Perfect for both beginners and seasoned writers, this textbook is your gateway to mastering the language of film.

Global Development of Asian Cinema in the Film Industry Wang, Changsong, Yong, Cheng Fei, Marta, Rustono Farady, 2025-02-18. The global development of Asian cinema has shaped the international film industry, introducing diverse storytelling, unique cultural perspectives, and innovative filmmaking techniques. From the rise of Bollywood in India to the acclaimed cinema of East Asia, Asian filmmakers have made a mark on global audiences. Films from Asia have gained widespread recognition for their artistic merit, critical acclaim, and box office success, breaking barriers in both content and form. As the industry evolves, the influence of Asian cinema grows, fostering cross-cultural collaborations, expanding global markets, and challenging traditional norms in filmmaking, highlighting the increasing importance of Asian voices in the future of the global film industry. Global Development of Asian Cinema in the Film Industry explores the reception of Asian film aesthetics and consumption behaviors among global audiences. It provides practical guidance for advancing the international development of the Asian film industry. This book covers topics such as digital streaming, political science, and posthumanism and is a useful resource for filmmakers, business owners, media and communications professionals, sociologists, historians, academicians, and researchers.

Pixar's America Dietmar Meinel, 2016-08-26. This book examines the popular and critically acclaimed films of Pixar Animation Studios in their cultural and historical context. Whether interventionist Sheriff Dibs liberating oppressed toys in Toy Story or exceptionally talented rodents hoping to fulfill their dreams in Ratatouille, these cinematic texts draw on popular myths and symbols of American culture. As Pixar films refashion traditional American figures, motifs, and narratives for contemporary audiences, this book looks at their politics from the frontier myth in light of traditional gender roles in WALL-E to the notion of voluntary associations and neoliberalism. Through close readings, this volume considers the aesthetics of digital animation including voice acting and the simulation of camera work as further mediations of the traditional themes and motifs of American culture in novel form Dietmar Meinel explores the ways in which Pixar films come to reanimate and remediate prominent myths and symbols of American culture in all their cinematic ideological and narrative complexity

History by HBO Rebecca Weeks, 2022-07-12 The television industry is changing and with it the small screen's potential to engage in debate and present valuable representations of American history Founded in 1972 HBO has been at the forefront of these changes leading the way for many network cable and streaming services into the post network era Despite this most scholarship has been dedicated to analyzing historical feature films and documentary films leaving TV and the long form drama hungry for coverage In History by HBO: Televising the American Past Rebecca Weeks fills the gap in this area of media studies and defends the historiographic power of long form dramas By focusing on this change and its effects History by HBO outlines how history is crafted on television and the diverse forms it can take Weeks examines the capabilities of the long form serial for engaging with historical stories insisting that the shift away from the network model and toward narrowcasting has enabled challenging histories to thrive in home settings As an examination of HBO's unique structure for producing quality historical dramas Weeks provides four case studies of HBO series set during different periods of United States history Band of Brothers 2001 Deadwood 2004-2007 Boardwalk Empire 2012-2014 and Treme 2010-2013 In each case HBO's lack of advertiser influence commitment to creative freedom and generous budgets continue to draw and retain talent who want to tell historical stories Balancing historical and film theories in her assessment of the roles of mise en scene characterization narrative complexity and sound in the production of effective historical dramas Weeks' evaluation acts as an ode to the most recent Golden Age of TV as well as a critical look at the relationship between entertainment media and collective memory

The "Disguised" Political Film in Contemporary Hollywood Betty Kaklamanidou, 2018-04-19 With strict guidelines on methodology and time frame films produced after September 2001 and a socio-semiotic theoretical framework Betty Kaklamanidou unpacks the problematic terms and ideas that go along with defining a new genre Kaklamanidou considers a different sub-genre per chapter placing each group of films in their socio-historical context to reach conclusions about the production of political films in millennial Hollywood In shifting the terms of the debate The Disguised Political Film in Contemporary Hollywood offers a fresh new approach to the subject of the political film The political film is not a clearly delineated object but rather an elusive one and resistant to clear boundaries So what is a political film Can The Hunger Games 2012 belong to the same category as Lincoln 2012 Is Jarhead 2005 a political movie simply because it is set during the Gulf War but with no reference to the motives of the conflict and/or American and Arab relations and thus in the same group of war films such as The Three Kings 1999 another narrative that focuses on the same military conflict but includes direct commentary to governmental and military strategies Are historical films by definition political since the majority deals with significant events and/or people in a specific socio-cultural landscape

