Spirit of Luxury and Design

Jie Srun,Elizabeth Fischer,2021-10-11 The vast medium of jewelry and fashion artefact design continues to be a central pillar of fashion luxury goods industries and artistic practice but there is a lack of discussions on the researches value and roles of it

Design is an expression of values and attitudes and a tangible form of guiding the thoughts and desires of individuals and members of society In the contemporary society when science technology and craftsmanship reach a stage whether products and services become luxurious or not its quality uniqueness artistry and rarity are all achieved through design This book represents the articles from 20 outstanding design researchers from 11 countries including many works from international designers who are engaging with and pushing the boundaries of the medium It contributes to these international debates on contemporary fashion and jewelry design while providing an accessible overview and a concise reference book

Contemporary Clay and Museum Culture Christie Brown, Julian Stair, Clare Twomey, 2016-06-17 This groundbreaking book is the first to provide a critical overview of the relationship between contemporary ceramics and curatorial practice in museum culture Ceramic objects form a major part of museum collections with connections to anthropology archaeology and other disciplines that engage with the cultural and social history of humankind In recent years museums have provided the impetus for cutting edge artistic practice either as a response to particular collections or as part of exhibitions But the question of how museums have staged contemporary ceramics and how ceramic artists respond to museum collections has not been the subject of published research to date This book examines how ceramic artists have over the last decade begun to animate museum collections in new ways and reflects on the impact that these new initiatives have had in the broad context of visual culture Ceramics in the Expanded Field is the culmination of a three year AHRC funded project and reflects its major findings It brings together leading international voices in the field of ceramics research undertaken throughout the project and papers delivered at the concluding conference By examining the benefits and constraints of interventions and the dialogue between ceramics and museological practice this book will bring focus to an area of museology that has not yet been theorized and will contribute to policy debates and art practice

In Flux Susan Cummins, Damian Skinner, Cindi Strauss, 2020-11-16 In the 1960s and 1970s a generation of young Americans rejected the promise of prosperity and the suburban dream embraced by their parents Furious about the war in Vietnam fighting for civil rights at home and eagerly exploring the effects of psychedelic drugs the delights of free love and the mystical teachings of eastern religions thousands followed the advice to turn on tune in drop out bringing about a counterculture in the process For many American jewelers these events and values found their way into the studio as well as affecting how they lived worked and loved Jewelers like other studio craftspeople rode the wave of popularity for the hand made and authentic that was at the heart of the counterculture In Flux is the story of how their jewelry contributed to the raucous contradictory and enthusiastic clamour for a new kind of society that made the 1960s and 1970s so extraordinary

Fashion and Its Multi-Cultural Facets Patricia Hunt-Hurst, Sabrina Ramsamy-Iranah, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Fashion is multi faceted in its inclusion of people places and products How people dress and adorn themselves reflect their space their time and their innovators This collection of essays reflects the changing world of fashion from historic topics of change
