Direct Action In British Environmentalism:

Direct Action in British Environmentalism Brian Doherty, Matthew Paterson, Benjamin Seel, 2002-11 Direct Action in British Environmentalism is the fullest scholarly analysis available of this phenomenon It is essential reading for students of politics and environmental studies Community Gardening as Social Action Claire Nettle, 2016-05-23 There has been a resurgence of community gardening over the past decade with a wide range of actors seeking to get involved from health agencies aiming to increase fruit and vegetable consumption to radical social movements searching for symbols of non capitalist ways of relating and occupying space Community gardens have become a focal point for local activism in which people are working to contribute to food security question the erosion of public space conserve and improve urban environments develop technologies of sustainable food production foster community engagement and create neighbourhood solidarity Drawing on in depth case studies and social movement theory Claire Nettle provides a new empirical and theoretical understanding of community gardening as a site of collective social action This provides not only a more nuanced and complete understanding of community gardening but also highlights its potential challenges to notions of activism community democracy and culture Environmental Ethics and Behavioural Change Benjamin Franks, Stuart Hanscomb, Sean Johnston, 2017-12-14 Environmental Ethics and Behavioural Change takes a practical approach to environmental ethics with a focus on its transformative potential for students professionals policy makers activists and concerned citizens Proposed solutions to issues such as climate change resource depletion and accelerating extinctions have included technological fixes national and international regulation and social marketing This volume examines the ethical features of a range of communication strategies and technological political and economic methods for promoting ecologically responsible practice in the face of these crises The central concern of the book is environmental behaviour change inspiring informing and catalysing reflective change in the reader and in their ability to influence others By making clear the forms of environmental ethics that exist and what each implies in terms of individual and social change the reader will be better able to formulate commit to articulate and promote a coherent position on how to understand and engage with environmental issues This is an essential companion to environmental ethics and philosophy courses as well as a great resource for professionals interested in practical approaches to environmental ethics It is also excellent supplementary reading for environmental studies environmental politics and sustainable consumption courses Seeking Environmental Justice Sarah Wilks, 2008 Based on presentations made at the conference entitled Environmental Justice and Global Citizenship held in July 2006 at Oxford UK 14 papers consider environmental concerns against their social contexts Contributors address theories in environmental management as they pertain to society and to orientations in perverse ecologies the framework of sustainability including voluntary agreements and incentives class and conflict in environmental governance including the uses of effective conflict information management including the public debate on genetic modification and the differences between experts and laymen environmental activism education including environmental education in a course on ethics and international development and the effects of free trade corporate capitalism and empowerment of professionals on sustainability and international environmental law From Environmental Action to Ecoterrorism? Gerry

Nagtzaam,2017-01-27 This book scrutinizes the growth of the eco terrorism movement operating on a global scale focusing on the main groups and their more radical offshoots both historically and those currently active These include Earth First the Earth Liberation Front the Animal Liberation Front and the Sea Shepherd Conservation Society It critically examines how these groups form and how they have evolved their key personnel their strategies and tactics principles motivating philosophies and attitudes to violence Specifically the book seeks to understand whether such groups inevitably evolve from activists to militants to terrorists as the literature suggests Lastly it considers the future of such groups asking whether they will become more prominent as more people become ecologically aware and as global environmental conditions deteriorate or whether such groups have peaked as a force for environmental change Environmental Law Elizabeth Fisher,Bettina Lange,Eloise Scotford,2019 Environmental Law Text Cases and Materials offers a comprehensive critical and case focused approach to the subject combining insightful author commentary with carefully selected extracts to fully support students

Environmentalism, Resistance and Solidarity B. Doherty,T. Doyle,2013-10-16 Drawing from a rich mix of survey data interviews and access to internal meetings Brian Doherty and Timothy Doyle show how FoEI has developed a distinctive environmentalism which allows for the differences in context between regions and across the North South divide Politics and the Environment James Connelly,Graham Smith,David Benson,Clare Saunders,2003-09-02 Politics and the Environment has established itself as the most comprehensive textbook in this area This new edition has been completely revised and updated while retaining the features and theory to practice focus which made the first edition so successful The book is designed to introduce students to the key concepts and issues vital to the understanding of environmental problems and their political solutions The authors investigate the people movements and organizations involved in the shaping of environmental policy and the barriers hindering the development and introduction of successful solutions to environmental problems This new edition has been expanded to include a reorganized structure divided into three thematic sections a wide range of case studies from around the world at the end of each chapter more boxed examples and concepts further detail on ecological modernization an extended further reading list including useful websites Environmental Networks and

Social Movement Theory Clare Saunders,2013-06-06 Are environmentalists in Britain part of a transnational movement or are they tactically and ideologically distinct How can we understand the environmental movement within the context of social movement theory Based on detailed empirical research this is a penetrating analysis of the state of the environmental movement Environmental Protest in Western Europe Christopher Rootes,2003-12-11 The rise of environmentalism has been one of the more remarkable developments in the politics of western societies in recent decades However as environmental awareness has become more generalized the forms of expression of environmental concern have changed Established environmental movement organizations have become embedded in policy networks but in some countries there has been a resurgence of environmental radicalism New groups adopting innovative tactics have mounted spectacular and disruptive protests These developments pose interesting questions for social scientists and policy makers Has the institutionalization of established environmental organizations demobilized their supporters and reduced them to a passive credit card waving conscience constituency Has direct participation in environmental protest become the specialized activity of smaller numbers of people Has there been a decline in the total volume of environmental protest or is it merely that the forms of protest have changed Have the protest repertoires of established groups moderated over time or have they been stimulated by the emergence of more radical groups to adopt more challenging tactics Has environmental protest become more confrontational Do protests employ different repertoires of action according to the issues at stake How does the incidence of protest vary over time and from one country to another Is there evidence of a Europeanization of either the issues or the forms of environmental protest These are some of the questions this volume addresses Based upon an analysis of the protest events reported in one quality newspaper in each of eight countries during the ten years 1988 to 1997 this is the first systematically comparative study of environmental protest in a representative cross section of EU member states It breaks entirely new ground in the study of environmental politics in Europe and is a major contribution to the study of protest events

