crime are transforming state power the author argues that dominant responses to security have wider implications for citizenship The security practices of the state often result in criminalization police abuse violation of the rights of the urban poor and increased securitization of garrison spaces As the tension between national security and citizenship increases there is a centrality of the local as a site where citizenship is re defined mediated interpreted performed and given meaning While there is a dominant security discourse which focuses on state security individuals at the local level articulate their own narratives which reflect lived experiences and the particularities of socio political milieu

Drug War Pathologies Horace

A. Bartilow,2019-07-30 In this book Horace Bartilow develops a theory of embedded corporatism to explain the U S government s war on drugs Stemming from President Richard Nixon s 1971 call for an international approach to this war U S drug enforcement policy has persisted with few changes to the present day despite widespread criticism of its effectiveness and of its unequal effects on hundreds of millions of people across the Americas While researchers consistently emphasize the role of race in U S drug enforcement Bartilow s empirical analysis highlights the class dimension of the drug war and the immense power that American corporations wield within the regime Drawing on qualitative case study methods declassified U S government documents and advanced econometric estimators that analyze cross national data Bartilow demonstrates how corporate power is projected and embedded in lobbying financing of federal elections funding of policy think tanks and interlocks with the federal government and the military Embedded corporatism he explains creates the conditions by which interests of state and nonstate members of the regime converge to promote capital accumulation The subsequent human rights repression illiberal democratic governments antiworker practices and widening income inequality throughout the Americas Bartilow argues are the pathological policy outcomes of embedded corporatism in drug enforcement
