biopolymers Edited by experts in the field the book highlights international professionals longstanding experiences and addresses the requirements of practitioners and newcomers in this field in finding a solution to their problems The book brings together several natural polymers their extraction production and physio chemical features The topics covered in this book are biopolymers from renewable sources marine prokaryotes soy protein and humus oils biopolymer recycling chemical modifications and specific properties The book also focuses on the potential and diverse applications of biogenic and bio derived polymers The content includes industrial applications of natural polymeric molecules and applications in key areas such as material biomedical sensing packaging biomedicine and biotechnology and tissue engineering applications are discussed in detail The objective of this book is to fill the gap between the researchers working in the laboratory to cutting edge technological applications in related industries This book will be a very valuable reference material for graduates and post graduate students academic researchers professionals research scholars and scientists and for anyone who has a flavor for doing biomaterial research The books are designed to serve as a bridge between undergraduate textbooks in biochemistry and professional literature The book provides universal perspectives for an emerging field where classical polymer science blends with molecular biology with highlights on recent advances

Molecular Genetics and Emerging Therapies for Epithelial Ovarian Cancer: Basic Research and Clinical Perspectives Stergios Boussios, Eleftherios Pierre Samartzis, Nicholas Pavlidis, J. Alejandro Perez-Fidalgo, 2023-11-06 Epithelial ovarian cancer EOC is the most lethal gynecological disorder due to a lack of effective early detection strategies Worldwide approximately 230 000 women are diagnosed annually whereas 150 000 die It represents the seventh most commonly diagnosed cancer among women in the world with 5 year survival rate of 46% More than one fifth of EOC have been related to hereditary conditions Considerable efforts have been made to implement screening of the general population to diagnose EOC early nevertheless this has been ineffective and there is no approved strategy Nowadays new approaches for early diagnosis and prevention based on molecular genomics are in development Whole genome sequencing has established the potency of the somatic genome characterised with diverse DNA repair deficiencies that can be used to stratify EOCs into distinct biological groups with predictive signatures of resistance or relapse The incorporation of next generation sequencing NGS into clinical practice remains challenging for two reasons Firstly the EOC risk is not clear for some of the included genes and secondly the variant of uncertain significance rates increase as more genes are analyzed Finally beyond germline pathogenic variants somatic mutations may also affect therapeutic choices and as such upfront tumor sequencing may be equally important to NGS particularly as we continue to challenge treatment paradigms in the first line management of EOC
