Paracritical Hinge Nathaniel Mackey, 2018-03-15 Paracritical Hinge is a collection of varied yet interrelated pieces highlighting Nathaniel Mackey's multifaceted work as writer and critic It embraces topics ranging from Walt Whitman's interest in phrenology to the marginalization of African American experimental writing from Kamau Brathwaite's calibanistic language practices to Federico García Lorca's flamenco aesthetic of duende and its continuing repercussions from H.D.'s desert measure and coastal way of knowing to the altered spatial disposition of Miles Davis's trumpet sound from Robert Duncan's serial poetics to diasporic syncretism from the lyric poem's present day predicaments to gnosticism Offering illuminating commentary on these and other artists including Amiri Baraka Mississippi Fred McDowell Wilson Harris Jack Spicer John Coltrane Jay Wright and Bob Kaufman Paracritical Hinge also sheds light on Mackey's own work as a poet fiction writer and editor Matter, Magic, and Spirit David Murray, 2013-04-23 The spiritual and religious beliefs and practices of Native Americans and African Americans have long been sources of fascination and curiosity owing to their marked difference from the religious traditions of white writers and researchers Matter Magic and Spirit explores the ways religious and magical beliefs of Native Americans and African Americans have been represented in a range of discourses including anthropology comparative religion and literature Though these beliefs were widely dismissed as primitive superstition and inferior to higher religions like Christianity distinctions were still made between the supposed spiritual capacities of the different groups David Murray's analysis is unique in bringing together Indian and African beliefs and their representations First tracing the development of European ideas about both African fetishism and Native American primitive belief he goes on to explore the ways in which the hierarchies of race created by white Europeans coincided with hierarchies of religion as expressed in the developing study of comparative religion and folklore through the nineteenth century Crucially this comparative approach to practices that were dismissed as conjure or black magic or Indian medicine points as well to the importance of their cultural and political roles in their own communities at times of destructive change Murray also explores the ways in which Indian and African writers later reformulated the models developed by white observers as demonstrated through the work of Charles Chesnutt and Simon Pokagon and then in the later conjunctions of modernism and ethnography in the 1920s and 1930s through the work of Zora Neale Hurston Zitkala Sa and others Later sections demonstrate how contemporary writers including Ishmael Reed and Leslie Silko deal with the revaluation of traditional beliefs as spiritual resources against a background of New Age spirituality and postmodern conceptions of racial and ethnic identity

Sensory Experiments Erica Fretwell, 2020-09-14 In Sensory Experiments Erica Fretwell excavates the nineteenth century science of psychophysics and its theorizations of sensation to examine the cultural and aesthetic landscape of feeling in nineteenth century America Fretwell demonstrates how psychophysics a scientific movement originating in Germany and dedicated to the empirical study of sensory experience shifted the understandings of feeling from the epistemology of sentiment to the phenomenological terrain of lived experience Through analyses of medical case studies spirit photographs perfumes music theory recipes and the work of canonical figures ranging from Kate Chopin and Pauline Hopkins to James Weldon Johnson and Emily Dickinson Fretwell outlines how the five senses became important elements in the biopolitical work of constructing human difference along the lines of race gender and ability In its entanglement with social difference psychophysics contributed to the racialization of aesthetics while sketching out possibilities for alternate modes of being over and against the figure of the bourgeois liberal individual Although psychophysics has largely been forgotten Fretwell demonstrates that its importance to shaping social order through scientific notions of sensation is central to contemporary theories of new materialism posthumanism aesthetics and affect theory

The Other Side of Nowhere Daniel Fischlin, Ajay Heble, 2004-03-30 Scholars composers and performers write about the art of jazz improvisation

Expressivity in Modern Poetry Donald Wellman, 2019-02-26 Expressivity in Modern Poetry explores three interrelated subjects The first is a general exposition of the radical or deeply realistic aspects of the poetry and visual arts of the modern period The focus is on the works of Ezra Pound as understood through a prism of postmodern thought The second subject is the poetry and poetics of Charles Olson a pivotal figure during the transition from modernism to postmodernism The third subject is contemporary innovative poetry with special attention to transcultural neobarroco and language centered aspects of composition The grounding for this section is found in the works of William Carlos Williams Aime Cesaire and Jose Lezama Lima A reversal of the relation between the center and periphery decentering the New York to Paris vector is crucial for understanding the Caribbean as a seedbed for both innovative and identity based poetics Wellman's purpose is to amplify the cultural importance of expressivity in a field where critical discussion is often dominated by constructivism and conceptualism Expressivity in Modern Poetry offers a new reading of the relation between twentieth century modernism and contemporary poetic practice

