Ethnic Violence And Justice Ethnic Violence And Justice:

The Handbook of Race, Ethnicity, Crime, and Justice Ramiro Martinez, Jr., Meghan E. Hollis, Jacob I. Stowell, 2018-06-08
This Handbook presents current and future studies on the changing dynamics of the role of immigrants and the impact of immigration across the United States and industrialized and developing nations. It covers the changing dynamics of race, ethnicity, and immigration and discusses how it all contributes to variations in crime, policing, and the overall justice system. Through acknowledging that some groups, especially people of color, are disproportionately influenced more than others in the case of criminal justice reactions, the War on Drugs, and hate crimes, this Handbook introduces the importance of studying race and crime so as to better understand it. It does so by recommending that researchers concentrate on ethnic diversity in a national and international context in order to broaden their demographic and expand their understanding of how to attain global change. Featuring contributions from top experts in the field, The Handbook of Race and Crime is presented in five sections: An Overview of Race, Ethnicity, Crime, and Justice; Theoretical Perspectives on Race and Crime; Race, Gender, and the Justice System; Gender and Crime; and Race, Gender, and Comparative Criminology. Each section of the book addresses a key area of research, summarizes findings or shortcomings whenever possible, and provides new results relevant to race, crime, and justice. Every contribution is written by a top expert in the field and based on the latest research. With a sharp focus on contemporary race, ethnicity, crime, and justice studies, The Handbook of Race and Crime is the ideal reference for advanced undergraduate students, graduate students, and scholars interested in the disciplines such as Criminology, Race and Ethnicity, Race and the Justice System, and the Sociology of Race.

Memory and Justice in Post-Genocide Rwanda Timothy Longman, 2017-07-14
A critical exploration of the steps taken to promote peace, reconciliation, and justice in post-genocide Rwanda.

Justice before Reconciliation Dipankar Gupta, 2013-04-03
The book explores how Muslims in Mumbai and Ahmedabad coped with the aftermath of the violence directed against them in 1993 and 2002 respectively and how they responded to the ethnic carnages of which they were the victims, highlighting the importance of the context and the history of the place where such violence occurred. Unlike other studies on ethnic violence which have a short-term focus in dealing with its immediate aftermath, this book examines what happens to the victims over time and how they negotiate a new normal and get on with their lives. Using empirical material based on field work in Mumbai and Ahmedabad, the book shows that while poverty, education, and employment remain important elements in the recovery process, the most crucial issue is that of justice and the need to reclaim citizenship. A significant section of the book is devoted to the relationship between Muslim faith-based organisations and the victims of ethnic violence.

Ethnicity and Criminal Justice in the Era of Mass Incarceration Martin Guevara Urbina, Sofía Espinoza Álvarez, 2017-02-27
ETHNICITY AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE IN THE ERA OF MASS INCARCERATION: A Critical Reader on the Latino Experience is designed as a Latino reader in criminal justice covering a much broader spectrum of the

Latino experience in criminal justice and society while giving readers a broad overview of the Latino experience in a single book Considering the shifting trends in demographics and the current state of the criminal justice system along with the current political climate this book is timely and of critical significance for the academic political and social arena The authors report sound evidence that testifies to a historical legacy of violence brutality manipulation oppression marginalization prejudice discrimination power and control and to white America s continued fear about ethnic and racial minorities a movement that continues in the twenty first century as we have been witnessing during the 2015 2016 presidential race highly charged with anti immigrant and anti Mexican political rhetoric A central objective of this book is to demystify and expose the ways in which ideas of ethnicity race gender and class uphold the functioning and legitimacy of the criminal justice system In this mission rather than attempting to develop a single explanation for the Latino experience in policing the courts and the penal system this book presents a variety of studies and perspectives that illustrate alternative ways of interpreting crime punishment safety equality and justice The findings reveal that race ethnicity gender class and several other variables continue to play a significant role in the legal decision making process With the social control from police brutality to immigration discourse reaching unprecedented levels the book will have broad appeal for students police officers advocates activists attorneys the media and the general public

Negotiating Retributive and Restorative Justice in Conflict Transformation Efforts Paul Bukuluki,2011

