The Creative Turn Anne M. Harris, 2014-04-16 The conundrum of understanding practising and teaching contemporary creativity is that it wants to be all things to all people Almost all modern lists of creativity creative thinking and how to becoming creative books begin with one premise the creative individual artist is not special rather each of us is creative in a special way and these skills can and must be nurtured Increasingly industry and education leaders are claiming that creativity is the core skill to take us into a prosperous future signalling the democratisation of creativity as industry Yet centuries of association between aesthetics mastery and creativity are hard to dismantle These days it is increasingly difficult to discuss creativity without reference to business industry and innovation Why do we love to think of creativity in this way and no longer as that rare visitation of the muse or the elite gift of the few This book looks at the possibility that creativity is taking a turn what that turn might be and how it relates to industry education and ultimately cultural role of creativity and aesthetics for the 21st century In proliferating discourses of the commodification of creativity there is one thing all the experts agree on creativity is undefinable possibly unteachable largely unassessable and becoming the most valuable commodity in 21st century markets Environments for Outdoor Play Theresa Casey, 2007-03-27 Theresa's book is full of lots of inspiring practical how to go about it ideas coupled with thought provoking and sometimes challenging comments and views The range of ideas and information contained in this book will go a long way to support the development of flexible imaginative yet not prescriptive play spaces that contribute to supporting children's play A very readable and worthwhile publication to add to your resources Muriel Young Grounds for Learning Learning Through Landscapes This practical book helps the reader plan design and manage the kinds of settings that afford children the opportunities to carry out the wide range of self directed activities that are so important to their development It's ideal for community development workers the organizers of after school programs children's hospital staff and groups of caring parents Roger A Hart Director of the Children's Environments Research Group The Graduate School of the City University of New York This readable and usable book is full of advice and ideas which will take every professional nearer to understanding the way to provide opportunities for children which the children themselves would want and enjoy A necessary addition to the bookshelf for all interested in the subject PlayRights Journal online journal of the International Play Association Refreshing and insightful One of the best things about this book is that Casey offers us a fresh perspective on our role While we may long for a world where we opened the door and sent children outside to play we are faced with the reality that for a variety of reasons these opportunities are no longer occurring naturally in our communities It is incumbent upon us now to recreate these essential childhood opportunities This will take intentional thoughtful informed design Casey's book gives us some great starting points A must read PlayRights Magazine I like the attention to individuality children's perspectives and community The author brings a strong playwork perspective to considering outdoor spaces which early years practitioners considering the design of new or refurbished areas should find valuable It's crucial to free up our thinking about playful spaces and this book brings a refreshing focus on working from children's motivations for play using playful values such as choice spontaneity freedom and meaning making to drive thinking being careful not to over design and the organic growth of a space into a place through the play that occurs Nursery World Casey's extensive research and years of practice in award winning play services are very much in evidence in the various techniques and ideas that she describes in this publication a great resource for any play setting considering setting up or developing their outdoor play space SOSCN News Update If you are daunted but excited by the challenge of developing your outdoor spaces to meet the needs of all children this book is an excellent resource Early Years Update Exciting spaces to play are vital if we are to provide children with challenging flexible inclusive and stimulating opportunities to learn develop and have fun together This book provides
