Discourse Analysis Beyond The Speech Event Angela Reyes:

Discourse Analysis Beyond the Speech Event Stanton Wortham, Angela Reyes, 2020-11-29 In its first edition winner of the 2016 Edward Sapir Book Prize from the Society for Linguistic Anthropology of the American Anthropological Association Discourse Analysis Beyond the Speech Event introduces a new approach to discourse analysis In this innovative work Wortham and Reyes argue that discourse analysts should look beyond fixed speech events and consider the development of discourses over time Drawing on theories and methods from linguistic anthropology and related fields this book is the first to present a systematic methodological approach to conducting discourse analysis of linked events allowing researchers to understand not only individual events but also the patterns that emerge across them This new edition Draws on theories and methods from linguistic anthropology and related fields Presents the first systematic methodological approach to doing discourse analysis of linked events Provides easy to use tools and techniques for analyzing discourse both within and across events Offers transparent procedures and clear illustrations to show how the approach can be applied to analyze three types of data ethnographic archival and new media Includes a new chapter focusing on the discourse analysis of contemporary nationalist new media data Updated and revised for the second edition this book is essential reading for advanced students and researchers working in the area of discourse analysis

Telling Blackness Krystal Smalls, 2024 Telling Blackness begins with two simple premises conventional models of the ways people make meaning of the world fail to account for the particularities of Blackness and accounts of Black life often miss the significance of the smallest and subtlest acts that sustain it With this introduction of raciosemiotics Smalls remaps the field of semiotic anthropology around the specificities of race and the body and remaps contemporary Black diaspora through the embodied significations of a group of young Liberian women in the US This transdisciplinary ethnographic account of their lives helps us reimagine their talk twerks and tweets as tellings that exceed our understandings of narrative and that potentially act on the world of meaning And with careful historical contextualization we see how such acts reproduce refuse or powerfully disregard racial logics that have entangled the US and Liberia for two centuries Led by Black feminist scholarship Telling Blackness also provides a semiotic glimpse into ways of relating that help create complex diasporic intimacies and that sustain Black life beyond survival

Research Methods in Linguistic Anthropology Sabina M. Perrino, Sonya E.

Pritzker, 2021-12-16 For research in linguistic anthropology the successful execution of research projects is a challenging but essential task. Balancing research design with data collection methods, this textbook guides readers through the key issues and principles of the core research methods in linguistic anthropology. Designed for students conducting research projects for the first time or for researchers in need of a primer on key methodologies, this book provides clear introductions to key concepts, accessible discussions of theory and practice through illustrative examples, and critical engagement with current debates. Topics covered include creating and refining research questions, planning research projects, ethical considerations for research, quantitative and qualitative data collection methods, data processing, data analysis, and how to write a successful grant application. Each chapter is illustrated by case studies which showcase methods in practice and are supported by activities and exercises, discussion questions, and further reading lists. Research Methods in Linguistic Anthropology is an essential resource for both experienced and novice linguistic anthropologists and is a valuable textbook for research methods courses.

Diversity and Super-Diversity Anna De Fina, Didem Ikizoglu, Jeremy Wegner, 2017-04-01 Sociocultural linguistics has long conceived of languages as well-bounded, separate codes. But the increasing diversity of languages encountered by most people in their daily lives challenges this conception, and more recent scholarship complicates traditional associations between languages and social identities. Diversity and even super diversity is now the norm. This volume examines the increasing diversity of linguistic phenomena and addresses the theoretical/methodological challenges that accounting for such phenomena pose to sociocultural linguistics. Diversity and Super Diversity brings together top scholars in the field and stages the debate on super diversity that will be sure to interest sociocultural linguists, generating discussion and informing future research.

Language, Culture, and Society James Stanlaw, Nobuko Adachi, 2025-03-31 Why should we study language? How do the ways in which we communicate define our identities? And how is this all changing in the digital world? Over seven editions, many have turned to Language Culture and Society for answers to questions like these because of its comprehensive coverage of all critical aspects of linguistic anthropology. This eighth edition carries on the legacy while addressing some of the newer, pressing and exciting challenges of the twenty-first century, such as issues of language and power, language ideology, linguistic diasporas, as well as online and digital ecosystems. New to this edition are a reconceptualization of how linguistics approaches race, gender, and sexuality, with additional chapters and sections on how linguistics benefits archaeology and biological anthropology, as well as considerations of the relationship between language and truth, ethics and war, and politics. It also features enhanced and updated pedagogical features, such as learning objectives, updated resources for continued learning, and cross-references to updated encyclopedias of linguistic anthropology.