Elections, Violence and Transitional Justice in Africa Elias Opongo,Tim Murithi,2022-05-29 Elections in Africa are competitive in nature and can be manipulated by incumbents to extend and entrench their rule through changes to constitutions intimidation of opponents excess use of police force and in some cases assassinations of dissident voices Ethnic cleavages are also exploited by contestants to incite and mobilize unsuspecting masses to pursue their electoral ambitions which can lead to political instability In many African countries violence before during and after elections has become a regrettable norm rather than the exception The function of transitional justice is to address the legacy of human rights atrocities political violence and societal harm resulting from prior misrule or violent conflicts with a view to establishing fair democratic and inclusive societies This book interrogates the potential intersection between transitional justice and electoral processes Specifically it examines the hypothesis that transitional justice interventions that strive to address historical injustices perpetrated by violence conflict and entrenched by socio political impunity can initiate preventive measures against electoral violence through redress accountability and institutional reforms The contributors to this volume have engaged with country case studies from across Africa while examining the intersection between transitional justice and electoral processes Hence this is a timely volume that highlights the uninterrogated nexus between elections violence and transitional justice in Africa

Transitional Justice Theories Susanne Buckley-Zistel,Teresa Koloma Beck,Christian Braun,Friederike Mieth,2013-10-30 Transitional Justice Theories is the first volume to approach the politically sensitive subject of post conflict or post authoritarian justice from a theoretical perspective

It combines contributions from distinguished scholars and practitioners as well as from emerging academics from different disciplines and provides an overview of conceptual approaches to the field. The volume seeks to refine our understanding of transitional justice by exploring often unarticulated assumptions that guide discourse and practice. To this end it offers a wide selection of approaches from various theoretical traditions ranging from normative theory to critical theory. In their individual chapters the authors explore the concept of transitional justice itself and its foundations such as reconciliation, memory and truth as well as intersections such as reparations, peace building and norm compliance. This book will be of particular interest for scholars and students of law, peace and conflict studies and human rights studies. Even though highly theoretical, the chapters provide an easy read for a wide audience including readers not familiar with theoretical investigations.

Transitional Justice in Nepal Yvette Selim, 2018-06-27. The conflict in Nepal 1996-2006 resulted in an estimated 15 000 deaths, 1 300 disappearances along with other serious human rights and humanitarian law violations. Demands for peace, democracy, accountability and development have abounded in the post conflict context. Although the conflict catalysed major changes in the social and political landscape in Nepal, the transitional justice (TJ) process has remained deeply contentious and fragmented. This book provides an in depth analysis of the transitional justice process in Nepal. Drawing on interviews with a diverse range of stakeholders including victims, ex combatants, community members, human rights advocates, journalists and representatives from diplomatic missions, international organisations and the donor community, it reveals the differing viewpoints, knowledge, attitudes and preferences about TJ and other post conflict issues in Nepal. The author develops an actor typology and an action spectrum which can be used in Nepal and other post conflict contexts. The actor typology identifies four main groups of TJ actors: experts, brokers, implementers and victims, and highlights who is making claims and on behalf of whom. The action spectrum, based on contentious politics literature and resistance literature, demonstrates the strategies actors use to shape the TJ process. This book argues that the potential of TJ lies in these dynamics of contention. It is by letting these dynamics play out that different conceptualisations of TJ can arise. While doing so may lead to practical challenges and produce situations that are normatively undesirable for some actors, particularly when certain political parties and national actors seem to hijack TJ, remaining steadfast to the dominant TJ paradigm is also undesirable. As the first book to provide a single case study on TJ in Nepal, it makes theoretical and empirical contributions to TJ research in Nepal and the Asia Pacific. More broadly, the politics versus justice binary and the concept of victimhood among others. It will be of interest to a wide range of scholars in the study of transitional justice, peace and conflict studies, human rights, sociology, political science, criminology, law, anthropology and South Asian Studies as well as policy makers and NGOs. Conflict

Justice: Deconstruction and Hermeneutics Sema Cevirici Atilla, 2025-05-01 The pursuit of justice is an unending journey It is the name of an impending promise that we always pray for hope for and sincerely desire but cannot quite see its fulfilment Justice always encourages openness to the future and refuses to be confined to a particular definition It occurs at different times with various demands and perspectives and it cannot be reduced to a single definition and a single norm This is precisely why this book consists of philosophical conversations that aim to expose the different faces of justice and to bring together the thoughts and concerns of thinkers talking about justice from different contexts The interviews address issues such as God ethics otherness anarchism the refugee crisis law democracy and human rights in the framework of their relation to justice The book is an invitation to everyone who wants to discuss the demands of justice in different contexts and witness the different faces of justice

