Flood Waters Devastate City

Five Lives Lost, Four Still Missing

Crapping flood waters swept through Albany and Shackelford County Thursday night, causing a, leaving five dead, four missing and causing over an estimated $25 million damage to property caught in its path.

Lethal dead by the devastating current were: Wayne L. White Jr., 40, Nevada Fore-Wright, 226 Adams Richard Drive, 4 months; Vernon W. Williamson, 62; and Nancy Ann Cooper, 34, all of Albany.

Those still missing and presumed dead were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ray, North Main Street and M. W. "Coke" Mills, all of Albany.

The flood struck Thursday evening after a day of heavy rain throughout the county and several counties to the northwest. The official amount of rainfall measured at 29.03 inches over a 27 hour period. Parts of the county reported amounts as high as 32 inches for the same period. The average annual yearly rainfall for Shackelford County is 28.57.

The Department of Public Safety, local law enforcement officers and National Guard troops conducted organized search parties starting Friday morning, August 4. All of the five bodies recovered were found during the first day of the search.

Officials called off the search and rescue operations Monday afternoon, according to DIPS Sergeant R. D. Welch. The area supervisor stated, "We simply can't justify the amount of equipment and personnel to run this as we have. All of the ground has been covered on foot at least once - some parts several times." He added that the search is still continuing but on a much level with the individual land owners checking his own property.

Damage to personal property has tentatively been set at $15 million. The Corps of Engineers set a $4.2 million figure for damages to personal property within the city limits of Albany. This includes homes, businesses and vehicles.

The department of agriculture set the county's agricultural losses at $3.5 million. "The main thing that will affect us in the future is the loss of topsoil," commented County Agent Law. (See O.N. pg. 20)

Flood waters sweep a path along North Spring Creek on the south end of Albany Thursday night, August 3, taking along with it numerous homes, mobile homes, vehicles and other personal property. Five lives were lost in one flooding, with four people still reported missing. Officials estimate over $25 million damage within the county. (Staff Photo)

Heavy Damages Inflicted Upon Businesses, Lengthy Recovery Procedures Expected

Owners of businesses within the Albany city limits have begun recovery procedures to determine the extent of losses and damages to their property, according to Alton executive director Johnny Hixley, who as a member of the Civil Defense team has tentatively estimated the number of businesses affected by the flood waters.

Many have listed heavy losses with major damage done to existing buildings and equipment, including Black Well Service, Inc. and Bulk Cement Dept., whose yard lies along the North Spring Creek on Highway 180. According to Rena Mae Black, wife of owner Bill Black, replacement costs of lost and damaged equipment and buildings may be as much as $225,000 to $250,000.

"There's no way to make an accurate estimate right now," said Mrs. Black. "We lost several major items, two pickups, two trailers, a small shop building and everything in it. We're three pump jacks, a new diesel truck, and a bulk truck. The cement tower was full of water. In fact, we had just loaded it Thursday morning with 900 sacks of cement. Just on the Friday loss, our pulling machine turned over into the pit, and two tank batteries were moved.

Right now, the crew is trying to clean out the tower and get the yard in some kind of order so we can get back in business. We think we can offer at least partial recovery starting in about two weeks."

After registering major losses to Big Country Store Co. on the Board Highway, "I'd guess damages at around $200,000," said (See Local, pg. 4)

One-Stop Disaster Relief Center Opened For Flood Victims

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration along with other relief agencies set up a one-stop center at the Youth Center Monday, August 7, to help coordinate relief programs for flood victims in Shackelford County.

The Center's coordinator, Jack Simpson, explained the importance of coming in and registering.

Simpson stated, "We come in after the President has declared a county a disaster area and set up our own set. It's a agency connected with relief is represented." This provides a more simple way for those affected to apply for the different programs.

The Small Business Administration is providing personal loans for amounts up to $250,000 at low interest rates and with extended payback period to those who qualify.

After the Relief Center leaves the SBA will be located at the depot for about the next 60 days. Center manager, George R. "Pinky" Vineyard commented on (See 349 Victims, pg. 5)
