Ethics, Emotion and the Unity of the Self (Routledge Revivals) Oliver Letwin, 2010-07-02 This Routledge Revival reissues Oliver Letwin's philosophical treatise Ethics Emotion and the Unity of the Self first published in 1987 which concerns the applicability of the artistic classifications of romanticism and classicism to philosophical doctrine Dr Letwin examines three particular theses associated with philosophical romanticism that there is within us a high self and a low self that there is a moral self in inevitable conflict with an amoral self and that there is a rational self disjoined from and in tension with a passionate self He argues that these notions of philosophical romanticism are in fact radically false and instead takes the view that man can be a unified being of the sort described by philosophical classicists But man has to work to achieve this status The intrinsic unity of the human personality is not a guarantee of a coherent life but a challenge to be met

Kant, Respect and Injustice (Routledge Revivals) Victor Seidler, 2009-12-15 In this work originally published in 1986 Victor Seidler explores the different notions of respect equality and dependency in Kant's moral writings He illuminates central tensions and contradictions not only within Kant's moral philosophy but within the thinking and feeling about human dignity and social inequality which we take very much for granted within a liberal moral culture In challenging our assumption of the autonomy of morality Seidler also questions our understanding of what it means for someone to live as a person in his or her own right The autonomy of individuals cannot be assumed but has to be reasserted against relationships of subordination This involves a break with a rationalist morality so that respect for others involves respect for emotions feelings desires and needs and establishes a fuller autonomy as a basis for freedom and justice