Selling Justice Short Sara Darehshori, Human Rights Watch (Organization), 2009 This 128 page report draws upon Human Rights Watch's work over the past 20 years in nearly 20 countries The report documents how ignoring atrocities reinforces a culture of impunity that encourages future abuses Rather than impede negotiations or a transition to peace remaining firm on justice can yield short and long term benefits Anticipated negative consequences of

pressing for accountability often do not come to pass Justice is also important as a matter of principle Fair trials may assist in restoring dignity to victims by acknowledging their suffering Publisher description Race, Ethnicity, Crime, and Justice Akwasi Owusu-Bempah, Shaun Gabbidon, 2020-09-24 Race Ethnicity Crime and Justice An International Dilemma Second Edition takes a unique comparative approach to the exploration of race and ethnicity related justice issues in five countries around the world Using the colonial model as a theoretical lens Owusu Bempah and Gabbidon analyse data from Great Britain the United States Canada Australia and South Africa These international case studies help students contextualize race and justice issues within and across nations Concise historical framing illuminates today's racial dynamics in these diverse justice systems and accessible theory grounds the comparison of crime and justice data from the early 21st century with current statistics A new concluding chapter revisits the question of where these nations fit in the global context of state and non state actors and of ethnic and racial justice issues This new edition is suitable for use as a core or supplemental text for advanced undergraduates and early graduate courses on race and crime minorities and criminal justice diversity in criminal justice and comparative justice systems It is also appropriate for use in sociology and ethnic studies courses that focus on race and crime Transitional Justice and Reconciliation Martina Fischer, Olivera Simic, 2015-11-06 Scholars and practitioners alike agree that somehow the past needs to be addressed in order to enable individuals and collectives to rebuild trust and relationships However they also continue to struggle with critical questions When is the right moment to address the legacies of the past after violent conflict How can societies address the past without deepening the pain that arises from memories related to the violence and crimes committed in war How can cultures of remembrance be established that would include and acknowledge the victims of all sides involved in violent conflict How can various actors deal constructively with different interpretations of facts and history Two decades after the wars societies in Bosnia Serbia and Croatia albeit to different degrees are still facing the legacies of the wars of the 1990s on a daily basis Reconciliation between and within these societies remains a formidable challenge given that all three countries are still facing unresolved disputes either at a cross border level or amongst parallel societies that persist at a local community level This book engages scholars and practitioners from the regions of former Yugoslavia as well as international experts to reflect on the achievements and obstacles that characterise efforts to deal with the past Drawing variously on empirical studies theoretical discussions and practical experience their contributions offer invaluable insights into the complex relationship between transitional justice and conflict transformation From Cultural Justice to Inter-Ethnic Mediation Basil Ugorji, 2012-03 Inspired by ethno religious conflicts which occur in a frequent incessant and violent manner in the contemporary Nigerian society Basil Ugorji examines the very real struggle for cultural justice that often leads to tribal violence and clashes ethnic and religious wars and genocides The author thoroughly investigates the relevance of certain measures judicial and coercive used to manage ethno religious conflicts in Africa Based on the historical and political contexts pre colonialism colonialism post independence the author explores the premise that a shift is required in the research of peaceful resolution first from retributive justice to restorative justice and second from coercive methods of reconciliation to ethno religious mediation with a focus on the ethnic tribal and religious groups involved in conflicts the origins causes consequences and actors involved and the forms and places of occurrence of ethno religious conflicts With scholarship and compassion the author sees the people within the conflict and exposes their humanity Beyond the posturing and politics he returns sanity to the discussion by revealing the often counterintuitive behavior of social systems under stress More than just empirical observation From Cultural Justice to Inter Ethnic Mediation A Reflection on the Possibility of Ethno Religious Mediation in Africa provides welcome insights into convoluted dynamics and offers practical strategies through peace education There is something here for everybody seeking a way forward out of chaos in Africa from grassroots advocates to senior policymakers Conflict, Security and Justice Eleanor Gordon,2019-04-26 This path breaking new textbook provides a broad overview of the core concepts actors and activities involved in building security and justice after conflict as well as challenges and lessons learned in this field Drawing attention to the principles which guide or should guide this kind of work as well as using practical examples throughout the book covers a uniquely wide range of issues in peacebuilding from transitional justice and disarmament to security sector reform and human rights It concludes by considering both the regional and more far reaching impacts of conflict including such global phenomena as terrorism piracy and organised crime With a decade of experience working in post conflict zones for the UN and other organisations and a further 10 years in academia and as a consultant for various international organisations the author s unparalleled expertise on the topic and her accessible writing style make this book the essential guide to postgraduate and upper level undergraduate courses on peace and conflict studies The text is also important supplemental reading for those studying war peace development security or IR in a wider context and for practitioners and policy makers in the field of peacebuilding Justification ...
