Cushites in the Hebrew Bible Kevin Burrell,2020-01-13 Cushites in the Hebrew Bible offers a reassessment of Cushite ethnographic representations in the biblical literature as a counterpoint to misconceptions about Africa and people of African descent which are largely a feature of the modern age Whereas current interpretations have tended to emphasize unfavourable portraits of the people biblical writers called Cushites Kevin Burrell illuminates the biblical perspective through a comparative assessment of ancient and modern forms of identity construction Past and present modes of defining difference betray both similarities and differences to ethnic representations in the Hebrew Bible providing important contexts for understanding the biblical view This book contributes to a clearer understanding of the theological historical and ethnic dynamics underpinning representations of Cushites in the Hebrew Bible Masks and Staffs Michaela Pelican,2015-07-01 The Cameroon Grassfields home to three ethnic groups Grassfields societies Mbororo and Hausa provide a valuable case study for the anthropological examination of identity politics and interethnic relations In the midst of the political liberalization of Cameroon in the late 1990s and 2000s local responses to political and legal changes took the form of a series of performative and discursive expressions of ethnicity Confrontational encounters stimulated by economic and political rivalry as well as socially integrative processes transformed collective self understanding in Cameroon in conjunction with recent global discourses on human minority and indigenous rights The book provides a vital contribution to the study of ethnicity conflict and social change in the anthropology of Africa Dynamics of Identification and Conflict Markus Virgil Hoehne,Echi Christina Gabbert,John R. Eidson,2022-10-01 Dealing with the dynamics of identification and conflict this book uses theoretical orientations ranging from political ecology to rational choice theory interpretive approaches Marxism and multiscalar analysis Case studies set in Africa Europe and Central Asia are grouped in three sections devoted to pastoralism identity and migration What connects all of these anthropological explorations is a close focus on processes of identification and conflict at the level of particular actors in relation to the behaviour of large aggregates of people and to systemic conditions Shifting Forms of Continental Colonialism Dittmar Schorkowitz,John R. Chávez,Ingo W. Schröder,2019-09-28 This book explores shifting forms of continental colonialism in Asia Africa Europe and the Americas from the early modern period to the present It offers an interdisciplinary approach bringing together historians anthropologists and sociologists to contribute to a critical historical anthropology of colonialism Though focused on the modern era the volume illustrates that the colonial paradigm is a framework of theories and concepts that can be applied globally and deeply into the past The chapters engage with a wide range of topics and disciplinary approaches from the theoretical to the empirical deepening our understanding of under researched areas of colonial studies and providing a cutting edge contribution to the study of continental and internal colonialism for all those interested in the global impact of colonialism on continents The Palgrave Handbook of State-Sponsored History After 1945 Berber Bevernage,Nico Wouters,2018-02-03 This handbook provides the first systematic integrated analysis of the role that states or state actors play in the construction of history and public memory after 1945 The book focuses on many different forms of state sponsored history including memory laws monuments and memorials state archives science policies history in schools truth

commissions historical expert commissions the use of history in courts and tribunals etc The handbook contributes to the study of history and public memory by combining elements of state focused research in separate fields of study By looking at the state s memorialising capacities the book introduces an analytical perspective that is not often found in classical studies of the state The handbook has a broad geographical focus and analyses cases from different regions around the world The volume mainly tackles democratic contexts although dictatorial regimes are not excluded The Routledge Companion to Cultural Text and the Nation Sheera Talpaz,Anuradha Dingwaney Needham,2025-03-31 The Routledge Companion to Cultural Text and the Nation brings together over 30 articles by leading and emerging scholars from around the world who engage fresh critical lenses from affect studies to the medical humanities and re energize established frameworks to examine the interplay between cultural production and conceptualizations of the nation and nationalism The scholarship in this volume takes as its objects of analysis various forms of aesthetic and cultural production from film and literature to museums and costume books enriching the conversation that has often siloed these forms Geared toward scholars graduate students and upper level undergraduates across the humanities and social sciences this timely interdisciplinary collection is issued at a critical juncture in the transformation of the nation and the global resurgence of regressive and populist nationalist movements Both offering new insights reorienting our understanding of canonical materials and bringing noncanonical works to light this volume challenges long held assumptions about the nation while establishing its continued