

Important:

- Storing the watch for long periods in an area where there is no light or wearing it in such a way that it is blocked from exposure to light can cause rechargeable battery power to run down. Be sure that the watch is normally exposed to bright light whenever possible.
- This watch employs a solar cell that converts light into electricity that charges a built-in rechargeable battery. Normally, the rechargeable battery should not need replacement, but after very long use over a number of years, the rechargeable battery may lose its ability to achieve a full charge. Should you notice problems with getting the rechargeable battery to a full charge, contact your dealer or CASIO distributor about having the rechargeable battery replaced.
- The rechargeable battery should be replaced with a CASIO-specified CTL1618 battery only. Other rechargeable batteries can cause damage to the watch.
- All data stored in memory is deleted, and the current time and all other settings return to their initial factory defaults whenever battery power drops to Level 4 and when you have the battery replaced.
- Turn on the watch's Power Saving function and keep it in an area normally exposed to bright light when storing it for long periods. This helps to keep the rechargeable battery from going dead.

Battery Power Indicator

The battery power indicator on the display shows you the current status of the rechargeable battery's power.

Level	Battery Power Indicator	Function Status
1	Module 2608 2638 2688	All functions enabled.
2		All functions enabled.
3		Sleeper tone, backlight, calibration signal reception, display, and buttons are disabled.
4	Charge Soon-Alert	All functions, including Timekeeping, are disabled.

- The Level 3 charge warning indicator tells you that battery power is very low, and that exposure to bright light for charging is required as soon as possible.
- At Level 4, all functions are disabled and settings return to their initial factory defaults. Functions are enabled once again after the rechargeable battery is charged, but you need to set the time and date after the battery reaches Level 3 from Level 4. You will not be able to configure any of the other settings until the battery reaches Level 2 after dropping to Level 4.
- Leaving the watch in direct sunlight or some other very strong light source can cause the battery power indicator to temporarily show a reading that is actually higher than the battery level. The correct battery power indicator should appear after a few minutes.
- If you use the backlight or the alarm a number of times during a short period, the receiver indicator (RECEIVER) appears on the display and the following operations become disabled until battery power recovers.
 - Backlight
 - Sleeper tone
 - Calibration reception
 After some time, battery power will recover and the receiver indicator (RECEIVER) will disappear, indicating that the above functions are enabled again.

Charging Precautions

Certain charging conditions can cause the watch to become very hot. Avoid leaving the watch in the areas described below whenever charging its rechargeable battery. Also note that allowing the watch to become very hot can cause its liquid crystal display to black out. The appearance of the LCD should become normal again when the watch returns to a lower temperature.

Warning!

Leaving the watch in bright light to charge its rechargeable battery can cause it to become quite hot. Take care when handling the watch to avoid burn injury. The watch can become particularly hot when exposed to the following conditions for long periods.

- On the dashboard of a car parked in direct sunlight.
- Too close to an incandescent lamp.
- Under direct sunlight.

Charging Guide

After a full charge, timekeeping remains enabled for up to about six months, while the watch is used under the conditions described below.

Operating Conditions

- Watch is not exposed to light
- Display on 18 hours per day, sleep state 8 hours per day
- 1 backlight operation (1.5 seconds per day)
- 10 seconds of alarm operation per day
- 4 times calibration reception per day

Charge Times

Exposing the watch to light for the periods shown below each day restores the power used by the above operating conditions.

Exposure Level (Brightness)	Approximate Exposure Time
Outdoor Sunlight (50,000 lux)	5 minutes
Sunlight through a Window (10,000 lux)	24 minutes
Daylight through a Window on a Cloudy Day (5,000 lux)	48 minutes
Indoor Fluorescent Lighting (500 lux)	8 hours

- Stable operation is promoted by frequent charging.

Recovery Times

This table below shows the amount exposure that is required to take the battery from one level to the next.

Exposure Level (Brightness)	Approximate Exposure Time
	Level 4	Level 3	Level 2	Level 1
Outdoor Sunlight (50,000 lux)	5 hours	14 hours	3 hours
Sunlight through a Window (10,000 lux)	5 hours	26 hours	54 hours
Daylight through a Window on a Cloudy Day (5,000 lux)	5 hours	143 hours	28 hours
Indoor Fluorescent Lighting (500 lux)	57 hours

- The above exposure time values are all for reference only. Actual required exposure times depend on lighting conditions.

Timekeeping

Use the Timekeeping Mode to set and view the current time and date. This section also explains how to manually set the current date and time.

- The watch is equipped with a Time Recorder feature that lets you record the current Home City time (month, day, hour, minutes, seconds, and DST on/off setting) with the touch of a button. See "To record a Time Recorder time" for more information.
- All of the operations in this section are performed in the Timekeeping Mode, which you can enter by pressing (C).

Setting the Time and Date Manually

Make sure you select your Home City code before you change the current time and date settings. World Time Mode times are all displayed in accordance with the Timekeeping Mode settings.
