Discourses of Psychological Trauma Nikki Kiyimba, Christina Buxton, Jo Shuttleworth, Emily Pathe, 2022-07-20 This book offers a critical perspective of the dominant discourses within the field of psychological trauma. It provides a challenge to normative western constructs and unsettles assumptions about accepted notions of universality and the nature of trauma. Traditionally the concept of psychological trauma has been widely accepted within mental health professions. However in a post positivist era the language of mental health is shifting and making room for alternative discourses that include wider contextual influences such as the impact of sociological cultural and technological developments. These wider discourses are illuminated as the authors draw together some of these arguments into one accessible text. Rather than claim definitive answers to the issues raised readers are invited to engage with the discussions presented in order to position themselves in relation to the range of trauma discourses available.

Critical Theory and Authoritarian Populism Jeremiah Morelock, 2018-12-17 After President Trump's election BREXIT and the widespread rise of far Right political parties much public discussion has intensely focused on populism and authoritarianism. In the middle of the twentieth century members of the early Frankfurt School prolifically studied and theorized fascism and anti-Semitism in Germany and the United States. In this volume leading European and American scholars apply insights from the early Frankfurt School to present day authoritarian populism including the Trump phenomenon and related developments across the globe. Chapters are arranged into three sections exploring different aspects of the topic: theories, historical foundations and manifestations via social media. Contributions examine the vital political, psychological and anthropological theories of early Frankfurt School thinkers and how their insights could be applied now amidst the insecurities and confusions of twenty first century life. The many theorists considered include Adorno, Fromm, L. W. Venthal and Marcuse alongside analysis of Austrian Facebook pages and Trump's tweets and operatic media drama. This book is a major contribution towards deeper understanding of populism's resurgence in the age of digital capitalism.

The Trump Presidency, Journalism, and Democracy Robert E. Gutsche Jr., 2018-01-19 This book examines the disruptive nature of Trump news both the news his administration makes and the coverage of it related to dominant paradigms and ideologies of U.S. journalism. By relying on conceptualizations of media memory and othering through news coverage that enhances socio-conservative positions on issues such as immigration the book positions this moment in a time of contestation. Contributors ranging from scholars, professionals and media critics operate in unison to analyze today's interconnected challenges to traditional practices within media spheres posed by Trump news. The outcomes should resonate with citizens who rely on journalism for civic engagement and who are active in social change. Chapters 6, 7 and 11 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license here: <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/edit/10.4324/9781315142326/trump-presidency-journalism-democracy-robert-gutsche-context-ubx-refId/8cc35100-2b4d-4a73-bbff-0ab9186212de>. Twitter, the Public Sphere, and the Chaos of Online Deliberation Gwen Bouvier, Judith E. Rosenbaum, 2020-07-29 This volume provides a critical view of the nature and quality of political and civic communication on Twitter. The introduction lays out the current state of research showing the continuum of views from the more optimistic to more pessimistic regarding the platform's potential to facilitate civic conversations. The eleven empirical case studies in the book provide new insights addressing a variety of topics through a diverse array of methodological approaches. Together the chapters provide a counter position to recent studies that offer more celebratory assessments of Twitter's potential. The book draws attention to the chaotic, insular, uncivil and emotionally charged nature of debate and communication on Twitter.

Creative Learning in Digital and Virtual Environments Vlad P. Glăveanu, Ingunn Johanne Ness, Constance de Saint Laurent, 2020-11-10. Originally published as a special issue of the Creativity Research Journal, this volume gives a balanced and reflective account of the challenges and opportunities of technology-enabled creative learning in contemporary societies. Providing a current and updated account of the challenges posed by the Coronavirus to online education, chapters more broadly offer conceptual reflections and empirically informed insights into the impact of technology on individual and collective creativity and learning. These thoughts are explored in relation to school achievement, the development of digital educational resources, online collaboration and virtual working. Further, the book also considers how the creative use of technology poses risks to learning through the accidental or deliberate dissemination of misinformation and online manipulation of common societal values in the era of COVID-19. Creative Learning in Digital and Virtual Environments looks at the connection between creativity, learning and school achievement and analyses the impact of virtual environments on creative expression. It will appeal to postgraduate students in the fields of creativity and learning as well as to students and academics involved with broader research in areas such as the role of technology in education, e-Learning and distance education. Vlad P. Glăveanu is Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Psychology and Counselling at Webster University, Geneva, Switzerland, as well as Associate Professor II at the University of Bergen, Norway. Ingunn Johanne Ness is a Senior Researcher at the Centre for the Science of Learning Technology, University of Bergen, Norway. Constance de Saint Laurent is a Postdoctoral Researcher at the University of Bologna, Italy.

Social Identity and Discourses in Chinese Digital Communication Hongqiang Zhu, Debing Feng, Xinren Chen, 2024-11-14. Examining how diverse social identities are constructed in digital communication in China, this edited collection provides a multidimensional exploration of the diverse discursive forms and practices used to construct and present the self online. Contributing authors provide analyses of China's digital communication platforms such as social media, news websites and short video applications, drawing from a wealth of data to study daily practices of digital performance of identity and maintenance of social bonds. Comprised of nine chapters, this essential volume is divided into three distinct sections, taking a hierarchical approach to analysing social identities within Chinese digital communication at the micro, meso and macro levels. Diverse methodologies are applied throughout, incorporating insights from both linguistic theories and semiotic or textually oriented analyses, while also considering the wider societal contexts. Readers are encouraged to analyse the main features of this digital culture and to investigate how language and discourse are encountered through media This book will be of value to a wide variety of scholars and students in sociolinguistics communication studies and Asian studies Color Struck Lori Latrice Martin, Hayward Derrick Horton, Cedric Herring, Verna M. Keith, Melvin Thomas, 2017-08-25 Skin color and skin tone has historically played a significant role in determining the life chances of African Americans and other people of color It has also been important to our understanding of race and the processes of racialization But what does the relationship between skin tone and stratification outcomes mean Is skin tone correlated with stratification outcomes because people with darker complexions experience more discrimination than those of the same race with lighter complexions Is skin tone differentiation a process that operates external to communities of color and is then imposed on people of color Or is skin tone discrimination an internally driven process that is actively aided and abetted by members of communities of color themselves Color Struck provides answers to these questions In addition it addresses issues such as the relationship between skin tone and wealth inequality anti black sentiment and whiteness Twitter culture marriage outcomes and attitudes gender racial identity civic engagement and politics at predominately White Institutions Color Struck can be used as required reading for courses on race ethnicity religious studies history political science education mass communications African and African American Studies social work and sociology

Theological Discourses on Social Media Christopher B. Barnett, Clark J. Elliston, Trevor B. Williams, 2025-08-29 Theological Discourses on Social Media will examine ten different social media platforms across three overarching parts The task throughout is first to delineate the configuration and intent of a given form of social media and second to probe its implications for theology On the whole the volume will focus on the Judeo Christian tradition though dialogue with and insight from other religious traditions will also be featured The upshot will be a unique theological engagement with the defining issue of our era a work that will be as relevant as it will be engrossing Featuring contributions from leading scholars it will be a must read for all students of theology religion and media and cultural studies
