Congress. House. Committee on Post Office and Civil Service. Subcommittee on Human Resources,1979 Contracting Out--successes and Failures United States. Congress. House. Committee on Government Reform and Oversight. Subcommittee on Civil Service,1998 Contracting Out for Human Services Ruth H. De Hoog,1984-01-01 Contracting out for services has become a popular technique in government s perennial quest to cut spending Yet seldom has the practice been examined from any but the public choice approach This book explores contracting out in the important area of human services covering the critical conditions of contracting and the vital points of politics procedures service quality and effectiveness In doing so DeHoog uses three theoretical perspectives drawn from social science traditions the economic perspective of market imperfections the political perspective of cooptation and the interdisciplinary perspective of organizational decision making To evaluate the perspectives and their predictions in the human services DeHoog has examined contracting in social services Title XX and employment and training programs CETA primarily through in depth interviews with participants Contracting Out Certain NOAA Functions United States. Committee on Armed Services,1983 National Audit Office (NAO): Government Contracting: The Role of Major Contractors in the Delivery of Public Services - HC 810 Great Britain: National Audit Office,2013-11-12 In the memorandum The role of major contractors in the delivery of public services the NAO sets out some of the benefits that can be achieved through contracting but highlights three issues that deserve greater public scrutiny First it raises questions about the way public service markets operate This includes the need for scrutiny over whether public service contracts are sufficiently competitive and whether the rise of a few major contractors is in the public interest Secondly it highlights the issue of whether contractors profits reflect a fair return Understanding contractors profits is important to ensure that their interests are aligned properly with that of the taxpayer But transparency over rewards that contractors make is at present limited Thirdly the report asks how we know that contractors are delivering services to the high standards expected In particular government needs to ensure that large companies with sprawling structures are not paying lip service to control and that they have the right culture and control environment across their group This requires transparency over contractors performance and the use of contractual entitlement to information audit and inspection This should be backed up by the threat of financial penalties and being barred from future competitions if things are found to be wrong A related report Managing government suppliers HC 811 session 2013 14 ISBN

9780102987034 examines the way the Cabinet Office is working to improve government s management of strategic suppliers