significance and future possibilities Routledge Handbook of Afro-Latin American Studies Bernd Reiter,John Antón Sánchez,2022-11-08 This Handbook provides a comprehensive roadmap to the burgeoning area of Afro Latin American Studies Afro Latins as a civilization developed during the period of slavery obtaining cultural contributions from Indigenous and European worlds while today they are enriched by new social configurations derived from contemporary migrations from Africa The essays collected in this volume speak to scientific production that has been promoted in the region from the humanities and social sciences with the aim of understanding the phenomenon of the African diaspora as a specific civilizing element With contributions from world leading figures in their fields overseen by an eminent international editorial board this Handbook features original authoritative articles organized in four coherent parts Disciplinary Studies Problem Focused Fields Regional and Country Approaches Pioneers of Afro Latin American Studies The Routledge Handbook of Afro Latin American Studies will not only serve as the major reference text in the area of Afro Latin American Studies but will also provide the agenda for future new research Topics in Spanish Linguistic Perceptions Luis Alfredo Ortiz-López,Eva-María Suárez Büdenbender,2021-09-29 Topics in Spanish Linguistic Perceptions brings together the most current research on linguistic perceptions of varieties of Spanish The book includes articles from a range of expert contributors using different methodologies and looking at diverse sociolinguistic settings Readers will gain a rich understanding of the importance of linguistic perceptions and the societal attitudes they are linked to Readers will also gain insight into the interplay between socioeconomic groups and educational and linguistic norms and the perception of non standardized forms of Spanish The volume highlights the relationship between language and social perceptions and will be of particular interest to researchers and students in Hispanic linguistics sociophonetics and sociolinguistics Social Ontology, Sociocultures, and Inequality in the Global South Benjamin Baumann, Daniel Bultmann, 2020-05-07 Challenging the assumption that the capitalist transformation includes a radical break with the past this edited volume traces how historically older forms of social inequality are transformed but persist in the present to shape the social structure of contemporary societies in the global South Each social collective comprises an interpretation of itself including the meaning of life the concept of a human person and the notion of a collective This volume studies the interpretation that various social collectives have of themselves This interpretation is referred to as social ontology All chapters of the edited volume focus on the relation between social ontology and structures of inequality They argue that each society comprises several historical layers of social ontology that correspond to layers of inequality which are referred to as sociocultures Thereby the volume explains why and how structures of inequality differ between contemporary collectives in the global South even though all of them seem to have similar structures institutions and economies The volume is aimed at academics students and the interested public looking for a novel theorization of social inequality pertaining to social collectives in the global South Infrastructures of Race Daniel Nemser, 2017-05-23 Winner Humanities Book Prize Mexico Section of the Latin American Studies Association 2018 Many scholars believe that the modern concentration camp was born during the Cuban war for independence when Spanish authorities ordered civilians living in rural areas to report to the nearest city with a garrison of Spanish troops But the practice of spatial concentration gathering people and things in specific ways at specific places and for specific purposes has a history in Latin America that reaches back to the conquest In this paradigm setting book Daniel Nemser argues that concentration projects often tied to urbanization laid an enduring material groundwork or infrastructure for the emergence and consolidation of new forms of racial identity and theories of race Infrastructures of Race traces the use of concentration as a technique for colonial governance by examining four case studies from Mexico under Spanish rule centralized towns disciplinary institutions segregated neighborhoods and general collections Nemser shows how the colonial state used concentration in its attempts to build a new spatial and social order and he explains why the technique flourished in the colonies Although the designs for concentration were sometimes contested and short lived Nemser demonstrates that they provided a material foundation for ongoing processes of racialization This finding which challenges conventional histories of race and mestizaje racial mixing promises to deepen our understanding of the way race emerges from spatial politics and techniques of population management Remixing the Hip-Hop Narrative James Barber, Christian Büschges, Dianne Violeta Mausfeld, Britta Sweers, 2024-09-03 Although hip hop is now a well established global music genre and cultural form its history and current impact have not yet been sufficiently studied The interdisciplinary contributions to this volume

