Why They Do It Eugene Soltes, 2016-10-11 What drives wealthy and powerful people to white collar crime Why They Do It is a breakthrough look at the dark side of the business world From the financial fraudsters of Enron to the embezzlers at Tyco to the insider traders at McKinsey to the Ponzi schemer Bernie Madoff the failings of corporate titans are regular fixtures in the news In Why They Do It Harvard Business School professor Eugene Soltes draws from extensive personal interaction and correspondence with nearly fifty former executives as well as the latest research in psychology criminology and economics to investigate how once celebrated executives become white collar criminals White collar criminals are not merely driven by excessive greed or hubris nor do they usually carefully calculate costs and benefits before breaking the law Instead Soltes shows that most of the executives who committed crimes made decisions the way we all do on the basis of their intuitions and gut feelings The trouble is that these gut feelings are often poorly suited for the modern business world where leaders are increasingly distanced from the consequences of their decisions and the individuals they impact The extraordinary costs of corporate misconduct are clear to its victims Yet never before have we been able to peer so deeply into the minds of the many prominent perpetrators of white collar crime With the increasing globalization of business threatening us with even more devastating corporate misconduct the lessons Soltes draws in Why They Do It are needed more urgently than ever

Crime, Second Chances, and Human Services Fonkem Achankeng, Janet Hagen, 2019-04-03 This book promotes the notion of second chances and the importance of human services within the communities most affected by crime and the criminal justice system Recognition of the fallibility of humans and the necessity of redemption is the first step to change our attitude toward guilt and punishment Barring citizens with criminal records from obtaining housing employment education and public benefits like Medicaid and food stamps is not only unjust but unproductive for a human society The contributors to this volume argue that second chances are a foundational principle of the human services field

The Origins of American Criminology Francis T. Cullen, Cheryl Lero Jonson, Andrew J. Myer, Freda Adler, 2017-09-08 The Origins of American Criminology is an invaluable resource Both separately and together these essays capture the stories behind the invention of criminology s major theoretical perspectives They preserve information that otherwise would have been lost There is urgency to embark on this reflective task given that the generation that defined the field for the past decades is heading into retirement This fine volume insures that their life experiences will not be forgotten The volume shows criminology to be a human enterprise Ideas are not driven primarily and often not at all by data Theories are not invented solely as part of the scientific process they are not inevitable American criminology s great theories most often precede the collection of data they guide and produce empirical inquiry not vice versa Theoretical paradigms are shaped by a host of factors scholars assumptions about the world drawn from their social constructs disciplinary content and ideology cognitive environments found in specific universities and the field s scholarly networks and quirks in a person s biography The volume demonstrates that humanity is what makes theory possible Diverse experiences when we were born where we have lived the unique trajectories of our personal life courses the disciplines and academic places we have ended up allow individual scholars to see the world differently New Directions in Criminological Theory Freda Adler, William S. Laufer, 2023-04-28 New Directions in Criminological Theory focuses on new approaches to theory construction with particular emphasis on reformulations and new applications of existing paradigms It includes an assessment of labeling theory demonstrating how the approach could become part of a more comprehensive explanation of crime A case is made for studying crime in terms of the social context in which crimes are conceived interpreted and negotiated The debate between crime general and crime specific approaches is further amplified A rethinking of Hirschi s control theory is presented The volume includes theoretical discussions of spouse abuse of punishment and of power control models Additional chapters examine theoretical advances in corporate illegality employee theft and the alcohol crime syndrome These original contributions include Charles F Wellford and Ruth A Triplett The Future of Labeling Theory Austin T Turk A Proposed Resolution of Key Issues in the Political Sociology of Law David Weisburd and Lisa Maher Contrasting Crime General and Crime Specific Theory Sally Simpson Strategy Structure and Corporate Crime Edward W Sieh Employee theft Robert Nash Parker Alcohol and Theories of Homicide Kimberly L Kempf The Empirical Status of Hirschi s Control Theory Jeffrey Fagan The Social Control of Spouse Assault Marc Le Blanc and Aaron Caplan Theoretical Formalization A Necessity Michael J Lynch Control Theory and Punishment Gary F Jensen Power Control vs Social Control Theories of Common Delinquency John Hagan A R Gillis and John Simpson The Power of Control in Sociological Theories of Delinquency
