information and for those who want to develop an informed perspective on aspects of modern France      Confronting Modernity in Fin-de-Siècle France C. Forth, E. Accampo, 2009-11-27 The turn of the twentieth century represented a crossroads in the French experience of modernization especially in regard to ideas about gender and sexuality Drawing together prominent scholars in French gender history this volume explores how historians have come to view this period in light of new theoretical developments since the 1980s      Gender, Generation, and Journalism in France, 1910-1940 Mary Lynn Stewart, 2018-06-20 In the late nineteenth century the first wave of female journalists began writing in the French daily press Yet while they undeniably opened doors for the next generations of educated women sexist hiring practices assumptions about women's aptitudes as reporters and more subtle gender biases continued to saturate the industry in the decades that followed Gender Generation and Journalism in France 1910-1940 investigates the careers and written work of ten women who regularly reported in the national Paris based dailies Addressing the role of mentorship family connections gendered behaviours reporting styles and subject matter Mary Lynn Stewart debunks lingering essentialist notions about women's entry into journalism She shows that struggling newspapers attempting to reverse declining circulation hired women to cover subjects that expanded to include international relations colonial conflicts trials local politics and social problems Through content analysis deixis and systematic comparisons of several women and men reporting on the same or different events she further queries claims about a feminine style finding more similarities than differences between masculine and feminine reporting Documenting the persistence of gender discrimination in the hiring assigning and assessment of women reporters in the French daily press Gender Generation and Journalism in France 1910-1940 demonstrates that through the support of their female colleagues women managed to succeed despite a variety of challenges

A Political Romance S. Foley, C. Sowerwine, 2012-03-20 L on Gambetta is renowned as a founder of the French Third Republic This unique study of his correspondence with his lover L onie L on provides a fascinating insight into their intimate and political partnership It brings to life Gambetta as lover and politician the unknown figure of L on and the political and cultural world of 1870s Paris      Institutionalizing Gender Jessie Hewitt, 2020-06-15 Institutionalizing Gender analyzes the relationship between class gender and psychiatry in France from 1789 to 1900 an era noteworthy for the creation of the psychiatric profession the development of a national asylum system and the spread of bourgeois gender values Asylum doctors in nineteenth century France promoted the notion that manliness was synonymous with rationality using this fact to pathologize non normative behaviors and confine people who did not embody mainstream gender expectations to asylums And yet this gendering of rationality also had the power to upset prevailing dynamics between men and women Jessie Hewitt argues that the ways that doctors used dominant gender values to find cures for madness inadvertently undermined both medical and masculine power in large part because the performance of gender as a pathway to health had to be taught it was not inherent Institutionalizing Gender examines a series of controversies and clinical contexts where doctors' ideas about gender and class simultaneously legitimated authority and revealed unexpected opportunities for resistance Thanks to generous funding from the Andrew W Mellon Foundation through The Sustainable History Monograph Pilot the ebook editions of this book are available as Open Access volumes from Cornell Open cornellpress.cornell.edu/cornell-open and other repositories

Gender, War and Politics K. Hagemann, G. Mettele, J. Rendall, 2010-09-08 This volume addresses war developing political and national identities and the changing gender regimes of Europe and the Americas between 1775 and 1830 Military and civilian experiences of war and revolution in free and slave societies both reflected and shaped gender concepts and practices in relation to class ethnicity race and religion

The Lost Children Tara Zahra, 2011-09-09 This impressive study charts the history of post WWII humanitarian relief demonstrating how the institutions of the family became politicized Library Journal During the Second World War an unprecedented number of families were torn apart As the Nazi empire crumbled millions roamed the continent in search of their loved ones The Lost Children tells the story of these families We see how the reconstruction of families quickly became synonymous with the survival of European civilization itself Based on original research in German French Czech Polish and American archives The Lost Children is a heartbreaking and mesmerizing story It brings together the histories of eastern and western Europe and traces the efforts of everyone from Jewish Holocaust survivors to German refugees from Communist officials to American social workers to rebuild the lives of displaced children It reveals that many seemingly timeless ideals of the family were actually conceived in the concentration camps orphanages and refugee camps of the Second World War and shows how the process of reconstruction shaped Cold War ideologies and ideas about childhood and national identity This riveting tale of families destroyed by war reverberates in the lost children of today s wars and in the compelling issues of international adoption human rights and humanitarianism and refugee policies Fascinating New Republic A superb book A wide ranging exceptionally well researched study Tablet Magazine Zahra s work is insightful in considering what treatment of lost children can tell us about broader developments in the post war period both in terms of how nations interacted with each other and how psychologists understood the impact of war on children Times Higher Education

