Contemporary Chinese Art Wu Hung, 2014-10-14 The first and only comprehensive survey of contemporary Chinese art one of the most vital and expanding sectors of the global art world today From its underground genesis during the Cultural Revolution 1966-76 contemporary Chinese art has become a dynamic and hugely influential force in a globalized art world In this first major introduction to the topic Wu Hung provides an accessible focused and much needed narrative of the development of Chinese art across all media from the 1970s to the 2000s a time span characterized by radical social political and economic change in China The book is a richly illustrated and easy to navigate chronological survey that considers contemporary Chinese art both in the context of China's history and in a global arena Wu Hung explores the emergence of contemporary art as opposed to officially sanctioned art in the public sphere after the Cultural Revolution the mobilization by young artists and critics of a nationwide avant garde movement in the mid 1980s the re emphasis on individual creativity in the late 1980s and the heightened spirit of experimentation of the 1990s and the more recent identification of Chinese artists such as Ai Weiwei as global citizens who create works for an international audience

Inside/out Asia Society. Galleries, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, 1998-01-01 The late twentieth century has been marked by momentous political economic and social change throughout the Chinese world Deeply rooted cultural assumptions and ancient visual traditions have been challenged by rapid modernization and conflicting global ethnic and local identities Inside Out New Chinese Art was the first major international exhibition to explore the impact of these challenges on artists in the People's Republic of China Hong Kong Taiwan and those of the 1980s Diaspora The multifaceted exhibition and accompanying catalog encompass an extensive range of artistic forms including installation video and performance art as well as more traditional media such as oils and ink The art is grouped according to themes some specific to regions and others that reflect widespread and overlapping trends With the inclusion of ambiguous territories like Hong Kong and Taiwan the exhibition opens up a perspective of modern Chinese art from the outside as well as a looking out from the inside The catalog features essays by eminent Chinese art scholars and curators along with leading curators and historians of Western art Together they promote Chinese art's rightful place in the contemporary global cultural arena and at the same time acknowledge the influence of its rich heritage The diversity and freshness of the exhibition reflects the explosion of creativity among Chinese artists during the past decade The ironic social commentary of Li Shan's The Rouge Series no 24 the apartment art of artists reacting against the traditional patronage of large museums and corporations and Wang Jin's sly humor in portraying consumer fetishes in today's China are a few examples of the spirited artistry awaiting the viewers of Inside Out

Modernities of Chinese Art John Clark, 2010 This publication presents John Clark's collected writings on modern and contemporary Chinese art Almost thirty years of pioneering empirical in depth research dedicated to modernities of Chinese art is now for the first time conveniently brought together in one volume Taking up issues not handled much at the time by academic or curatorial writing John Clark wrote articles on a wide range of separate topics some of which anticipated future discussions These articles fall into a coherent series of closely related examinations on the problems of modernity in Chinese art Most of the essays published previously elsewhere have therefore been adapted for this publication while others e g the first hand observations of Beijing and Hong Kong in 1981 appear in print now for the first time Chapters often include unique interview material and much other information not found elsewhere Including illustrations of over 200 art works in color with biographical appendices of Taiwan and Hong Kong artists extensive chronological materials in thematic categories on Chinese art and an extensive bibliography this is an essential reference work for anyone interested in modern Chinese art

Between State and Market Jane Debevoise, 2014 Between State and Market Chinese Contemporary Art in the Post Mao Era examines the shift in the system of support for contemporary art in China between 1979 and 1993 from state patronage to the art market and the creative space in between Teaching Modern and Contemporary Asian Art, 2020 Teaching Modern and Contemporary Asian Art is a resource that features twenty seven artists in the Solomon R Guggenheim Museum's collection The artists in this resource are from countries across East Asia and Southeast Asia but many live and work between two or more cities around the world With the launch of the Asia Art Initiative in 2006 the Guggenheim has actively expanded its program beyond Europe and America to include the study presentation and acquisition of modern and contemporary art from Asia Our approach known as global art history seeks to integrate art from Asia within an international purview while illuminating its specific meaning and context By showing how artists work between local regional and global currents this resource seeks to provide a new understanding of the multiple histories of the art of our time With these materials we hope to introduce teachers and students to artists and artworks beyond the Western canon as well as support those who want to broaden the narrative of art history in the classroom Page 5 Modern and Contemporary Southeast Asian Art Nora A. Taylor, 2012 This anthology explores artistic practices and works from a diverse and vibrant region Scholars critics and curators offer their perspectives on Southeast Asian art and artists aiming not to define the field but to illuminate its changing nature and its interactions with creative endeavors and histories originating elsewhere These essays examine a range of new and modern work from sculptures that invoke post conflict trauma in Cambodia to Thai art installations that invite audience participation and thereby challenge traditional definitions of the art object In this way the authors not only provide a lively study of regional art but challenge and expand broad debates about international and transnational art One Way Or Another Asia Society, 2006 Contemporary Asian American artists with a strong sense of being American and an acute critical consciousness of world matters grapple with issues of identity in a way that sets them apart from their predecessors Whereas many Asian American artists of a previous generation directly referred to an Asian sense of self in their works it can be argued that younger Asian American artists only sometimes make reference to it or omit it entirely This creatively designed book focuses on recent works by seventeen Asian American artists born in the late 1960s and 1970s including Patty Chang Kaz Oshiro and Jean Shin to explore this pivotal generation of artists the prevalent themes in their art and the different ways they configure identity in their work One Way or Another features examples of painting sculpture and video and installation art many previously unpublished and includes essays that discuss the shifting meaning of Asian America over the last decade and address the issues of mixed heritage and the emergence of an evolving Asian American identity in an increasingly globalized society Distributed for the Asia Society Museum Exhibition Schedule Berkeley Art Museum and Pacific Film Archive University of California September 19 December 23 2007 Blaffer Gallery University of Houston January 20 March 31 2007 Japanese American National Museum Los Angeles February 9 May 2 2008 Asia Society and Museum New York September 8 December 10 2006
