From Celibate Catholic Priest to Married Protestant Minister Stephen Joseph Fichter, 2016-11-14 From Celibate Catholic Priest to Married Protestant Minister Shepherding in Greener Pastures describes a previously unstudied population of celibate Catholic priests who left the priesthood and eventually became married Protestant ministers Stephen Fichter alternates from narrative to descriptive as he follows the lives of three of his study participants before during and after their dual transition The descriptive sections include a history of religiously motivated celibacy and a review of the four leading forerunners in the field of Catholic clergy research This scholarly study is the first time that these transitional clerics have candidly explained their difficult journeys of discernment Religion love loss and commitment are all analyzed in the context of this unique group of men and the profiles in this book are memorable not only for the richness of their content but also and maybe most importantly for their humanity Lessons can be drawn for all people especially those who have ever suffered a mid life crisis

Shepherding in Greener Pastures Stephen Joseph Fichter, 2009 Since the late 1960s roughly one quarter of Roman Catholic priests in America have resigned motivated mainly by a desire to marry While several sociologists e g Fichter Greeley Hoge and Schoenherr have studied the motivations and actions of resigned priests who usually maintain their Catholic identity and take up some form of non pastoral employment after their transition this research seeks to describe a never before studied subgroup that chose to re focus their lives towards Protestant ministry The research offices of the five mainline Protestant Churches Congregational Episcopal Lutheran Methodist Presbyterian identified 414 such ministers of whom 32 percent chose to participate All 133 respondents completed a 12 page survey either by anonymous return mail or during a telephone or a face to face interview The analysis plan designed to answer the four research questions outlined below consisted of three parts 1 a detailed reporting on the frequencies of the principal variables 2 a series of cross tabulations and 3 several multivariate regression models The first major finding confirmed that marriage was their main motivator The distinction between those who followed their heart as opposed to those who followed their head highlighted the fact that both emotion and intellect had a role to play Although one could get the impression by listening to their retrospective narratives only that both head and heart had equal pull analyzing their concrete actions revealed that most followed their hearts first by marrying before switching affiliation Results from the second research question revealed a definite period effect that can be traced back to the conclusion of the Second Vatican Council The third line of inquiry verified the link between parental support for the transition and current levels of satisfaction with the added nuance that such a correlation is stronger among former diocesan priests than it is among religious priests Finally results from the fourth research question support the hypothesis that the obligations of marriage limit the number of hours that a minister can dedicate to his flock These greener pastures shepherds follow a work schedule that is more similar to their current denomination s average than it is to the Catholic priest model

Keeping the Vow Donald Paul Sullins,2016 Based on one hundred fifteen interviews augmented by biographical survey and historical research Keeping the Vow tells the story of married priests and their wives their unusual and difficult journey from Anglicanism and their life in the Catholic Church The book combines personal narratives and sociological analysis to provide a clear view of the priesthood s collective features and discusses the implications of the married priesthood for the future of the Church

A Lost Shepherd Michael E. Ripple,Ripple. Michael E.,2012 The author shares his personal journey from ordained Roman Catholic priest next leaving the church marrying his wife and practicing as an Episcopal priest to his eventual return to the Catholic church

My Call to Priesthood Ronald Eberley,2006-01-26 A personal story of one married Roman Catholic male s attempt to become a priest This is the story of Ron Eberley s so far futile effort to become a married priest It is also a clear account of the chequered history and tortuous theology of mandatory celibacy

Drawn from Shadows Into Truth Ray Ryland,2013 Autobiographical narrative of the author s spiritual pilgrimage from an Oklahoma farm boy to a naval officer to a Protestant minister to a married Catholic priest

Married to a Catholic Priest Mary Vincent Dally,1988

Thomas the Doubter Thomas Frank Christian,2019-01-05 This is the story of Thomas Frank Christian the doubter He was brought up on a farm and influenced by his local pastor he enters the minor seminary at the age of thirteen to study to become a Roman Catholic priest We follow him through some ups and downs into the major seminary where he is sexually attacked by his roommate Tom goes on to be ordained He serves six years in suburban parishes and spends many hours working with juveniles and adults who are in trouble with the law He also begins to question many of the requirements of his church Some of the questions turn into doubts and he looks seriously at the need for obligatory celibacy In his ecumenical contacts with married ministers and rabbis he decides there is no justifiable reason not to be married and have a family He goes to the archbishop and tells him he is ready to leave the priesthood He gives the archbishop six months notice Tom goes through a difficult documented process to leave the priesthood but eventually Pope Paul VI grants his release to become a layman A week after resigning he starts a career in the field of criminal justice as a probation counselor He spends thirty five years working in three states writes three books in his field and mediates victim and offender cases on 48 Hours HBO and National Public Radio Tom is married in a private ceremony to prevent scandal He and his wife have three children and five grandchildren In 2019 they celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary The book ends with a series of questions and doubts about modern day religion