Black Lives Matter and Music Fernando Orejuela, Stephanie Shonekan, 2018-08-10 Music has always been integral to the Black Lives Matter movement in the United States, with songs such as Kendrick Lamar's "Alright," J. Cole's "Be Free," D'Angelo and the

Vanguard s The Charade The Game s Don t Shoot Janelle Monae s Hell You Talmabout Usher s Chains and many others serving as unofficial anthems and soundtracks for members and allies of the movement In this collection of critical studies contributors draw from ethnographic research and personal encounters to illustrate how scholarly research of approaches to and teaching about the role of music in the Black Lives Matter movement can contribute to public awareness of the social economic political scientific and other forms of injustices in our society Each chapter in Black Lives Matter and Music focuses on a particular case study with the goal to inspire and facilitate productive dialogues among scholars students and the communities we study From nuanced snapshots of how African American musical genres have flourished in different cities and the role of these genres in local activism to explorations of musical pedagogy on the American college campus readers will be challenged to think of how activism and social justice work might appear in American higher education and in academic research Black Lives Matter and Music provokes us to examine how we teach how we conduct research and ultimately how we should think about the ways that black struggle liberation and identity have evolved in the United States and around the world

Educating in Life Herve Varenne, 2019-04-17 This volume investigates the ubiquitous education of everyday life as people contest the normal settle on a new convention and deal with the difficulties that arise By documenting adolescent Dominican girls young men in Silicon Valley successful venture capitalists and others imagining explaining and challenging the status quo this book presents evidence that the proper starting point for education is struggle and play within and around institutionalized social and cultural conditions Through a development of Varenne s earlier research at the intersection of anthropology and education this book highlights transformative work that constructs new cultures and it presents a revitalized theory of culture difference and education

Looking Like a Language, Sounding Like a Race Jonathan Rosa, 2019 Looking like a Language Sounding like a Race examines the emergence of linguistic and ethnoracial categories in the context of Latinidad The book draws from more than twenty four months of ethnographic and sociolinguistic fieldwork in a Chicago public school whose student body is more than 90% Mexican and Puerto Rican to analyze the racialization of language and its relationship to issues of power and national identity It focuses specifically on youth socialization to U S Latinidad as a contemporary site of political anxiety raciolinguistic transformation and urban inequity Jonathan Rosa s account studies the fashioning of Latinidad in Chicago s highly segregated Near Northwest Side he links public discourse concerning the rising prominence of U S Latinidad to the institutional management and experience of raciolinguistic identities there Anxieties surrounding Latinx identities push administrators to transform at risk Mexican and Puerto Rican students into young Latino professionals This institutional effort which requires students to learn to be and importantly sound like themselves in highly studied ways reveals administrators attempts to navigate a precarious urban terrain in a city grappling with some of the nation s highest youth homicide dropout and teen pregnancy rates Rosa explores the ingenuity of his research participants responses to these forms of marginalization through the contestation of political ethnoracial and linguistic borders Islamic Sisterhood Etsuko Maruoka-Donnelly, 2019-01-24 Muslims have been major targets of hate crimes and discrimination in the US since 9 11 Anti Muslim resentment increased again after Donald Trump won the U S presidency and revitalized far right politics In this hostile environment why do many young Muslim women choose to wear a headscarf and publicly display their Islamic identity This book unravels this puzzle by drawing on sociological insights and three years of ethnographic study with Muslim adolescents in New York during the post 9 11 backlash It finds that young American born Muslim women choose to cover their hair and bodies not simply out of spiritual devotion to Islamic fundamentalism but also and primarily to cope with social adversity rooted in sexism racism and patriarchy in both their ethnic community and the larger Western society This book will appeal to scholars students and other readers interested in the Muslim diaspora gender race and ethnicity youth immigration and social movements US

Latinization Spencer Salas, Pedro R. Portes, 2017-02-01 Demonstrates how educators and policymakers should treat the intertwined nature of immigrant education and social progress in order to improve current policies and practices Offering a much needed dialogue about Latino demographic change in the United States and its intersections with P 20 education US Latinization provides discussions that help move beyond the outdated idea that Mexican and Spanish language are synonyms This nativist logic has caused Mexican rooms to re emerge in the form of English to Speakers of Other Languages ESOL transitional programs tagging Latinos as Limited English Proficient in ways that contribute to persisting educational gaps Spencer Salas and Pedro R Portes bring together voices that address the social and geographical nature of achievement and that serve as a theoretical or methodological resource for educational leaders and policy makers committed to access equity and educational excellence