Practiced Citizenship Nimisha Barton, Richard S. Hopkins, 2019-01-01 Over fifty years ago sociologist T H Marshall first opened the modern debate about the evolution of full citizenship in modern nation states arguing that it proceeded in three stages from civil rights to political rights and finally to social rights The shortcomings of this model were clear to feminist scholars As political theorist Carol Pateman argued the modern social contract undergirding nation states was from the start premised on an implicit sexual contract According to Pateman the birth of modern democracy necessarily resulted in the political erasure of women Since the 1990s feminist historians have realized that Marshall s typology failed to describe adequately developments that affected women in France An examination of the role of women and gender in welfare state development suggested that social rights rooted in republican notions of womanhood came early and fast for women in France even while political and economic rights would continue to lag behind

While their considerable access to social citizenship privileges shaped their prospects the absence of women's formal rights still dominates the conversation Practiced Citizenship offers a significant rereading of that narrative Through an analysis of how citizenship was lived practiced and deployed by women in France in the modern period Practiced Citizenship demonstrates how gender normativity and the resulting constraints placed on women nevertheless created opportunities for a renegotiation of the social and sexual contract

Planning the Greenspaces of Nineteenth-Century Paris Richard S. Hopkins, 2015-05-11 In the second half of the nineteenth century state and municipal governments oversaw the explosive growth of public parks squares and gardens throughout the city of Paris In Planning the Greenspaces of Nineteenth Century Paris Richard S Hopkins skillfully weaves together social and cultural history to argue that the expansion of these greenspaces served as more than simple urban embellishment Rather they provided an essential component of the Second Empire's efforts to transform and revitalize France's capital city and their development continued well into the Third Republic Hopkins brings a new dimension to the study of nineteenth century Parisian urbanism by considering the parks and squares of Paris from multiple perspectives the reformers who advocated for them the planners who constructed them the workers who maintained them and the neighborhood residents who used them As public areas over which private citizens felt a high degree of ownership these spaces offered a unique opportunity for collaboration between city officials and residents Hopkins examines the national and municipal goals for the greenspaces their intended contributions to public health and the roles of park service employees and neighborhood groups in their ongoing centrality to Parisian life Hopkins's study moves deftly from the aspirations of the political authorities to the ways in which new public spaces contributed to community building and neighborhood identity Drawing on extensive archival research he depicts a greenspace design and development process that illustrates the dynamic relationship between citizens and city

