Justice of the Peace and Local Government Review ,1929 The Legal Framework of EU-China Investment Relations Wenhua Shan, 2005-10-21 EU investment in China has increased dramatically since the early 1990s and is poised to increase further in light of Chinas recent accession to the World Trade Organisation This book explores and critically appraises the existing legal framework governing EU China investment relations particularly EU investment in China The current legal framework is composed of Chinese law EU law and applicable international law but the Chinese law is unsystematic and hard to discover and the EU has acquired only shared external investment competence which is vaguely defined The applicable international treaties are incomplete incoherent or either too general or too specialised Besides this the international fora to settle investment disputes are still not readily available Furthermore while law has played a very important role in decision making by EU investors the Chinese legal system is generally perceived as ineffective and lacking in effective enforcement of court and arbitration decisions What the book demonstrates is that the time is ripe for a new international legal framework for foreign investment in China and that as EU China economic and political relations continue to improve construction of such a framework is not only necessary but also possible

The International Law on Foreign Investment M. Sornarajah, 2010-05-06 Given recent seismic upheavals in the world's money markets an updated edition of an authoritative reliable textbook on the international law of foreign investment has rarely been so timely Sornarajah's classic text surveys how international law has developed to protect foreign investments by multinational actors and to control any misconduct on their part It analyses treaty based methods examining the effectiveness of bilateral and regional investment treaties It also considers the reverse flow of investments from emerging industrialising powers such as China and Brazil and explores the retreat from market oriented economics to regulatory controls By offering thought provoking analysis of not only the law but related developments in economics and political sciences Sornarajah gives immediacy and relevance to the discipline This book is required reading for all postgraduate and undergraduate international law students specialising in the law of foreign investments
