

Contrast and Comparison paragraph

The Comparison paragraph compares two subjects and discusses how they are alike and lists a few examples. In the contrast paragraph, two subjects are discussed as how they are different, again, listing a few examples. There are two ways to write a paragraph, first, there is the point by point paragraph and there is the blocked paragraph. In the point by point, writing back and forth between the two subjects. First, talking about topic A. then talk about topic B., then right back to topic A. and so on. Finally, the block paragraph only discusses one topic and then finishes the paragraph with the other subject that is to be compared or contrasted with the first. Then the conclusion puts what your comparing or contrasting together.

Building the Human City John F. Kane, 2016-03-30 Building the Human City is a first overview of the award winning yet quite diverse works of Jesuit philosopher William F

Lynch Writing from the 1950s to the mid 1980s Lynch was among the first to warn against the fierce polarizations prevalent in our culture wars and political life He called for a transformation of artistic and intellectual sensibilities and imaginations through the healing discernments and critical ironies of an Ignatian and Socratic spirituality Yet the breadth of his concerns from cinema and literature to mental health and hope to secularization and faith as well as the depth of his thought philosophical as much as theological led to little initial awareness of the overall vision uniting his writings This book while exploring that vision also argues that the spirituality Lynch proposes is more needed today than when he first wrote

Longacre,2013-11-21 In that The Anatomy of Speech Notions 1976 was the precursor to The Grammar of Discourse 1983 this revision embodies a third edition of some of the material that is found here The original intent of the 1976 volume was to construct a hierarchical arrangement of notional categories which find surface realization in the grammatical constructions of the various languages of the world The idea was to marshal the categories that every analyst regardless of theoretical bent had to take account of as cognitive entities The volume began with a couple of chapters on what was then popularly known as case grammar then expanded upward and downward to include other notional categories on other levels Chapters on discourse monologue and dialogue were buried in the center of the volume In the 1983 volume the chapters on monologue and dialogue discourse were moved to the fore of the book and the chapters on case grammar were made less prominent the volume was then renamed The Grammar of Discourse The current revision features more clearly than its predecessors the intersection of discourse and pragmatic concerns with grammatical structures on various levels It retains and expands much of the former material but includes new material reflecting current advances in such topics as salience cline for discourse rhetorical relations paragraph structures transitivity ergativity agency hierarchy and word order typologies