Blockbusters and the Ancient World Chris

Davies,2019-03-21 Following the release of Ridley Scott's Gladiator in 2000 the ancient world epic has experienced a revival in studio and audience interest Building on existing scholarship on the Cold War epics of the 1950s 60s including Ben Hur Spartacus and The Robe this original study explores the current cycle of ancient world epics in cinema within the social and political climate created by September 11th 2001 Examining films produced against the backdrop of the War on Terror and subsequent invasions of Iraq and Afghanistan this book assesses the relationship between mainstream cinema and American society through depictions of the ancient world conflict and faith Davies explores how these films evoke depictions of the Second World War the Vietnam War and the Western in portraying warfare in the ancient world as well as discussing the influence of genre hybridisation narration and reception theory He questions the extent to which ancient world epics utilise allegory analogy and allusion to parallel past and present in an industry often dictated by market forces Featuring analysis of Alexander Troy 300 Centurion The Eagle The Passion of the Christ and more this book offers new insight on the continued evolution of the ancient world epic in cinema

Bodies in Pain Tarja Laine,2017-04 The films of Darren Aronofsky invite emotional engagement by means of affective resonance between the film and the spectator's lived body Aronofsky's films which include a rich range of production from Requiem for a Dream to Black Swan are often considered cerebral because they explore topics like mathematics madness hallucinations obsessions social anxiety addiction psychosis schizophrenia and neuroscience Yet this interest in intelligence and mental processes is deeply embedded in the operations of the body shared with the spectator by means of a distinctively corporeal audiovisual style Bodies in Pain looks at how Aronofsky's films engage the spectator in an affective form of viewing that involves all the senses ultimately engendering a process of self reflection through their emotional dynamics

Death as Entertainment Gareth R. Schott,2023-06-06 This book explores the moral and representational issues associated with engaging young people with popular media depictions of death and dying Emotionally charged depictions of death play an important role in contemporary media directed toward teen and young adult audiences Across creative works as diverse as interactive digital games graphic novels short form serial narratives television and films young people gain opportunities to engage with representations of death In some cases representations of death dying and the decision to end one's own life have been subject to public outcry and criticism related to its perceived potential impact on impressionable audiences Death in as entertainment can also be fleeting commonplace and used for humour making it trivial The chapters in this volume particularly consider the types of engagement made possible through different contemporary creative mediums and the ways in which they might distinctively capture or arouse thoughts and feelings on the end and loss of a human life Death as Entertainment will appeal to researchers and students interested in new media and its cultural and psychological impact The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Mortality

Race(ing) Intercultural Communication Dreama Moon,Michelle Holling,2017-10-02 Race ing Intercultural Communication signals a crucial intervention in the field as well as in wider society where social and political events are calling for new ways of making sense of race in the 21st century Contributors to this book work at multiple intersections theoretically and methodologically in order to highlight relational possibilities for intercultural communication Chapters underscore the continuing importance of studying race and the diverse mechanisms that maintain racial logics both in the US and globally In the so called post racial era in which we live not only are disrupting notions of colour blindness crucially important but so too are imagining new ways of thinking through racial matters Ranging from discussions of new media popular culture and political discourse to resistance literature gay culture and academia contributors produce incisive analyses of the operations of race and white domination including the myriad ways in which these discourses are reproduced and disrupted This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of International and Intercultural Communication

Memory and Movies John Seamon, 2024-10-29 How popular films from Memento to Slumdog Millionaire can help us understand how memory works In the movie Slumdog Millionaire the childhood memories of a young game show contestant trigger his correct answers In Memento the amnesiac hero uses tattoos as memory aids In Away from Her an older woman suffering from dementia no longer remembers who her husband is These are compelling films that tell affecting stories about the human condition But what can these movies teach us about memory In this book John Seamon shows how examining the treatment of memory in popular movies can shed new light on how human memory works After explaining that memory is actually a diverse collection of independent systems Seamon uses examples from movies to offer an accessible nontechnical description of what science knows about memory function and dysfunction In a series of lively encounters with numerous popular films he draws on Life of Pi and Avatar for example to explain working memory used for short term retention He describes the process of long term memory with examples from such films as Cast Away and Groundhog Day The Return of Martin Guerre among other movies informs his account of how we recognize people the effect of emotion on autobiographical memory is illustrated by The Kite Runner Titanic and other films movies including Born on the Fourth of July and Rachel Getting Married illustrate the complex pain of traumatic memories Seamon shows us that movies rarely get amnesia right often using strategically timed blows to the protagonist's head as a way to turn memory off and then on again as in Desperately Seeking Susan Finally he uses movies including On Golden Pond and Amour to describe the memory loss that often accompanies aging while highlighting effective ways to maintain memory function