address hip hop's historical and regional struggles for representation of race gender generation place and language as well as the tension between authenticity and commercialization Contributors offer approaches to historicizing hip hop culture and present new theoretical perspectives and methodological tools for addressing hip hop's global impact This volume targets not only scholars and students but also resonates with recent public debates about identity politics and cultural appropriation

Cultures of Mobility and Alterity Yana Hashamova,Oana Popescu-Sandu,Sunnie Rucker-Chang,2022-09-15 Advancing public dialogue surrounding the issues of migrants and refugees the volume explores the dynamic representations of the recent movement of people from and through the Balkans It investigates how people within the Balkans view their others how the West regards the Balkans and how emigrants from the Balkans reflect upon their experiences as members of cosmopolitan diasporic communities Highlighting latent tensions between center and periphery and furthering the discussion of racialization related to the Balkans the collection exposes contradictions in social values which give rise to national anxieties Approaching mobility from multiple disciplines the volume examines several instances of border flows in media literature and culture in general flows of ideas and people To analyze mobility to from and in the Balkans requires one to address the issue of difference otherness and race as it relates to South East Europe and as it is understood and reproduced in both transnational and local forms The racialized category of migrant necessitates an understanding of how transnational concepts of race translate into constructs of whiteness and blackness and inform subject positions of the individual and motivate discourses of racialization within communities

Phenomenology of Broken Habits Line Ryberg Ingerslev,Karl Mertens,2024-07-12 This volume explores the phenomenology of broken habits and their affective social and involuntary dimensions It shows how disruptive experiences impact self understanding and social embeddedness The chapters in this volume investigate the epistemic and existential relevance of breakdown of habits and the corresponding kinds of self understanding available to the agent The first part focuses on the double sidedness of habitual life On the one hand habits allow us to arrange and navigate in a familiar home world on the other hand habits can take hold of us in such a way that we lose our sense of autonomy The contributors argue that habitual agency is structurally carried by a dynamic that entails both freedom and necessity As habits enable us to inhabit and thus acquire a world they also affectively provide a texture and a background for our feeling at home in the world The chapters in Part 2 focus on the breakdowns of our habitual social and technological life forms and the phenomenology of their affective texture History and habitual learning are sedimented in our body memory and in our language and these sedimented layers are partly out of our direct control Part 3 focuses on the structural openness of habits in relating to one's past and one's traumatic experiences Part 4 reflects on the ways in which we might become aware of and thus transform or appropriate our culturally given habits Phenomenology of Broken Habits will appeal to researchers and advanced students working in phenomenology philosophy of mind and philosophy of psychology

world has become more visible in Anglophone historical studies in the past two decades as attention to the social and economic networks of empires and modes of communication has begun to change older frameworks that viewed these centuries in terms of decline and characterized them as the Dark Ages. The Merovingian epoch witnessed something which we understand from the perspective of hindsight: a tilt to the middle ages. The forty-six essays included in this volume thus highlight the vitality and importance of the Merovingian kingdoms in the fifth through eighth centuries. Rather than suggest that this was a chaotic and obscure interlude between the Fall of the Roman Empire and the Rise of the Carolingians and named for a dynasty with a reputation for few accomplishments and even fewer memorable kings, the essays demonstrate that the Merovingian era is an important field in its own right. The Handbook's contributors highlight recent research that moves beyond the political developments that were until recently the bread and butter of most historians and include many contributions based on material culture that shed new light on subjects that previously were inaccessible. They demonstrate that the Merovingian world was at the center of a wide-ranging Merovingian empire of elites, peasants, economies, and cultures, and its story must be told through archaeology, bioarchaeology, architecture, hagiographic literature, manuscripts, liturgy, visionary literature, and eschatology, patristics, numismatics, and material culture. In addition to mainland France, the essays encompass the geographic conduits of power, culture, and trade that connected the Merovingian world with Anglo-Saxon England, Ireland, Frisia, Spain, Italy, North Africa, and the Byzantine Empire. This network empire of intersecting and often conflicting identities, political interests, religions, economies, patronage, and cultures were intrinsically connected to contemporary developments not just among the Burgundians and Visigoths but among the Byzantines, Avars, Anglo-Saxons, Frisians, and the Irish, fields that were once viewed like the Merovingians themselves in isolation. These important developments reveal why the Merovingian period has attracted new audiences and why it will never be viewed as a backwater again.

