Using Art Media in Psychotherapy Michelle L. Dean, 2016-01-22. Using Art Media in Psychotherapy makes a thoughtful and contextual argument for using graphic art materials in psychotherapy providing historical context for art materials and their uses and incorporating them with contemporary practices and theories. Written with an analytic focus many of the psychological references nod to Jung and post Jungian thought with keen attention to image and to symbolic function. This book jettisons the idea of reductionist cookbook approaches and instead provides an integrated and contextual understanding of the origins of each art form as well as an insightful use for each in its application in mental health healing practices. Using Art Media in Psychotherapy gives clinicians and students alike the tools they need to offer psychologically minded and clinically astute choices that honor their clients.

Drawn Toward Transformation Nadine Kalin, 2009-01-01. This book examines the transformative potential of collaborative teacher research. Specifically Kalin shares the perspectives of educators as they investigate the teaching and learning of drawing within their own elementary classrooms and within the context of an action research group. The innovative a r tographic design of the project provides a rich balance between the arts and educational research as it allows for the complex unfolding of relational transformation alongside the artistic renditions of each person exploring their understandings of drawing. The products and processes of this book provide alternative approaches for the design of future pre service and in service programs that aim to serve teachers as learners rather than teachers as teachers. In this vein the book offers worthy insights into how the arts and collaborative action research groups assist participants in finding other ways of seeing imaging and knowing the world. The book will appeal to practitioners teacher educators educational researchers as well as those interested in professional development complexity thinking curriculum studies collaborative action research and arts based educational research methodologies.