Environmental Movements in Minority and Majority Worlds Timothy Doyle, 2005 Environmental movements are among the most vibrant diverse and powerful social movements occurring today across all corners of the globe Drawing on his primary fieldwork in six countries environmental researcher Timothy Doyle argues that there is in fact no one global environmental movement rather there are many and the differences among them far outweigh their similarities

Environmental Citizenship Andrew Dobson, Derek Bell, 2006 A multidisciplinary consideration of how effective environmental citizenship can be in achieving sustainability with theoretical practical and ethnographic perspectives

Biodivinity and Biodiversity Emma Tomalin, 2016-04-15 This book is concerned with the argument that religious traditions are inherently environmentally friendly Yet in a developing country such as India the majority of people cannot afford to put the Earth first regardless of the extent to which this idea can be supported by their religious traditions Does this mean that the linking of religion and environmental concerns is a strategy more suited to contexts where people have a level of material security that enables them to think and act like environmentalists This question is approached through a series of case studies from Britain and India The book concludes that there is a tension between the romantic ecological discourse common among many western activists and scholars and a more pragmatic approach which is often found in India The adoption of environmental causes by the Hindu Right in India makes it difficult to distinguish genuine concern for the environment from the broader politics surrounding the idea of a Hindu rashtra nation This raises a further level of analysis which has not been provided in other studies Ideas and Actions in the Green Movement Brian Doherty, 2005-07-05 The Western green movement has grown rapidly in the last three decades green ministers are in government in several European countries Greenpeace has millions of paying supporters and green direct action against roads GM crops the WTO and neo liberalism have become ubiquitous The author argues that greens share a common ideological framework but are divided over strategy Using social movement theory and drawing on research from many countries he shows how the green movement became more differentiated over time as groups had to face the task of deciding what kind of action was appropriate In the breadth of its coverage and its novel focus on the relationship between green ideas and action this book makes an important contribution to the understanding of green politics Handbook of Political Citizenship and Social Movements Hein-Anton van der Heijden, 2014-10-31 This Handbook uniquely collates the results of several decades of academic research in these two important fields The expert contributions successively address the different forms of political citizenship and current approaches and recent development Tribal Play Kevin Young, Michael Atkinson, 2008-04-08 Traceable as far back as the work of the path breaking Chicago School of Sociology in the 1920s and 1930s subculture and counterculture have long been conceptual staples of the discipline This collection includes 16 readings on aspects of sub community life in sport that showcases the breadth and depth of sport subcultural research Modern Studies in Property Law - Volume 8 Warren Barr, 2015-08-27 This book contains a collection of peer reviewed papers presented at the Tenth Biennial Modern Studies in Property Law Conference held at the University of Liverpool in April 2014 It is the eighth volume to be published under the name of the Conference The Conference and its published proceedings have become an established forum for property lawyers from around the world to showcase current research in the discipline This collection reflects the diversity and contemporary relevance of modern research in property law Incorporating a keynote address by Sir John Mummery retired Lord Justice of Appeal on Property in the Information Age a number of chapters consider the contribution of property law to issues central to the human condition the home health and death Other papers illustrate an enduring need to question and explore fundamental concepts of the subject as well as to consider the challenges of reforming the law Collectively the chapters demonstrate the vibrancy and importance of property law in dealing with modern concerns across the common law world Acting Locally Christopher Rootes, 2013-10-18 Local campaigns are the most persistent and ubiquitous forms of environmental contention National and transnational mobilisations come and go and the attention they receive from mass media ebbs and flows but local campaigns persist The persistence or re emergence of local campaigns is also a reminder that it remain possible to mobilise people around environmental issues and they have often served as sources of innovation in and re invigoration of national organisations that have allegedly been co opted by the powerful and incorporated into the established political and administrative system But local environmental campaigns have been relatively neglected in the scientific literature Drawing on examples from Britain France Greece Ireland and Italy this book seeks to redress that neglect by examining the networks among actors and organisations that connect local mobilizations to the larger environmental movement and political systems the ways in which local disputes are framed in order to connect with national and global issues and the persistent impacts of the peculiarities of place upon environmental campaigns This book was previously published as a special issue of Environmental Politics Environmental Law: Text, Cases & Materials Elizabeth Fisher,Bettina Lange,Eloise Scotford,2013-04-25 This new title offers a compact and complete resource for students featuring extracts from leading cases and articles alongside clear explanations and insightful analysis from an experienced author team This unique approach places environmental law in context enabling you to develop a clear and sophisticated understanding of this dynamic area Christopher Rootes,2003 Based upon an analysis of the protest events reported in one quality newspaper in each of eight countries during the ten years 1988 to 1997 this is the first systematically comparative study of environmental protest in a representative cross section of EU member states It breaks entirely new ground in the study of environmental politics in Europe and is a major contribution to the study of protest events