Channeling Moroccanness Becky L. Schulthies, 2020-12-01 Honorable Mention 2022 L Carl Brown AIMS Book Prize in North African Studies What does it mean to connect as a people through mass media This book approaches that question by exploring how Moroccans engage communicative failure as they seek to shape social and political relations in urban Fez Over the last decade laments of language and media failure in Fez have focused not just on social relations that used to be and have been lost but also on what ought to be and had yet to be realized Such laments have transpired in a range of communication channels from objects such as devotional prayer beads and remote controls to interactional forms such as storytelling dress styles and orthography to media platforms like television news religious stations or WhatsApp group chats Channeling Moroccanness examines these laments as ways of speaking that created Moroccanness the feeling of participating in the ongoing formations of Moroccan relationality Rather than furthering the discourse about Morocco s conflict between liberal secularists and religious conservatives this ethnography shows the subtle range of ideologies and practices evoked in Fassi homes to calibrate Moroccan sociality and political consciousness

Narrative Complexity Marina Grishakova, Maria Poulaki, 2019-08-01 The variety in contemporary philosophical and aesthetic thinking as well as in scientific and experimental research on complexity has not yet been fully adopted by narratology By integrating cutting edge approaches this volume takes a step toward filling this gap and establishing interdisciplinary narrative research on complexity Narrative Complexity provides a framework for a more complex and nuanced study of narrative and explores the experience of narrative complexity in terms of cognitive processing affect and mind and body engagement Bringing together leading international scholars from a range of disciplines this volume combines analytical effort and conceptual insight in order to relate more effectively our theories of narrative representation and complexities of intelligent behavior This collection engages important questions on how narrative complexity functions as an agent of cultural evolution how our understanding of narrative complexity can be extended in light of new research in the social sciences and humanities how interactive media produce new types of narrative complexity and how the role of embodiment as a factor of narrative complexity acquires prominence in cognitive science and media studies The contributors explore narrative complexity transmitted through various semiotic channels embedded in multiple contexts and experienced across different media including film comics music interactive apps audiowalks and ambient literature

Narrating Migration Sabina Perrino, 2019-11-25 This book reflects on the myriad ways in which forms of exclusion and inclusion play out in narratives of migration focusing on the case of Northern Italian narratives in today's superdiverse Italy Drawing on over a decade of the author's fieldwork in the region the volume examines the emergence of racialized language in conversations about migrants or migration issues in light of increasing recent migratory flows in the European Union couched in the broader context of changing socio-political forces such as anti-immigration policies and nativist discourse in political communication in Italy The book highlights case studies from everyday discourse in both villages and cities and at different levels of society to explore these intimacies of exclusion the varying degrees to which inclusion and exclusion manifest themselves in conversation on migration The book also employs a narrative practice based approach which considers storytelling as a more dynamic form of discourse thus allowing for equally new ways of analyzing their content and impact Offering a valuable contribution to the growing literature on narratives of migration this volume is key reading for graduate students and scholars in linguistic anthropology sociolinguistics sociocultural anthropology language and politics and migration studies

Language Ideologies in the Chinese Context Ying Wang, 2020-06-22 This book explores language ideologies in China which encounters the unprecedented global spread of English as a lingua franca against the backdrop of globalisation where China emerges as a rapidly developing economy with vigorous promotion of Chinese around the world The book addresses Chinese speakers' ideologies in relation to ELF and provides insights into non-native English speakers' engagement in the development of English in the future

Korean Culture in the Global Age Joanne Miyang Cho, Lee M. Roberts, 2025-06-30 Since the late 1990s South Korean cultural products such as pop music TV drama and film have shaped the country's image around the world This book explores these three internationally best known media of the Korean Wave global phenomenon along with a less commonly featured aspect K literature Iconic images of South Korea today include stylish music groups like BTS and Blackpink appealing dramas and a range of films and digital comics manhwa. Alongside associations with glitz and glamor are darker impressions continuing political division malaise over a war that never really ended. Korean Culture in the Global Age focuses on these and other facets of South Korea's constantly changing international image to show how it has come to command worldwide attention. In recent years readers in a growing number of languages have discovered the talent of South Korean authors through the efforts of countless translators. Showing developments in and occasional connections between themes in K-pop, K-drama, K-film and K-literature, the book provides a more comprehensive view of contemporary South Korean culture. This volume will interest researchers and students of Korean Studies, Asian Studies, Asian American Studies, popular music, film studies, migration and diaspora studies, and world literature.