Sound States Adalaide Morris, 2018-06-15 By investigating the relationship between acoustical technologies and twentieth century experimental poetics this collection with an accompanying compact disc aims to turn up the volume on printed works and rethink the way we read hear and talk about literary texts composed after telephones phonographs radios loudspeakers microphones and tape recorders became facts of everyday life The collection's twelve essays focus on earplay in texts by James Joyce Ezra Pound H D Samuel Beckett William Burroughs Amiri Baraka Bob Kaufman Robert Duncan and Kamau Brathwaite and in performances by John Cage Caribbean DJ poets and Cecil Taylor From the early twentieth century soundscapes of Futurist and Dadaist sonosphers to Henri Chopin's electroacoustical audio poems the authors argue these states of sound make bold but wavering statements statements held only partially in check by meaning The contributors are Loretta Collins James A Connor Michael Davidson N Katherine Hayles Nathaniel Mackey Steve McCaffery Alec McHoul Toby Miller Adalaide Morris Fred Moten Marjorie Perloff Jed Rasula and Garrett Stewart

Abstractionist Aesthetics Phillip Brian Harper, 2015-12-25 An artistic discussion on the critical potential of African American expressive culture In a major reassessment of African American culture Phillip Brian Harper intervenes in the ongoing debate about the proper depiction of black people He advocates for African American aesthetic abstractionism a representational mode whereby an artwork rather than striving for realist verisimilitude vigorously asserts its essentially artificial character Maintaining that realist representation reaffirms the very social facts that it might have been understood to challenge Harper contends that abstractionism shows up the actual constructedness of those facts thereby subjecting them to critical scrutiny and making them amenable to transformation Arguing against the need for positive representations Abstractionist Aesthetics displaces realism as the primary mode of African American representational aesthetics re-centers literature as a principal site of African American cultural politics and elevates experimental prose within the domain of African American literature Drawing on examples across a variety of artistic production including the visual work of Fred Wilson and Kara Walker the music of Billie Holiday and Cecil Taylor and the prose and verse writings of Ntozake Shange Alice Walker and John Keene this book poses urgent questions about how racial blackness is made to assume certain social meanings In the process African American aesthetics are upended rendering abstractionism as the most powerful modality for Black representation

Voices of Negritude in Modernist Print Carrie Noland, 2015-04-28 Carrie Noland approaches Negritude as an experimental text based poetic movement developed by diasporic authors of African descent through the means of modernist print culture Engaging primarily the works of Aimé Césaire and Léon Gontran Damas Noland shows how the demands of print culture alter the personal voice of each author transforming an empirical subjectivity into a hybrid textual entity that she names after Theodor Adorno an aesthetic subjectivity This aesthetic subjectivity transmitted by the words on the page must be actualized performed reiterated and created anew by each reader at each occasion of reading Lyric writing and lyric reading therefore attenuate the link between author and phenomenized voice Yet the Negritude poem insists upon its connection to lived experience even as it emphasizes its printed form Ironically a purely formalist reading would have to ignore the ways formal and not merely thematic elements point toward the poem's own conditions of emergence Blending archival research on the historical context of Negritude with theories of the lyric voice Noland argues that Negritude poems present a challenge to both form based deconstructive theories and identity based theories of poetic representation Through close readings she reveals that the racialization of the author places pressure on a lyric regime of interpretation obliging us to reconceptualize the relation of author to text in poetries of the first person

Pope.L The Renaissance Society at the University of Chicago, 2019-04-10 Iconoclast and artist Pope L uses the body sex and race as his materials the way other artists might use paint clay or bronze His work problematizes social categories by exploring how difference is marked economically socially and politically Working in a range of media from ketchup to baloney to correction fluid with a special emphasis on performativity and writing Pope L pokes fun at and interrogates American society's pretenses the bankruptcy of contemporary mores and the resulting repercussions for a civil society Other favorite Pope L targets are squeamishness about the human body and the very possibility of making meaning through art and its display Published to accompany his wonderfully inscrutable exhibition Forlesen at the Renaissance Society at the University of Chicago Pope L Showing Up to Withhold is simultaneously an artist's book and a monograph In addition to reproductions of a number of his most recent artworks it includes images of significant works from the past decade and presents a forum for reflection and analysis on art making today with contributions by renowned critics and scholars including Lawrie Balfour Nick Bastis Lauren Berlant and K Silem Mohammad

