Contemporary Issues In Australian Literature Contemporary Issues In Australian Literature:

Contemporary Issues in Australian Literature David Callahan, 2014-02-25 The contemporary study of Australian literature ranges widely across issues of general cultural studies the politics of identity both ethnic and gendered and the position of Australia within wider postcolonial contexts This volume intervenes in the most significant of issues in these areas from a variety of international perspectives

Contemporary Issues in Australian Literature David Callahan, 2002 This volume intervenes in the contemporary study of Australian literature which ranges widely across issues of general cultural studies the politics of identity and the position of Australia within wider postcolonial contexts Contemporary Issues in Australian Literature David Callahan, 2000

The Routledge Companion to Australian Literature Jessica Gildersleeve, 2020-12-22 In recent years Australian literature has experienced a revival of interest both domestically and internationally The increasing prominence of work by writers like Christos Tsiolkas heightened through television and film adaptation as well as the award of major international prizes to writers like Richard Flanagan and the development of new high profile prizes like the Stella Prize have all reinvigorated interest in Australian literature both at home and abroad This Companion emerges as a part of that reinvigoration considering anew the history and development of Australian literature and its key themes as well as tracing the transition of the field through those critical debates It considers works of Australian literature on their own terms as well as positioning them in their critical and historical context and their ethical and interactive position in the public and private spheres With an emphasis on literature's responsibilities this book claims Australian literary studies as a field uniquely positioned to expose the ways in which literature engages with produces and is produced by its context provoking a critical re evaluation of the concept of the relationship between national literatures cultures and histories and the social function of literary texts

Australian Literature Graham Huggan, 2007-09-27 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English In a provocative contribution to the series Graham Huggan presents fresh readings of an outstanding sometimes deeply unsettling national literature whose writers and readers just as unmistakably belong to the wider world Australian literature is not the unique province of Australian readers and critics nor is its exclusive task to provide an internal commentary on changing national concerns Huggan's book adopts a transnational approach motivated by postcolonial interests in which contemporary ideas taken from postcolonial criticism and critical race theory are productively combined and imaginatively transformed Rejecting the fashionable view that Australia is not and never will be postcolonial Huggan argues on the contrary that Australian literature like other settler literatures requires close attention to postcolonial methods and concerns A postcolonial approach to Australian literature he suggests is more than just a case for a more inclusive nationalism it also involves a general acknowledgement of the nation's changed relationship to an increasingly globalized world As such the book helps to deprovincialize Australian literary studies Australian Literature also contributes to debates about the continuing history of racism in Australia a history in which the nation's literature has played a constitutive role as both product and producer of racial tensions and anxieties nowhere more visible than in the discourse it has produced about race both within and beyond the national context

Contemporary Australian Literature Nicholas Birns, 2015-12-01 Australia has been seen as a land of both punishment and refuge Australian literature has explored these controlling alternatives and vividly rendered the landscape on which they transpire Twentieth century writers left Australia to see the world now Australia's distance no longer provides sanctuary But today the global perspective has arrived with a vengeance In Contemporary Australian Literature A World Not Yet Dead Nicholas Birns tells the story of how novelists poets and critics from Patrick White to Hannah Kent from Alexis Wright to Christos Tsiolkas responded to this condition With rancour concern and idealism modern Australian literature conveys a tragic sense of the past yet an abiding vision of the way forward Birns paints a vivid picture of a rich Australian literary voice one not lost to the churning of global markets but in fact given new life by it Contrary to the despairing of the critics Australian literary identity continues to flourish And as Birns finds it is not one thing but many In this remarkable bold and fearless book Nicholas Birns contests how literary cultures are read how they are constituted and what they stand for In examining the nature of the barriers between public and private utterance and looking outside the absurdity of the rules of genre Birns has produced a redemptive analysis that leaves hope for revivifying a world not yet dead John Kinsella

Teaching Australian Literature Brenton Doecke, Larissa McLean Davies, Philip Mead, 2011 Summary What role should Australian literature play in the school curriculum What principles should guide our selection of Australian texts To what extent should concepts of the nation and a national identity frame the study of Australian writing What do we imagine Australian literature to be How do English teachers go about engaging their students in reading Australian texts This volume brings together teachers teacher educators creative writers and literary scholars in a joint inquiry that takes a fresh look at what it means to teach Australian literature The immediate occasion for the publication of these essays is the implementation of The Australian Curriculum English which several contributors subject to critical scrutiny In doing so they question the way that literature teaching is currently being constructed by standards based reforms not only in Australia but elsewhere

Contemporary Issues in Australian Literacy Teaching Jenny Johnston, 2013 The second edition book covers a range of topics including how literacy and English are linked to early childhood and to middle school education special needs education teaching literacy to Indigenous students bilingualism and languages education critical literacies and multi literacies literacy assessment how to engage parents in their child's literacy and how quality literature can be used to support and enhance student's literacy development The intended audience for this text is pre service teachers working and studying in their early childhood and primary undergraduate degrees as well as beginning teachers who are keen to improve their literacy teaching skills

Postcolonial Issues in Australian Literature , Cosmological Readings of Contemporary Australian Literature Kathrin Bartha-Mitchell, 2023-12-22 This book presents an innovative and imaginative reading of contemporary Australian literature in the context of unprecedented ecological crisis The Australian continent has seen significant rapid changes to its cultures and land use from the impact of British colonial rule yet there is a rich history of Indigenous land ethics and cosmological thought By using the age old idea of cosmos the order of the world to foreground ideas of a good order and chaos reciprocity and more than human agency this book interrogates the Anthropocene in Australia focusing on notions of colonisation farming mining bioethics technology environmental justice and sovereignty It offers cosmological readings of a diverse range of authors Indigenous and non Indigenous as a challenge to the Anthropocene's decline narrative As a result it reactivates cosmos as an ethical vision and a transculturally important counter concept to the Anthropocene Kathrin Bartha Mitchell argues that the arts can help us envision radical cosmologies of being in and with the planet and to address the very real social and environmental problems of our era This book will be of particular interest to scholars and students of Ecocriticism Environmental Humanities and postcolonial transcultural and Indigenous studies with a primary focus on Australian New Zealand Oceanic and Pacific area studies
