

The background of the slide features a bronze statue of a person, likely representing a global or universal figure, standing on a rocky shore. The statue is carrying a large globe on its head. The scene is set against a dramatic sky with a sunset or sunrise, with clouds and a body of water visible in the background. The overall tone is contemplative and global.

Ethics For Anthropological Research And Practice:

Ethics for Anthropological Research and Practice Linda M. Whiteford, Robert T. Trotter II, 2008-02-29 In this concise introduction to anthropological ethics Whiteford and Trotter provide current and prospective researchers and practitioners with a solid foundation of ethical concepts and issues including respect for persons beneficence and justice They take into account both national and international discussions and practice of ethics Together with equipping readers with essentials about ethics the authors explore ethical problems common among anthropologists Ethical challenges often arise from the unanticipated consequences of a research design from conflicts among stakeholders or from the clash of two positive ethical principles when adherence to one of the principles may violate another Functioning both as a capstone and a learning tool the last chapter presents a real life ethical dilemma and introduces readers to a detailed problem solving guide Other pedagogical aids include end of chapter questions that inspire deeper thinking about ethical principles and issues and five brief ethical dilemma cases for further enrichment and study

Ethics and Anthropology Carolyn Fluehr-Lobban, 2013-10-03 Ethics and Anthropology comprehensively embraces issues and dilemmas faced in all four of the discipline's fields Not merely a subject to be considered when seeking the approval of institutional review boards ethics is anthropology Fluehr Lobban explores the critical application of core ethical principles do no harm apply informed consent in all stages of research practice transparency collaborate from the initial stages of crafting a proposal and executing research through writing and publication of findings She provides a frank up to date consideration of best practices and trends and incorporates recommendations from the most recent AAA Code of Ethics To help students understand the art of ethics in principle and in practice she draws on anthropological history and discourse as well as cross cultural and interdisciplinary examples questions for discussion round out each chapter

Anthropological Ethics in Context Dena Plemmons, Alex W Barker, 2017-07-05 Using the recent multi year revision of the American Anthropology Association's code of ethics as a platform this volume suggests a set of principles and practices based on ethical dilemmas common in the social sciences

Embedding Ethics Lynn Meskell, Peter Pels, 2020-05-27 Anthropologists who talk about ethics generally mean the code of practice drafted by a professional association for implementation by its members As this book convincingly shows such a conception is far too narrow A more radical approach is to recognize that moral judgments are made at every juncture of scientific practice and they require a negotiation of responsibility with all stakeholders in the research enterprise Embedding Ethics questions why ethics have been divorced from scientific expertise Invoking different disciplinary practices from biological archaeological cultural and linguistic anthropology contributors show how ethics should be resituated at the heart of rather than exterior to scientific activity Positioning the researcher as a negotiator of significant truths rather than an adjudicator of a priori precepts enables contributors to relocate ethics in new sets of social and scientific relationships triggered by recent globalization processes from new forms of intellectual and cultural ownership to accountability in governance and the very ways in which people are studied Case studies from ethnographic research museum display archaeological fieldwork and professional monitoring illustrate both best practice and potential pitfalls This important book is an essential guide for all anthropologists who wish to be active contributors to the discussion on ethics and the ethical practice of their profession

Ethics and the Profession of Anthropology Carolyn Fluehr-Lobban, 2002-12-24 This revised second edition of Ethics and the Profession of Anthropology renews the challenge to anthropologists to engage in a dialogue concerning their commitment to professional ethical conduct Containing a majority of new chapters the authors redefine what it means to conduct anthropological research ethically in a discipline that is now less isolated from allied fields in the physical and behavioral sciences and coming to terms with the global changes that affect its practice Fluehr Lobban provides an overview of issues from the past 110 years drawing attention to the need for maintaining the ethical core of the discipline and a code of professional responsibility The contributors describe a series of crises in the discipline involving clandestine research and other questionable actions by anthropologists including secret research and intelligence work by academics the ethical problems of medical work among native people the evolution of cyber ethics and the changing relationships between indigenous people archaeologists and museums as a result of the 1990 NAGPRA repatriation legislation The book offers an excellent model for integrating ethics education at all levels of instruction and for empowering and engaging communities It will be a valuable tool for anthropological researchers instructors and fieldworkers as they transform their professional practice

Negotiated Breastfeeding Caroline Chautems, 2021-10-18 Based on an ethnography of postpartum consultations by independent midwives in Switzerland this book produces unique insights into home birth parents breastfeeding journey from the first hours after birth to weaning Considered the natural continuity of childbirth without intervention breastfeeding is a fundamental component of the holistic continuous and individualised care independent midwives provide as they engage with parents in a shared construction of meaning around breastfeeding This book offers new perspectives on the conceptualisation of breastfeeding as a shared process Parents in collaboration with their midwife and baby are jointly constructing negotiated breastfeeding As the child grows and develops questions arise regarding the management of risks the construction of the lactating body and the body work required and the perception of breastfeeding as a means of communication with the child consistent with a child centred approach to parenting Fostering a reflection on the contrasts and similarities between the marginal model of holistic care and the dominant biomedical model this book sheds light on issues of a broader scope the relationship to health risks and health promotion gender inequalities regarding parental roles and responsibilities the concept of the child as a project and the consequential intensification of parenthood The book also explores transversal themes by outlining how reproduction and parenting are undertaken in Switzerland framed by the local cultural political and economic context including the gender system and resulting power relationships

Pious Practice and Secular Constraints

Jeanette S Jouili, 2023-05-25 This chronicle of observant Muslim women s daily challenges in secular settings is a welcome contribution that can be useful in many disciplines Journal of Church and State The visible increase in religious practice among young European born Muslims has provoked public anxiety Now government regulations seek not only to restrict Islamic practices within the public sphere but also to shape Muslims and especially women s personal conduct Pious Practice and Secular Constraints chronicles the everyday ethical struggles of women active in orthodox and socially conservative Islamic revival circles as they are torn between their quest for a pious lifestyle and their aspirations to counter negative representations of Muslims within the mainstream society Jeanette S Jouili conducted fieldwork in France and Germany to investigate how pious Muslim women grapple with religious expression for example when to wear a headscarf where to pray throughout the day and how to maintain modest interactions between men and women Her analysis stresses the various ethical dilemmas the women confronted in negotiating these religious duties within a secular public sphere In conversation with Islamic and Western thinkers Jouili teases out the important ethical political implications of these struggles ultimately arguing that Muslim moral agency surprisingly reinvigorated rather than hampered by the increasingly hostile climate in Europe encourages us to think about the contribution of non secular civic virtues for shaping a pluralist society Jeanette Jouili s book will be of great interest to scholars working on theories of modernity orthodoxy citizenship gender space and ethics It will be a superlative teaching aid for classes in anthropology sociology women s and gender studies urban studies philosophy comparative religion and more American Ethnologist A Companion to Medical Anthropology Merrill
