Discipline-based Art Education, 1985 An Uneasy Guest in the Schoolhouse Ellen Winner, 2022 This book recounts how art education has been conceptualized taught and advocated for in the United States in the face of its persistent marginalization in the education system Tracing various rationales offered from the 19th century onward Winner argues for the importance of quality visual art education in our schools      Soft Boundaries Claire Detels,1999-11-30

American education and culture are suffering from a terrible soul numbing imbalance in which there is an overemphasis on basic quantifiable skills and knowledge and a de emphasis of more creative areas of the humanities especially the arts and aesthetics Detels indicates that the marginalization of the arts and aesthetics in American education has been caused by a hard boundaried paradigm that has come to dominate American education According to this paradigm the arts are wrongly viewed and taught as separate unconnected disciplines of music visual arts dance and theater while their intimate connections to each other and to aesthetic experience and life in general are completely unrepresented The way out of this crisis is to change paradigms from a hard boundaried single minded valuation of specialization to a more soft boundaried curriculum that allows for specialized education in individual art forms as well as widespread interdisciplinary integration of the arts with each other and with general education at the K 12 and college levels Without such a change we will be unable to equip our students with the necessary skills to understand and communicate about the increasingly complex sensually immersive artistic media and forms of the future      Insights ,1995      Studies in Art Education ,1997      Festschrift of Articles Prepared in Honor of Elliot W. Eisner, Professor of Education & Art, Stanford University ,1991      Celebrating Pluralism F. Graeme Chalmers,1996-01-01 Educational trends will change and research agendas will shift but art teachers in public institutions will still need to educate all students for multicultural purposes argues Chalmers in this fifth volume in the Occasional Papers series Chalmers describes how art education programs promote cross cultural understanding recognize racial and cultural diversity enhance self esteem in students cultural heritage and address issues of ethnocentrism stereotyping discrimination and racism After providing the context for multicultural art education Chalmers examines the implications for art education of the broad themes found in art across cultures Using discipline based art education as a framework he suggests ways to design and implement a curriculum for multicultural art education that will help students find a place for art in their lives Art educators will find Celebrating Pluralism invaluable in negotiating the approach to multicultural art education that makes the most sense to their students and their communities      Creating Curriculum in Art Phillip C.
