Ecclesial Leadership as Friendship Chloe Lynch,2019-03-01 When it comes to talking about the activity of directing the church the language of leadership and leaders is increasingly popular Yet what is leadership and how might theological narratives better resource the discourse and practice of leadership in ecclesial contexts In identifying and critiquing managerialism as a dominant narrative of leadership in the Western church this book calls for an alternative approach founded on the concept of friendship Engaging with the wider field of leadership studies the book establishes an understanding of leadership activity and brings it into conversation with an incarnational ecclesiology The result is a prophetic reimagining of ecclesial leadership in terms of a relational kenotic praxis This praxis of mutuality and love is framed here in the rich language of Christian friendship The book also wrestles deeply with the embodiment of such a praxis making explicit the power behaviours typical of friendship leadership and offering constructive guidance for practitioners in the task of implementation within a complex and fractured world This book offers a new vision of the centrality of friendship to leadership of a healthy church community As such it will be of great use to scholars of practical theology ecclesiology and leadership as well as practitioners in church ministry

An Introduction to Christian Ethics Alberto de Mingo Kaminouchi,2020-10-20 2021 Catholic Media Association Award first place award in morality ethics christology mariology and redemption What does it mean to live and build up the Kingdom of God In this book professor and priest Alberto de Mingo Kaminouchi introduces the contemporary reader to Christian ethics by examining the New Testament through the three key concepts of Aristotle s ethics happiness virtue and love In turn the three affirmations orient this reflection through the Gospel First when the triune God appears on the horizon it becomes easier to understand that existence has a purpose namely participating with the entire human family in this project of happiness called the Kingdom of God Second happiness is not something outside of us it consists in the practice of the virtues that bring about a personal transformation Third the project of the Kingdom leads us to live in love with others De Mingo Kaminouchi shows the reader a real model of this in the community we call the church the field hospital for all those in need of hope This book is accessibly written for readers not already well versed in Christian ethics

Through the Iron Curtain Silvia Scatena,Dietrich Sagert,2023-12-04 The history of the intertwined relationships woven by the Taiz Community amongst Christians of Eastern European countries in the second half of the last century has not yet been written Yet it is a fundamental chapter for understanding the unique international influence of the community The encounter with the different faces of a Christian youth beyond the Iron Curtain who in Taiz had their first experience of a unified European space was to become one of the main directions of the community's effort from the early 1960s The contributions of this volume intend to throw a first light on this story relying on a completely unpublished documentation and on the testimony of many protagonists involved in the construction of this unique continental and ecumenical network

Reconsidering Intellectual Disability Jason Reimer Greig, 2015-08-18 Drawing on the controversial case of Ashley X a girl with severe developmental disabilities who received interventionist medical treatment to limit her growth and keep her body forever small a procedure now known as the Ashley Treatment Reconsidering Intellectual Disability explores important questions at the intersection of disability theory Christian moral theology and bioethics What are the biomedical boundaries of acceptable treatment for those not able to give informed consent Who gets to decide when a patient cannot communicate their desires and needs Should we accept the dominance of a form of medicine that identifies those with intellectual impairments as pathological objects in need of the normalizing bodily manipulations of technological medicine In a critical exploration of contemporary disability theory Jason Reimer Greig contends that L Arche a federation of faith communities made up of people with and without intellectual disabilities provides an alternative response to the predominant bioethical worldview that sees disability as a problem to be solved Reconsidering Intellectual Disability shows how a focus on Christian theological tradition's moral thinking and practice of friendship with God offers a way to free not only people with intellectual disabilities but all people from the objectifying gaze of modern medicine L Arche draws inspiration from Jesus's solidarity with the least of these and a commitment to Christian friendship that sees people with profound cognitive disabilities not as anomalous objects of pity but as fellow friends of God This vital act of social recognition opens the way to understanding the disabled not as objects to be fixed but as teachers whose lives can transform others and open a new way of being human Life on the Edge Brother John of Taizé, 2017-10-26 Is the Christian faith something that can peacefully exist alongside all the other aspects of an ordinary human life or does it by its very nature turn that life into something else The author of this book a member of a monastic community for over forty years obviously has a vested interest in the answer But even for believers caught up in the day to day life of society work and family the question is an important one at least if they are seeking a measure of consistency in the life they are living And does not the very fact that the question of the importance and urgency of faith needs to be asked witness to the eclipse of an eschatological outlook among Christians at any rate in the mainstream Churches Could this oversight not explain why an eschatological understanding of faith one which sees it as a radical world changing reality has been forced to take refuge often deformed to the point of being unrecognizable in small fanatical groups on the margins of the Christian world

Practicing Faith Lisa Spriggins, Tim Meadowcroft, 2022-05-17 The integration of theology and social vocation invites scholars and practitioners to reach outside their discipline and into relationship with others Out of these relationships new ways of enacting faith and informing practice can emerge This book brings together a collection of essays engaging with the integration of theology and social vocation Designed to reflect and invite dialogue these authors engage with the relationship between faith and practice as it is expressed in their own area of interest and speciality Arranged in five themed dialogues wellbeing formation hospitality therapy and theology each essay reflects the unique dynamics of its author s integrative process and offers something new to the ongoing conversation between theology and social vocation This set of essays will be of interest to practitioners and students concerned to infuse their faith with their practice of vocation to develop a practicing faith

Faith Seeking Conviviality Samuel E. Ewell, 2019-12-30 Faith Seeking Conviviality traces the journey of a U S missionary into Brazil and beyond seeking to be faithfully present while also questioning the default settings of good intentions Taking Ivan Illich as the primary theological guide on that journey Faith Seeking Conviviality narrates the discovery of a renewed imagination for Christian mission that arises as a response to two persistent questions First given the colonial history of Christian missionary expansion on what basis do we go on fulfilling the Great Commission Matt 28 16 20 as Christ s disciples A second question intimately related to the first is What makes it possible to embody a distinctively Christian presence that is missionary without being manipulative In doing theology with and after Ivan Illich Faith Seeking Conviviality does not offer a pull off the shelf model for mission but rather a framework for embodying the incarnational logic of mission that entails a convivial turn delinking missionary discipleship from the lure of techniques and institutional dependence in order to receive and to share the peace of Christ relationally

Path of the Purified Heart Laura Dunham, 2012-02-01 Path of the Purified Heart traces the classic Christian spiritual journey toward transformation into the likeness of Christ in a unique fascinating way Drawing on the voices of wise elders from the past and present Dunham illumines the common path all Christians and spiritual seekers may take toward union with God Through the motifs of the liturgical year and the labyrinth the author weaves in her own journey on this path during her year of purification