Disintegrating Empire Elise Franklin, 2024-10 Disintegrating Empire examines the entangled histories of three threads of decolonization the French welfare state family migration from Algeria and the French social workers who mediated between the state and their Algerian clients After World War II social work teams midlevel bureaucrats and government ministries stitched specialized social services for Algerians into the structure of the midcentury welfare state Once the Algerian Revolution began in 1954 many successive administrations and eventually two independent states France and Algeria continuously tailored welfare to support social aid services for Algerian families migrating across the Mediterranean Disintegrating Empire reveals the belated collapse of specialized services more than a decade after Algerian independence The welfare state's story Elise Franklin argues was not one merely of rise and fall but of winnowing services to deserving clients Defunding social services long associated with the neoliberal turn in the 1980s and beyond has a much longer history defined by exacting controls on colonial citizens and migrants of newly independent countries Disintegrating Empire explores the dynamic conflicting and often messy nature of these relationships which show how Algerian family migration prompted by decolonization ultimately exposed the limits of the French welfare state      New Perspectives on European Women's Legal History Sara L. Kimble, Marion Röwekamp, 2016-07-01 This book integrates women's history and legal studies within the broader context of modern European history in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Sixteen contributions from fourteen countries explore the ways in which the law contributes to the social construction of gender They analyze questions of family law and international law and highlight the politics of gender in the legal professions in a variety of historical social and national settings including Eastern Southern Western Northern and Central Europe Focusing on different legal cultures they show us the similarities and differences in the ways the law has shaped the contours of women and men's lives in powerful ways They also show how women have used legal knowledge to struggle for their equal rights on the national and transnational level The chapters address the interconnectedness of the history of feminism legislative reforms and women's citizenship and build a foundation for a comparative vision of women's legal history in modern Europe      The Cinematic Enfant Terrible Karolina Westling, 2025-06-26 The Cinematic Enfant Terrible is a groundbreaking study of rule breakers in French cinema The book approaches the concept of the enfant terrible in the literal sense of the term young people labelled terrible awful by the adult generation It explores a rich cinematic tradition from Jean Vigo's Zéro de conduite 1933 and François Truffaut's Les quatre cents coups 1959 to Catherine Breillat's 36 fillette 1988 and Ladj Ly's Les Misérables 2019 The book encompasses the cinematic enfants terribles across age groups and genders addressing the differences between unruly boys and rebellious teenage girls The early post war focus on juvenile delinquency and sexual provocations diversifies into filles fatales and angry girls but also precarious boys and parents terribles The book charts the evolution of the enfant terrible concept from a negative label to a sympathetically viewed figure of anti authoritarian resistance reflecting the changing position of children within the family in post war France The films address the ethical paradox of democratic upbringing the dilemma of raising children to become obedient individuals with a mind of their own The asymmetrical relationship between children and parents is seen as a tacit family contract that highlights the importance of an intergenerational perspective for the understanding of generational conflicts Rebellious children and teenagers on screen are seen in the light of wider social transformations The book clarifies the interplay between individual protests and cultural currents such as existentialism feminism and ethnic conflicts This book will be of interest to scholars and students of French culture and cinema childhood and youth studies gender studies and cultural studies      The Power of the Fathers Margareth Lanzinger, 2016-02-05 The book examines the topic of paternal authority as it developed over a long period of time The focus is on the power of fathers as manifested within a complex fabric of legal social economic political and moral aspects In early modern times a father's power was based upon his personal and legal position as the one responsible for the family and the household in the sense of an economic unit as well as on his moral authority over all those who belonged to said household At the same time the father was subject to public control and his legal status was characterized not only by power but also by obligations This status was modelled after the figure of the pater familias as conceived of in Roman law a concept that remained relevant up into the nineteenth century though not without changes Ultimately the figure of the pater familias came to overlap with the modern era perception of fathers disempowerment The chapters of this book analyse the public responsibility of fathers in the case of an adulterous daughter legal acts of emancipation by which a son could gain independence from his father and various opinions with regard to indulgent fathering paternal authority over married sons and provisions set out in wills This book was originally published as a special issue of The History of the Family

Law's Dominion Jay R. Berkovitz, 2019-11-26 In Law's Dominion Jay Berkovitz offers a novel approach to the history of early modern Jewry Set in the city of Metz on the Moselle river this study of a vibrant prerevolutionary community draws on a wide spectrum of legal sources that tell a story about community religion and family that has not been told before Focusing on the community's leadership public institutions and judiciary this study challenges the assumption that Jewish life was in a steady state of decline before the French Revolution To the contrary the evidence reveals a robust community that integrated religious values and civic consciousness interacted with French society and showed remarkable signs of collaboration between Jewish law and the French judicial system In Law's Dominion Jay Berkovitz has gathered and meticulously mined a dazzling array of rich and complex rabbinic texts and records from Western Europe during the early modern period including the pinkas of the rabbinic court of Metz that he previously rescued from oblivion What emerges is a remarkably fresh depiction and incisive comparative treatment of central aspects of Jewish law religion and family which will have far reaching ramifications for all future studies in these disciplines

These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
