Contemporary Women Writers In Italy A Modern Renaissance:

Contemporary Women Writers in Italy Santo L. Aricò, 1990 Despite the range and high quality of their work Italian women writers have received scant attention from critics in Italy or elsewhere All too often their contributions have gone unrecognized This collection demonstrates the importance of these writers to the literary world and seeks to bring them the critical attention they deserve Twelve scholars and literary critics examine some of the best prose produced in recent years by Italian women in a variety of genres including fiction journalism and biography Among the writers discussed are Anna Banti Camilla Cederna Fausta Cialente Oriana Fallaci Natalia Ginzburg Armanda Guiducci Gina Lagorio Gianna Manzini Dacia Maraini Elsa Morante Lalla Romano and Francesca Sanvitale The topics they address range from love disillusionment friendship and family life to artistic vision and the journalistic novel to political activism the condition of women in Italy and the impact of feminism on Italian culture Although some of the writers discussed describe themselves as feminists others do not Similarly the contributors to the volume represent a spectrum of critical and political perspectives What emerges is a series of portraits that reflect the variety dynamism and creativity of women writers in modern day Italy Italian Women Writers from the Renaissance to the Present Maria Marotti, 2010-11-01 Italian Women's Autobiographical Writings in the Twentieth Century Ursula Fanning, 2017-09-07 This book highlights the centrality of the autobiographical enterprise to Italian women's writing through the twentieth century a century that has frequently been referred to as the century of the self Ursula Fanning addresses the thorny issue of essentialism potentially involved in underlining links between women's writing and autobiographical modes and ultimately rejects it in favor of an argument based on the cultural linguistic and literary marginalization of women writers within the Italian context It is concerned with Italian women writers various ways of grappling with constructions of subjectivity throughout the century and sets out to explore them Fanning reads autobiographical writing as subject to many of the same constraints as fiction and in doing so draws attention to the significance of the recurring use of the terms pure and impure in many critical and theoretical discussions of the autobiographical where pure is used to suggest a truthful representation of a life while impure suggests the messy undertaking of mixing lived experience with fiction Recurring patterns and paradigms are found in the works of the various writers considered eighteen in all and these paradigms are analyzed through close readings of their works These close readings offer insights into approaches to the constructions of subjectivity in the narratives and are informed by feminist theories The chapters focus on selves in relationship taking their lead from the patterns unfolding in the writers work hence the subjects are constructed as daughters with different views of the self in relation to fathers and mothers within the confines of the romantic relationship which involves reconsiderations and rewritings of the romance plot as maternal subjects and as writers with an eye on their relationship to the literary canon as well as to the relationship with readers This book argues that there is such a thing as gendered subjectivity and that its constructions may be traced through the texts

A Multitude of Women Stefania Lucamante,2008-09-15 A Multitude of Women looks at the ways in which both Italian literary tradition and external influences have assisted Italian women writers in rethinking the theoretical and aesthetic ties between author text and readership in the construction of the novel Stefania Lucamante discusses the valuable contributions that Italian women writers have made to the contemporary novel and illustrates the relevance of the novelistic examples set by their predecessors She addresses various discursive communities reading works by Di Lascia Ferrante Vinci and others with reference to intertextuality and the theories of Elsa Morante and Simone de Beauvoir This study identifies a positive deviation from literary and ideological orthodoxy a deviation that helps give meaning to the Italian novel and to transform the traditional notion of the canon in Italian literature Lucamante argues that this is partly due to the merits of women writers and their ability to eschew obsolete patterns in narrative while favouring forms that are more attuned to the ever changing needs of society She shows that contemporary novels by women authors mirror a shift from previous trends in which the need for female emancipation interfered with the actual literary and aesthetic significance of the novel A Multitude of Women offers a new epistemology of the novel and will appeal to those interested in women s writing readership Italian studies and literary studies in general

