Prince, 2021-07-16 Vivid images of the apocalypse proliferate throughout contemporary cinema which pictures the death of civilization in wildly different ways Some films imagine a future where humanity is wiped out entirely while others envision humans as an endangered species enslaved by alien invaders or hunted by zombie hordes This book provides a lively overview of apocalypse cinema including alien invasions nuclear annihilation asteroid collisions climate change and terrifying plagues Covering pivotal films from the silent era to the present day including Metropolis Invasion of the Body Snatchers Dr Strangelove Contagion and Avengers Endgame Stephen Prince explores how these dark visions are rooted in religious and prophetic traditions and he considers how our love for apocalypse cinema is tied to fundamental existential questions and anxieties that never go out of fashion

The Child in Post-Apocalyptic Cinema Debbie Olson, 2015-03-06 The child in many post apocalyptic films occupies a unique space within the narrative a space that oscillates between death and destruction faith and hope The Child in Post Apocalyptic Cinema interrogates notions of the child as a symbol of futurity and also loss By exploring the ways children function discursively within a dystopian framework we may better understand how and why traditional notions of childhood are repeatedly tethered to sites of adult conflict and disaster a connection that often functions to reaffirm the rightness of past systems of social order This collection features critical articles that explore the role of the child character in post apocalyptic cinema including classic recent and international films approached from a variety of theoretical methodological and cultural perspectives

Screening Children in Post-apocalypse Film and Television Debbie Olson, 2023-11-16 This collection examines the child's role in contemporary post apocalyptic films and television By exploring the function of child characters within a dystopian framework this volume illustrates how traditional notions of childhood are tethered to sites of adult conflict and disaster a connection that often works to reaffirm the rightness of past systems of social order

Gender, Power, and Identity in The Films of Stanley Kubrick Karen A. Crystals Out of Chaos Lesley Marx, 1997 In this new study of the novels of John Hawkes author Lesley Marx has brought to light insights from the three novels Hawkes has published in the last ten years as well as from his other works According to Marx all three of these new novels continue to attest to the fertility of Hawkes's imagination and the fine crafting of his prose. But at least two of the new works Adventures in the Alaskan Skin Trade and Sweet William: A Memoir of Old Horse also reveal an expansive and transformative vision that celebrates the shifting and fluid possibilities of authority, writing, storytelling, and gender. Crisis Cinema Christopher Sharrett, 1993

After the end David L. Pike, 2024-04-09 After the End argues that the cultural imaginaries and practices of the Cold War continue to deeply shape the present in profound but largely unnoticed ways across the global North and in the global South. The argument draws examples from literature and literary criticism, film, music, the historical and social scientific record, and past and present physical sites to consider the bunker as a material form, an image, and as a fantasy that took shape in the global North in the 1960s and that spread globally into the twenty-first century. After the End reminds us not only that most of the world's peoples have lived with or died from apocalyptic conditions for centuries but that the Cold War imaginaries that grew from and fed those conditions continue to survive as well.

The Architecture of Survival Erik Trump, Jake Parcell, 2023-09-05 The Architecture of Survival: Setting and Politics in Apocalypse Films offers a compelling exploration of how popular films and TV series from the past two decades use architectural spaces to comment on socio-political issues. The authors harness varied theoretical perspectives to demonstrate how, through set design, these works suggest that certain kinds of architecture support human development, community, and freedom, while other kinds separate us from our fellow humans and make democratic politics impossible. The clean lines of modernist design serve in films such as Contagion and Ex Machina as a metaphor for the sanitized, sterile politics that drive disaster. In The Walking Dead, apocalypse survivors favor traditional architectural styles when rebuilding society, a choice that symbolically affirms their democratic principles. The massive walls and super-gentrification as seen in Elysium and Army of the Dead divide humanity, with those on one side wielding illegitimate power. Empty streetscapes intensify loneliness, alienation, and the destruction of civil norms. Smart cities offering a blend of high-tech surveillance and big data erode social capital and community in Her and Transcendence. The book concludes with a somewhat hopeful glimpse into architecture's potential to mitigate the catastrophic adverse effects of climate change as seen in films like Zootopia.

The Apocalypse and the Shape of Things to Come Frances Carey, 1999-01-01 The Book of Revelation's legacy of visual imagery is evaluated here from the 11th century to the end of World War 2, illuminated manuscripts, books, prints, and drawings of apocalyptic phases are examined.

Italian Political Cinema Mauro Resmini, 2023-01-03 An exploration of how film has made legible the Italian long 68 as a moment of crisis and transition. Traditionally, the definition of political cinema assumes a relationship between cinema and politics. In contrast to this view, author Mauro Resmini sees this relationship as an impasse. To illustrate this theory, Resmini turns to Italian cinema to explore how films have reinvented the link between popular art and radical politics in Italy from 1968 to the early 1980s, a period of intense political and cultural struggles also known as the long 68. Italian Political Cinema conjures a multifaceted, complex portrayal of Italian society. Centered on emblematic figures in Italian cinema it maps the currents of antagonism and repression that defined this period in the country's history Resmini explores how film imagined the possibilities obstacles and pitfalls that characterized the Italian long 68 as a moment of crisis and transition From workerism to autonomist Marxism to feminism this book further expands the debate on political cinema with a critical interpretation of influential texts some of which are currently only available in Italian A comprehensive and novel redefinition of political film Italian Political Cinema introduces its audience to lesser known directors alongside greats such as Pasolini Bertolucci Antonioni and Bellocchio Resmini offers access to untranslated work in Italian philosophy political theory and film theory and forcefully advocates for the continued artistic and political relevance of these films in our time

cinema and in the 1990s narratives of redemptive fatherhood featured prominently in some of the decade's most popular films like Kindergarten Cop 1990 Mrs Doubtfire 1993 Jurassic Park 1993 and The Lion King 1994 Interpreting such films through the lens of feminist and queer theory along with masculinity studies and psychoanalysis Katie Barnett offers an insightful and interdisciplinary discussion of cinematic fathers Barnett reveals that the father figure is often portrayed as one that invests in and is part of a discourse of reproductive futurism This plays out across a range of genres including rom coms fantasy sci fi drama and disaster By exploring both blockbuster and more low budget films of the 1990s Barnett explores the figure of the father against the crisis of masculinity in the United States and indeed more globally at this time

Post-Apocalyptic Patriarchy Carlen Lavigne, 2018-09-26 Twenty first century American television series such as Revolution Falling Skies The Last Ship and The Walking Dead have depicted a variety of doomsday scenarios nuclear cataclysm rogue artificial intelligence pandemic alien invasion or zombie uprising These scenarios speak to longstanding societal anxieties and contemporary calamities like 9 11 or the avian flu epidemic Questions about post apocalyptic television abound whose voices are represented What tomorrows are they most afraid of What does this tell us about the world we live in today The author analyzes these speculative futures in terms of gender race and sexuality revealing the fears and ambitions of a patriarchy in flux as exemplified by the return to a mythical American frontier where the white male hero fights for survival protects his family and crafts a new world order based on the old The End All Around Us John Walliss, Kenneth G.
