Teaching IFRS Richard M.S. Wilson, Ralph Adler, 2013-09-13. The increasing pace of global conformance towards the adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) highlights the need for accounting students as well as accounting practitioners to be conversant with IFRS. Teaching IFRS offers expert descriptions of and insights into the IFRS convergence process from a teaching and learning perspective. Hence this book is both timely and likely to have considerable impact in providing guidance for those who teach financial reporting around the world. The contents of the book come from authoritative sources and offer something distinctive to complement the existing textbooks which typically focus on the technical aspects of IFRS and their adoption. Drawing upon the experiences of those who have sought to introduce IFRS related classroom innovations and the associated student outcomes achieved therefrom, the book offers suggestions about how to design and deliver courses dealing with IFRS and catalogues extensive listings of IFRS related teaching resources to support those courses. This book was originally published as a special issue of Accounting Education, An international journal.

Accounting: A Very Short Introduction Christopher Nobes, 2014-03-27. If you read the business pages of a newspaper or if you listen to the financial news on the television or radio you will often hear terms such as liability, balance sheet or earnings. These terms turn up in non-financial contexts as well: he was more of a liability than an asset. If you invest in shares, have a building society account or sit on a committee of the property company which owns your apartment block you will receive financial statements every year. If you are a manager in a company, a hospital or a school you will see accounting information often. This Very Short Introduction provides a guide to understanding and using accounting information. Christopher Nobes explains the main areas of accounting work from bookkeeping and financial reporting to auditing and management accounting.
