Using this model, the author then builds specific strategies for handling a myriad of different crisis situations in many cases, providing the dialogue the nurse, minister, police officer, counselor, or other practitioner might use. Rick A. Myer, Julia L. Whisenhunt, Richard K. James, 2021-11-08 The fast paced, unpredictable, and high risk nature of crisis intervention creates critical ethical dilemmas that can result in personal harm and professional liability if not handled appropriately. Applying a traditional model of ethical decision making is often impractical when time is limited and decisions must be made quickly. This counseling tool kit offers a new operational approach for integrating ethical decision making in crisis intervention. Following detailed discussions of crisis intervention within the framework of relational cultural theory, a triage assessment system, and an original ethical decision making protocol, nine diverse case studies in hospital, telebehavioral health, school, clinical, and public settings are presented. Students and practitioners will build a repertoire of ethical decision making skills to de-escalate crisis incidents and provide an appropriate level of support to individuals experiencing crisis.
