Stakeholders in the Law School Fiona Cownie, 2010-01-28 This collection brings together a distinguished group of researchers to examine the power relations which are played out in university law schools as a result of the different pressures exerted upon them by a range of different stakeholders. From students to governments, from lawyers to universities, a host of institutions and actors believe that law schools should take account of a vast number of often conflicting considerations when teaching their students, designing curricula, carrying out research and so on. How do law schools deal with these pressures? What should their response be to the stakeholders who urge them to follow agendas emanating from outside the law school itself? To what extent should some of these agendas play a greater role in the thinking of law schools? Land Law in Asian Countries Oleg Igorevich

Krassov, 2022 The monograph covers the issues related to the evolution of land tenure systems, land reforms, the main features of formal land law that is in force in the various legal systems of the countries of South East and Southeast Asia and customary land rights. For students, graduate students and teachers of law schools, employees of legislative, executive and judicial authorities as well as for all those interested in issues of land, civil law and comparative jurisprudence.