A Nomad Poetics Pierre Joris, 2003-11-05 In his first collection of critical essays Joris maps the success and limitations of contemporary avant garde poetics This investigation leads him to envision a nomadic poetics as a strategy for new poetic work for translation and fundamentally for an ethics of early 21st century life

Writing Plural Worlds in Contemporary U.S. Poetry J. Keller, 2009-08-03 This book reveals how poets within the U S multi ethnic avant garde give up the goal of narrating one comprehensive rooted view of cultural reality in favour of constructing coherent accounts of relational local selves and worlds

Dissonant Voices Joseph Pizza, 2023-09-28 Dissonant Voices Race Jazz and Innovative Poetics in Midcentury America explores the braiding together of racial politics popular music and avant garde poetics in post war American culture Ranging from roughly the late 1940s to the early 1970s this study examines the development of open field poetics alternately termed projective verse after Charles Olson's influential essay of the same name In doing so it traces projective verse from its creation amidst the crucible of racial integration at Black Mountain College to its development through a series of interracial friendships explored among writers involved in the Boston San Francisco and downtown New York scenes to its reimagining by African American poets working in Harlem Los Angeles and beyond as part of the Black Arts Movement Because the histories of integration jazz and postwar poetics have been studied too often as the subjects of disparate narratives and separate disciplines this arc of their shared development has also been largely obscured To remedy this the present study takes an interdisciplinary approach with insights from contemporary histories performance studies sound studies critical race theory and literary criticism informing the mix of literary analysis musicology and historical detail that comprises each chapter Accordingly the book argues for an integrated approach to the New American Poetry and the Black Arts Movement one that situates the midcentury poetics of breath and performance in the context of the Civil Rights era politics and jazz music that informed it Moreover it also unearths significant and little understood connections between Black Mountain the Beats the Boston Renaissance the New York scene and the Black Arts Movement expanding thereby our understandings of each and in a more general sense of contemporary American poetry politics and music in the process

Blutopia Graham Lock, 1999 An analysis of the portrayal of African American life history and possibility in the work of three important jazz composers

Fables of Representation Paul Hoover, 2010-06-02 From the acclaimed author of Winter Mirror and Rehearsal in Black Fables of Representation is a powerful collection of essays on the state of contemporary poetry free from the stultifying theoretical jargon of recent literary history With its title essay Fables of Representation one of the most cogent studies ever written of the New York School of poets a group that includes the influential poet John Ashbery this book is required reading for anyone who seeks to understand the poetry and culture of the postmodern period Author Paul Hoover's wide ranging subjects include African American interdisciplinary studies the position of poetry in the electronic age the notion of doubleness in the work of Harryette Mullen and others the lyricism of the New York School poets and the role of reality in American poetry Hoover also introduces two provocative essays sure to generate attention and discussion The Postmodern Era A Final Exam and The New Millennium Fifty Statements on Literature and Culture Paul Hoover is the editor of the anthology Postmodern American Poetry and author of nine poetry collections including Totem and Shadow New and Selected Poems and Viridian His poetry has appeared in American Poetry Review The New Republic and The Paris Review among others He is Poet in Residence at Columbia College Chicago

Poetic Investigations Paul Naylor, 1999 This text studies five contemporary writers whose radical engagements with poetic form and political content shed new light on issues of race class and gender In a detailed reading of three American poets Susan Howe Nathaniel Mackey and Lyn Hejinian and two Caribbean poets Kamau Brathwaite and M Nourbese Philip the book argues that these writers have produced new forms of poetry that address the holes in history that more traditional forms of poetry neglect By refusing to limit their work to lyrical expressions of personal experience it maintains that these writers produce poetry that explores the linguistic historical and political conditions of contemporary culture advancing a formally and thematically challenging critique of the ways in which women and people of colour are represented Far from constituting a unified school of poetry however the book argues that these five writers represent different facets of the various kinds of poetic practice taking place on the margins of contemporary culture
