Collected Stories John Barth, 2015-10-30 When John Barth's Lost in the Funhouse appeared in 1968 American fiction was turned on its head. Barth's writing was not a response to the realistic fiction that characterized American literature at the time; it beckoned back to the founders of the novel Cervantes Rabelais and Sterne, echoing their playfulness and reflecting the freedom inherent in the writing of fiction. This collection of Barth's short fiction is a landmark event, bringing all of his previous collections together in one volume for the first time. Its occasion helps readers assess a remarkable lifetime's work and represents an important chapter in the history of American literature. Dalkey Archive will reissue a number of Barth's novels over the next few years, preserving his work for generations to come.

Telling Stories Lee Martin, 2017-10

A prolific and award winning writer Lee Martin has put pen to paper to offer his wisdom honed during thirty years of teaching the oh so elusive art of writing. Telling Stories is intended for anyone interested in thinking more about the elements of storytelling in short stories, novels, and memoirs. Martin clearly delineates helpful and practical techniques for demystifying the writing process and provides tools for perfecting the art of the scene, characterization, detail, point of view, language, and revision in short: the art of writing. His discussion of the craft in his own life draws from experiences, memories, and stories to provide a more personal perspective on the elements of writing. Martin provides encouragement by sharing what he's learned from his journey through frustrations, challenges, and successes. Most important, Telling Stories emphasizes that you are not alone on this journey and that writers must remain focused on what they love: the process of moving words on the page. By focusing on that purpose, Martin contends, the journey will always take you where you're meant to go.

Fixing Stories Noah Amir Arjomand, 2022-02-17 News fixers are translators and guides who assist foreign journalists. Sometimes key contributors to bold original reporting and other times key facilitators of homogeneity and groupthink in the news media, they play the difficult but powerful role of broker between worlds, shaping the creation of knowledge from behind the scenes. In Fixing Stories, Noah Amir Arjomand reflects on the nature of news production and cross-cultural mediation. Based on human stories drawn from three years of field research in Turkey, this book unfolds as a series of narratives of fixers' career trajectories during a period when the international media spotlight shone on Turkey and Syria. From the Syrian Civil War, Gezi Park protest movement, rise of authoritarianism in Turkey, and of ISIS in Syria to the rekindling of conflict in both countries, Kurdish regions, and Turkey's 2016 coup attempt, Arjomand brings to light vivid personal accounts and insider perspectives on world-shaking events alongside analysis of the role fixers have played in bringing news of Turkey and Syria to international audiences.

DIY Programming and Book Displays Amanda Catherine Struckmeyer, Svetha Hetzler, 2010-09-13 This manual guides librarians in creating simple, affordable, ready-to-use activities for children, tweens, teens, and families, with enough material for a full year of programs. Do It Yourself Programming is an emerging model in which the librarian does the preparation, then lets patrons take over. DIY Programming and Book Displays: How to Stretch Your Programming without Stretching Your Budget and Staff makes it easy for librarians to institute such programs in their own facilities. Organized around 12 thematic chapters, the book explains how to set up and maintain a do-it-yourself station and offers instructions for a variety of year activities. Reproducible materials and booklists are included as well. Librarians may use the activities as starting points for generating their own ideas, or they may simply photocopy materials in the book for ready-to-use monthly DIY programming. Once set up, the DIY station is available to patrons anytime they are in the library. Best of all, because DIY programs do not rely on staff space or special materials, they allow libraries to make the most of their resources without sacrificing patron service.
