Final Rights Reclaiming The American Way Of Death:

Final Rights Joshua Slocum, Lisa Carlson, 2021-10-19 Josh Slocum and Lisa Carlson are the two most prominent advocates of consumer rights in dealing with the death industry Here they combine efforts to inform consumers of their rights and propose long needed reforms Slocum is executive director of Funeral Consumers Alliance a national nonprofit with over 90 local affiliates nationwide Carlson is executive director of Funeral Ethics Organization which works with the industry to try to improve ethical standards In addition to nationwide issues the book covers state by state information needed by anybody who wishes to take charge of funeral arrangements for a loved one with or without the help of a funeral director More information about the book and related issues can be found at www finalrights org Death, American Style Lawrence R.

Samuel, 2013-07-05 The notion of one day disappearing from the earth forever is contrary to many of America s defining cultural values with death and dying viewed as un American experiences Arguing that death and dying may be our last major taboo this book shows how death and dying became almost unmentionable words over the course of the last century

Although we have recently made some progress in reconciling the fact that life is a finite resource we remain very unprepared for the approaching tsunami of death as the largest generation in history begins to age and die in great numbers DEATH AMERICAN STYLE is thus highly timely and relevant suggesting that Americans need to individually and collectively come to terms with mortality if we are to learn to treat death as an inevitable part of life and to prepare accordingly As more and more Americans face end of life decisions it will be vital for us to radically change the current view of death and dying The alternative the author argues is that the emerging death centric society may bring with it a period of turmoil equivalent to that of the countercultural 1960s and 1970s Lay Me in God's Good Earth Kent Burreson, Beth Hoeltke, 2024-08-20

Current burial practices in the West fail to confront us with the reality of death and make it harder to grieve properly Burreson and Hoeltke argue that natural burial offers a more accurate picture of Christian hope and resurrection This immensely practical guide is also an application of the hope of the resurrection to those grieving Greening Death

Suzanne Kelly, 2015-09-01 We once disposed of our dead in earth friendly ways no chemicals biodegradable containers dust to dust But over the last 150 years death care has become a toxic polluting and alienating industry in the United States Today people are slowly waking up to the possibility of more sustainable and less disaffecting death care reclaiming old practices in new ways in a new age Greening Death traces the philosophical and historical backstory to this awakening captures the passionate on the ground work of the Green Burial Movement and explores the obstacles and other challenges getting in the way of more robust mobilization As the movement lays claim to greener simpler and more cost efficient practices something even more promising is being offered up a tangible way of restoring our relationship to nature Death, Dying, and

Bereavement in a Changing World Alan Kemp, 2018-11-02 In this introductory text on thanatology Alan Kemp continues to take on the central question of mortality the centrality of death coupled with the denial of death in the human experience

Drawing from the work of Ernest Becker Death Dying and Bereavement in a Changing World provides a multidisciplinary and multidimensional approach to the study of death putting extra emphasis on the how death takes place in a rapidly changing world This new second edition includes the most up to date research data and figures related to death and dying New research on the alternative death movement natural disaster related deaths and cannabis as a form of treatment for life threatening illnesses and updated research on physician assisted suicide as well as on grief as it relates to the DSM 5 have been added

Death, Dying and Bereavement in a Changing World Alan R. Kemp, 2015-10-16 This title takes a comprehensive approach exploring the physical social psychological and spiritual dimensions of death dying and bereavement Through personal stories from real people Death Dying and Bereavement provides readers with a context for understanding their changing encounters with such difficult concepts

Handbook of Spiritualism and Channeling, 2015-03-31 Bringing together scholars from different disciplines and geographies the Brill Handbook of Spiritualism and Channeling presents modern spirit possession in a variety of contexts Weaving together the interrelated movements of Spiritualism along with its specific Franco and Latin American currents articles explore the nineteenth century beginnings of s ances and trance mediumship Channelling an heir to Spiritualism begun in the 1970s and still flourishing today is brought into direct conversation with its predecessors with a view to showing both continuity and disjuncture as the products of new cultural and religious needs The Brill Handbook marks the first extensive collection on these two interrelated movements and examines themes such as gender race performance and technology in each instance

Corpse Care Cody J. Sanders, Mikeal C. Parsons, 2023-01-03 Corpse Care relates the history of death care in the U S to craft robust constructive practical ethics for tending the dead It specifically relates corpse care to economic environmental and pastoral concerns Death and the treatment of the dead body loom large in our collective cultural consciousness The authors explore the materiality and meaning of the dead body and the living s relationship to it All the biggest questions facing the planetary human community relate in one way or another to the corpse Surprisingly Christian communities are largely missing in the discussion of the dead having abdicated the historic role in care for the dead to the funeral industry Christianity has stopped its reflection about the body once that body no longer bears life Corpse Care stakes a claim that the fact of embodiment this incarnational truth this process of our bodily becoming is a practical ethical and theological necessity

The Theology of Suffering and Death Natalie Kertes Weaver, 2013 This book introduces the spiritual and theological issues raised by suffering and dying It relates theology to practical issues of caregiving and provides a toolbox for thinking about suffering and death in a creative and supportive way

Ecopiety Sarah McFarland Taylor, 2019-11-12 Tackles a human problem we all share the fate of the earth and our role in its future Confident that your personal good deeds of environmental virtue will save the earth The stories we encounter about the environment in popular culture too often promote an imagined moral economy assuring us that tiny acts of voluntary personal piety such as recycling a coffee cup or purchasing green consumer items can offset our destructive habits No need to make any fundamental structural changes The trick is simply for the consumer to buy the right things and shop our way to a greener future It s time for a reality check Ecopiety offers an absorbing examination of the intersections of environmental sensibilities contemporary expressions of piety and devotion and American popular culture Ranging from portrayals of environmental sin and virtue such as the eco pious depiction of Christian Grey in Fifty Shades of Grey to the green capitalism found in the world of mobile device carbon sin tracking software applications to the socially conscious vegetarian vampires in True Blood the volume illuminates the work pop culture performs as both a mirror and an engine for the greening of American spiritual and ethical commitments Taylor makes the case that it is not through a framework of grim duty or obligation but through one of play and delight that we may move environmental ideals into substantive action

The Death Café Movement Jack Fong,2017-07-31 This sociological work examines the phenomenon of the Death Caf a regular gathering of strangers from all walks of life who engage in death talk over coffee tea and desserts Using insightful theoretical frameworks Fong explores the common themes that constitute a death identity and reveals how Caf attendees are inspired to live in light of death because of death Fong examines how the participants embrace of self sovereignty and confrontation of mortality revive their awareness of and appreciation for shared humanity While divisive identity politics continue to foster neo tribalisms and the construction of myriad others Fong makes visible how those who participate in Death Caf s end up building community while being inspired toward living more fulfilling lives Through death talk unfettered from systemic control they end up feeling more agency over their own lived lives as well as being more conscious of the possibility of a good death According to Fong participants in this phenomenon offer us a sublime way to confront the facticity of our own demise by gathering as one