Recognizing Indigenous Languages Nicholas Limerick, 2023. What follows when state institutions name historically oppressed languages as official? What happens when bilingual education activists gain the right to coordinate schooling from upper level state offices? The intercultural bilingual school system in Ecuador has been one of the most prominent referents of Indigenous education in the Americas. Since its establishment in 1988, members of Ecuador's pueblos and nationalities have coordinated a second national school system that includes the teaching of Indigenous languages. Based on more than two years of ethnographic research in Ecuador's Ministry of Education, at international and national conferences, in workshops in schools and with families, Recognizing Indigenous Languages considers how state agents carry out linguistic and educational politics and policies in eras of greater inclusivity and multiculturalism. This book shows how institutional advances for bilingual education and Indigenous languages have been premised on affirming the equality and the equivalency of the linguistic and cultural practices of members of Indigenous pueblos and nationalities with other Ecuadorians. Major responsibilities like serving as national state agents, crafting a standardized variety of the Kichwa language, family translating legal documents to Kichwa, and teaching Indigenous languages in schools have provided vast authority, representation and visibility for those languages and their speakers. However, the everyday work of directing a school system and making Kichwa a language of the state includes double binds that work against the very goals of autonomous schooling and getting people to speak and write Kichwa.

Language, Education, and Identity Chaise LaDousa, Christina P. Davis, 2021-07-08. This book examines medium of instruction in education and studies its social, economic and political significance in the lives of people living in South Asia. It provides insight into the meaning of medium and what makes it so important to identity, aspiration and inequality. It questions the ideologized associations between education and social and spatial mobility and discusses the gender and class based marginalization that comes with vernacular medium education. The volume also considers how policy measures such as the Right to Education (RTE) Act in India have failed to address the inequalities brought by medium in schools and investigates questions on language access, inclusion and rights. Drawing on extensive fieldwork and in depth interviews, the book will be indispensable for students and scholars of anthropology education studies sociolinguistics sociology and South Asian studies It will also appeal to those interested in language and education in South Asia especially the role of language in the reproduction of inequality

Drama of Democracy Lisa Björkman, 2025-09-02 The performative arts of political communication and representation in Mumbai In an era of global political passions many have wondered whether some sort of natural affinity exists between political style and substance Does liberal democracy speak the language of rationality and sincerity while political emotion imagery and embodiment properly belong to authoritarianism Taking an ethnographic approach to the relationship between political form and political content Drama of Democracy explores the material substance of representations things like heady crowds and rousing images together with language based forms of political communication such as public oration and community meetings Drawing on a decade of research in the city of Mumbai Lisa Björkman shows that embodied performance is the very site and substance of representation and demonstrates how Mumbaikars evaluate performative bids to represent The ethnographic accounts demonstrate the extraordinary fluency in this evaluative work in Mumbai where people from all walks of life are remarkably astute at navigating and assessing political signs and representations endlessly discussing and debating possible meanings of the city's dense material semiotic ecologies whether words or images cash or crowds flyers or flowers In Mumbai Björkman argues the evaluative criterion of representation is not whether something is sign or substance or even whether people are deemed to utter truths or falsehoods Rather what matters is whether and how a performance activates and actuates the social relations and political subjectivities that it professes to display Drama of Democracy highlights Mumbaikars communicative fluency and theatrical acumen to offer a conceptual toolbox through which contemporary political churnings around the globe might be understood

In Pursuit of English Joseph Sung-Yul Park, 2021 In Pursuit of English traces how the English language became an object of heated pursuit amid South Korea's rapid neoliberalization creating the so called English fever of the 1990s and 2000s Joseph Sung Yul Park demonstrates that English gained prominence not because of the language's supposed economic value but because of the anxieties insecurities and moral desire instilled by neoliberal Korean society Park shows how English came to be seen as an index of an ideal neoliberal subject who willingly engages in constant self management and self development in response to the changing conditions of the global economy Bringing together ethnographically oriented perspectives on subjectivity critical analysis of conditions of contemporary capitalism theories of neoliberal governmentality and sociolinguistic and linguistic anthropological frameworks of metapragmatic analysis In Pursuit of English develops an innovative new direction for research at the intersection language and political economy challenging researchers to consider subjectivity as the key for understanding the place of language in neoliberalism