Speaking Out and Silencing A. Bull,2017-07-05 Commonly referred to collectively as the anni di piombo years of lead the 1970s have been seen as a parenthesis in Italian history which was dominated by political violence and terrorism The seventeen essays in this wide ranging collection adopt different scholarly perspectives to challenge this monolithic view and uncover the complexity of the decade exploring its many facets and re assessing political conflict The volume brings to the fore the ruptures of the period through an examination of literature film

gender relations party politics and political participation social structures and identities This more balanced assessment of the period allows the vibrancy and dynamism of new social and cultural movements to emerge The long lasting effects of this period on Italian culture and society and its crucial legacy to the present are lucidly revealed dispelling the widely held belief that the 1970s were largely a regressive decade With the contributions Anna Cento Bull Adalgisa Giorgio The 1970s through the Looking Glass Piero Ignazi Italy in the 1970s between Self Expression and Organicism Paola Di Cori Listening and Silencing Italian Feminists in the 1970s Between autocoscienza and Terrorism Amalia Signorelli Women in Italy in the 1970s Lesley Caldwell Is the Political Personal Fathers and Sons in Bertolucci's Tragedia di un uomo ridicolo and Amelio's Colpire al cuore Jennifer Burns A Leaden Silence Writers Responses to the anni di piombo Adalgisa Giorgio From Little Girls to Bad Girls Women's Writing and Experimentalism in the 1970s and 1990s Enrico Palandri The Difficulty of a Historical Perspective on the 1970s Mark Donovan The Radicals An Ambiguous Contribution to Political Innovation Carl Levy Intellectual Unemployment and Political Radicalism in Italy 1968-1982 Roberto Bartali The Red Brigades and the Moro Kidnapping Secrets and Lies Tom Behan Allende Berlinguer Pinochet and Dario Fo Philip Cooke A riconquistare la rossa primavera The Neo Resistance of the 1970s Claudia Bernardi Collective Memory and Childhood Narratives Rewriting the 1970s in the 1990s Valeria Pizzini Gambetta Becoming Visible Did the Emancipation of Women Reach the Sicilian Mafia Davide Per O The Left and the Construction of Immigrants in 1970s Italy Anna Cento Bull From the Centrality of the Working Class to its Demise The Case of Bagnoli Naples

Public History, Private Stories Graziella Parati, 1996 In this important volume Graziella Parati examines the ways in which Italian women writers articulate their identities through autobiography a public act that is also the creation of a private life Considering autobiographical writings by five women writers from the seventeenth century to the present Parati draws important connections between self writing and the debate over women's roles both traditional and transgressive Parati considers the first prose autobiography written by an Italian woman Camilla Faa Gonzaga's 1622 memoir as her beginning point citing it as a central pre-text Parati then examines the autobiographies of Enif Robert Fausta Cialente Rita Levi Montalcini and Luisa Passerini Through her discussion of these women's writings she demonstrates the complex negotiations over identity contained within them negotiations that challenge dichotomies between male and female maternal and paternal and private and public

Public History Private Stories is a compelling exploration of the disparate identities created by these women through the act of writing autobiography

Corporeal Bonds Patrizia Sambuco, 2012-06-11 The mother daughter relationship is a popular theme in contemporary Italian writing but has never before been analysed in a comprehensive book length study In Corporeal Bonds Patrizia Sambuco analyses novels by authors such as Elsa Morante Francesca Sanvitale Mariateresa Di

Lascia and Elena Ferrante each of which is narrated from the daughter's point of view and depicts the daughter's bond with the mother Highlighting the recurrent images throughout these works Sambuco traces these back to alternative forms of communication between mother and daughter as well as to the female body Sambuco also explores the attempts of the daughter narrators to define a female self that is outside the constrictions of patriarchal society Through these investigations Corporeal Bonds identifies a strong connection between the ideas of post Lacanian critical theorists Italian feminist thinkers and the stories within the novels Italian Women's Writing, 1860-1994 Sharon Wood, 1995-01-01 Women's writing in Italy from Unification to the present day examining the lives and works of women writers within the context of Italian history culture and politics The changing face of Italian social and political life since Unification has greatly affected the position of women in Italy This work explores the relation between the changing role of women over this period then struggle for social and political emancipation and equality and the search by women writers to a personal and authentic literary voice
