Higher Education in the BRICS Countries Simon Schwartzman, Rómulo Pinheiro, Pundy Pillay, 2015-03-24 In spite of the increasing attention attributed to the rise in prominence of the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa countries few studies have looked at the ways in which broader social expectations with respect to the role of higher education across the BRICS have changed or not in recent years Our point of departure is that contrary to the conventional wisdom focusing on functionalistic perspectives higher education systems are not just designed by governments to fulfill certain functions but have a tendency for evolving in a rather unpredictable fashion as a result of the complex interplay between a number of internal and external factors In reality national higher education systems develop and change according to a complex process that encompasses the expectations of governmental agencies markets the aspirations of the population for the benefits of education the specific institutional traditions and cultures of higher education institutions and increasingly so the interests and strategies of the private firms entering and offering services in the higher education market This basically means that it is of outmost importance to move away from conceiving of universities or higher education as single monolithic actors or sector One way of doing this is by investigating a selected number of distinct but nonetheless interrelated factors or drivers which taken together help determine the nature and scope of the social compact between higher education its core actors and institutions and society at large government industry local communities professional associations Career Guide ,2001 Settling for Less Michael Cosser,Jacques Du Toit,Mariette Visser,2004 This study gives statistical and evidential illustration to what influences student choices and behavioral patterns as well as trends in the youth market in South Africa South Africa-Netherlands Research Programme on Alternatives in Development Ria Brouwers,Bennie A. Khoapa,2005

Umrabulo ,2001 Higher Education ICT Integration in Africa Ke Yu,Reuben Dlamini,2024-08-21 This multidisciplinary edited volume examines higher educations ICT integration in Africa contributing a new and inclusive change readiness framework to better understand how to manage ICT or other technological disruptions in resource restrained contexts Tackling ICT incorporation in HEIs from different levels chapters document case studies from countries such as Uganda South Africa Rwanda Eswatini and Zimbabwe to demonstrate both the complexity of integration but also the successes it has enabled and under which conditions The cases included in this book also exhibit better incorporation of both change content and process while some cases also make explicit reference to other technology adoption models Ultimately the book highlights conceptual and empirical research to inform practices and policy development in Africa improving multi level success or change readiness in ICT incorporation in HEIs in Africa Addressing various gaps in existing literature and proposing innovative solutions like the multilevel change readiness model this book will therefore be of interest to scholars researchers and academics in the fields of higher education ICT integration and educational technology more broadly The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Sociology in South Africa R. Sooryamoorthy,2016-08-13 This book is the first comprehensive account of the history and current state of South African sociology Providing a holistic picture of the subject both as it is taught in universities and as a field of research it reveals the trajectories of a discipline in a challenging socio political context With the support of historical and scientometric data it demonstrates how the changing political situation from colonialism to apartheid to democracy has influenced the nature direction and foci of sociological research in the country The author shows how during the apartheid era sociology was professionally fragmented and divided along language and race lines It was however able to flourish with the advent of democracy in 1994 and has become a unique academic movement This insightful work will appeal to students and scholars of the social sciences and all those interested in the history and society of South Africa The Business of Higher Education Mahlubi Mabizela,2005 Publisher Description Serving Higher Purposes Ihron Rensburg,2020-11-05 Universities of the 21st century and beyond must be about teaching learning research excellence creativity and innovation as much as they must be about enabling the destiny of students communities and nations to realize their potential UJ succeeded in her vision and responsibilities to transform the divisions prejudices and limitations that often restrain the advancement of society The story of UJ s transition to an inclusive diverse dynamic bold and purposeful institution of learning demands to be read by everyone South African African and beyond It is a story of how to be an object rather than the subject of history while dynamically shaping our shared futures laying a solid foundation for future generations to be advocates and architects for social change and cohesion It is a story of courageous and visionary leadership The book offers our nation profound lessons in leadership that should enrich all our efforts to transform institutions in a sustainable way to play a meaningful role in building ONE NATION DR WENDY LUHABE Economic Activist Social Entrepreneur First Chancellor of the University of Johannesburg