Liberation Theology and the Others Christian Büschges, Andrea Müller, Noah Oehri, 2021-09-28
Looking beyond prominent figures or major ecclesial events, Liberation Theology and the Others offers a fresh historical perspective on Latin American liberation theology. Thirteen case studies from Mexico to Uruguay depict a vivid picture of religious and lay activism that shaped the profile of the Latin American Catholic Church in the second half of the 20th century. Stressing the transnational character of Catholic activism and its intersections with prevalent discourses of citizenship, ethnicity, or development, scholars from Latin America, the US, and Europe analyze how pastoral renewal was debated and embraced in multiple local and culturally diverse contexts. Contributors explore the connections between Latin American liberation theology and anthropology in Peru, armed revolutionaries in highland Guatemala, and the implementation of neoliberalism in Bolivia. They identify conceptions of the popular church, indigenous religiosity, women's leadership, and student activism that circulated among Latin American religious and lay activists between the 1960s and the 1980s. By revisiting the multifaceted and oftentimes contingent nature of church reforms, this edited volume provides fascinating new insights into one of the most controversial religious movements of the 20th century Contestations of Citizenship, Education, and Democracy in an Era of Global Change Patricia K. Kubow, Nicole Webster, Krystal Strong, Daniel Miranda, 2022-11-03 Contestations of Citizenship Education and Democracy in an Era of Global Change Children and Youth in Diverse International Contexts considers the shifting social political economic and educational structures shaping contemporary experiences understandings and practices of citizenship among children and youth in diverse international contexts As such this edited book examines the meaning of citizenship in an era defined by monumental global change Chapters from across both the Global South and North consider emerging formations of citizenship and citizen identities among children and youth in formal and non formal education contexts as well as the social and civic imaginaries and practices to which children and youth engage both in and outside of schools Rich empirical contributions from an international team of contributors call attention to the social political economic and educational structures shaping the ways young people view citizenship and highlight the social and political agency of children and youth amid increasing issues of polarization climate change conflict migration extremism and authoritarianism The book ultimately identifies emergent forms of citizenship developing in formal and non formal educational contexts including those that unsettle the nation state and democracy Edited by a team of academics with backgrounds in education citizenship and youth studies this book will appeal to scholars researchers and faculty who work across the broader field of youth civic engagement and democracy as well as international and comparative education and citizenship The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Settler-Indigeneity in the West Bank Rachel Z. Feldman, Ian McGonigle, 2023-10-15 Since Israel conquered the West Bank formerly held by Jordan in 1967 over 400 000 settlers have moved into the territory In recent years Israeli settler organizations and allied American Jewish lobbyists have responded to international condemnation of the occupation by mobilizing narratives of indigeneity claiming sovereign and divine rights to the land Settler Indigeneity in the West Bank asks what Israeli settlers mean when they say they are indigenous how settler indigeneity is felt performed and mediated and what the implications of indigeneity claims are on the international stage Building on foundational scholarship that has come out of post colonial and indigeneity studies the volume theorizes settler indigeneity as a cultural phenomenon and product of transnational settler colonial histories while also interrogating the dialectic of settler and indigenous to illustrate their co constitution Considering agriculture clothing food language and religious practices the chapters explore how feelings of indigeneity are fashioned and how these feelings continue to transform the landscape of the West Bank Offering a series of original ethnographic accounts of these cultures and communities Settler Indigeneity in the West Bank intimately documents and discusses the processes of settler nativization in conversation with a variety of related literature in anthropology cultural studies Israel studies religious studies and settler colonial studies
