Map Librarianship Susan Elizabeth Ward Aber, Jeremy Aber, 2016-11-04 Map Librarianship identifies basic geoliteracy concepts and enhances reference and instruction skills by providing details on finding downloading delivering and assessing maps remotely sensed imagery and other geospatial resources and services primarily from trusted government sources By offering descriptions of traditional maps geographic information systems GIS remote sensing and other geospatial technologies the book provides a timely and practical guide for the map and geospatial librarian to blend confidence in traditional library skill sets Includes rarely discussed concepts of citing and referencing maps and geospatial data fair use and copyright Creates an awareness and appreciation of existing print map collections while building digital stewardship with surrogate map and aerial imagery collections Provides an introduction to the theory and applications of GIS remote sensing participatory neogeography and neocartography practices and other geospatial technologies Includes a list of geospatial resources with descriptions and illustrations of commonly used map types and formats online geospatial data sources and an introduction to the most commonly used geospatial software packages available on both desktop and mobile platforms

Water Quality Indices Tabassum Abbasi, S. A. Abbasi, 2012-03-10 This book covers water quality indices WQI in depth it describes what purpose they serve how they are generated what are their strengths and weaknesses and how to make the best use of them It is a concise and unique guide to WQIs for chemists chemical environmental engineers and government officials Whereas it is easy to express the quantity of water it is very difficult to express its quality because a large number of variables determine the water quality WQIs seek to resolve the difficulty by translating a set of a large number of variables to a one digit or a two digit numeral They are essential in communicating the status of different water resources in terms of water quality and the impact of various factors on it to policy makers service personnel and the lay public Further they are exceedingly useful in the monitoring and management of water quality With the importance of water and water quality increasing exponentially the importance of this topic is also set to increase enormously because only with the use of indices is it possible to assess express communicate and monitor the overall quality of any water source Provides a concise guide to WQIs their purpose and generation Compares existing methods and WQIs and outlines strengths and weaknesses Makes recommendations on how the indices should be used and under what circumstances they apply

Debris-Covered Glaciers: Formation, Governing Processes, Present Status and Future Directions Aparna Shukla, Argha Banerjee, Koji Fujita, Lindsey Isobel Nicholson, Duncan Joseph Quincey, 2022-11-07 Climate Change Impacts and Sustainability Pius Z. Yanda, Claude G. Mung'ong'o, Edmund B. Mabhuye, 2020-06-02 This book provides a detailed analysis of the economic and environmental impacts of climate change on the tropical ecosystems in Tanzania Topics covered include agriculture marine resources wildlife and weather forecasting The analyses concentrate on real and potential impacts of climate change focusing on changes in temperature and precipitation Adaptive capacity and strategies for enhancing resilience such as changing crop types and crop patterns in farming are described

Sustainability in Natural Resources Management and Land Planning Walter Leal Filho, Ulisses Miranda Azeiteiro, Andréia Faraoni Freitas Setti, 2021-08-06 This book includes contributions from scientists and representatives from government and non governmental organisations working in the field of land management and use and on management of fires The book is truly interdisciplinary and has both a research and application oriented dimension The list of topics includes sustainability and water management sustainability and biodiversity conservation the future sustainability of nature based industries such as agriculture mining tourism fisheries and forestry sustainability people and livelihoods sustainability and landscapes planning sustainability and land use planning handling and managing forest fires The papers are innovative and cross cutting and many have practice based experiences Also this book prepared by the Inter University Sustainable Development Research Programme IUSDRP and the World Sustainable Development Research and Transfer Centre WSD RTC reiterates the need to promote a sustainable use of land resources today

Remote Sensing P. K. Garg, 2024-05-22 This book explores the world of remote sensing technology offering comprehensive insights into its principles data acquisition methods advanced processing techniques and diverse applications It covers the basics of remote sensing such as the foundational principles and data acquisition techniques image pre processing such as noise removal radiometric corrections and image fusion and advanced classification techniques like machine learning algorithms including neural networks and support vector machines Finally it discusses disaster management and agriculture demonstrating how remote sensing methods are revolutionizing fields such as disaster response and agricultural monitoring Professionals researchers and students involved in environmental sciences geography urban planning and disaster management will benefit from these topics

FEATURES
Explores cutting edge advanced classification techniques like machine learning algorithms including neural networks and support vector machines
Covers both the theoretical principles and also practical data acquisition techniques image pre processing noise removal radiometric corrections and image fusion
Demonstrates how remote sensing methods are revolutionizing fields such as disaster response and agricultural monitoring
Includes companion files for downloading with full color images from the text

New Advancements in Geomorphological Research Jayanta Das, Somenath Halder, 2024-08-30 There is an affirming transformation basically in the form of core methodology in recent geomorphological studies This book on New Advancement in Geomorphological Research Issues and Challenges in Quantitative Spatial Science asserts the contributing aspects of neo modern developments related to applied geomorphology This includes hydrological research fluvial geomorphology applied glacial geomorphology changes in coastal geomorphology regional to global level disaster and or hazard monitoring with advanced models landslide monitoring geo heritage site suitability and bank and gully erosion detection Contemporary developments in linking with the advanced developments in remote sensing and GIS and with spatial science in applied geomorphology and related sub branches of earth science

Recently global climate change phenomena GCCP impacted local to regional climatic events resulting in sea level rise melting of glaciers drastic river course changes the disappearance of the coastal area and shrinkage of natural resources loss significant tests to sustaining human civilization Meanwhile modern monitoring technology and policy help desk can support and minimize the present day's problems globally and also safeguard the natural environment's impending persistence in human society So this academic persuasion is a pioneer in minimizing the complications like river course changes glacier abolishment geo hazard crisis management coastal area erosion management geo heritage conservation and management and so on Side by side this present volume of the book caters a rational time scale of the analyzed processes from mountain to coastal regions And for better academic persuasion this will also incorporate the level of analysis in the shape of susceptibility to risk with newly advanced methods Therefore appropriate cultivation of the knowledge of the application of GIScience for applied geomorphology and on the bigger aspect of the welfare of society and environment and subjective nursing and administration can curtail the gap between science policy and the bottom level scenario concerned This current endeavor is also underlining the adaptation of hybrid techniques remote sensing statistical tools and GIS technologies for the quantification of various issues related to several branches of applied geomorphology This contributed piece includes focused and problem oriented case studies to underline the versatility of changing geomorphological research environmental resources natural landscape geo eco system management interconnected problems and concerned applied vista at various spatiotemporal scales The endorsed chapters encircling both theoretical and applied aspects help as guideline information for future research Concisely this book will offer traditional and advanced geospatial technologies used in earth science atmospheric lithospheric hydrosphere and biospheric contexts connected to applied geomorphology and for better management This current book will be a commendable product from the belvedere of researchers scientists academic personnel policymakers advanced learners in advanced geoscience earth science applied geomorphology remote sensing environmental resources management GIS and hydrology

Advances in Remote Sensing Technology and the Three Poles Manish Pandey, Prem C. Pandey, Yogesh Ray, Aman Arora, Shridhar D. Jawak, Uma K. Shukla, 2022-12-12 ADVANCES IN REMOTE SENSING TECHNOLOGY AND THE THREE POLES Covers recent advances in remote sensing technology applied to the Three Poles a concept encompassing the Arctic Antarctica and the Himalayas Advances in Remote Sensing Technology and the Three Poles is a multidisciplinary approach studying the lithosphere hydrosphere encompassing both limnosphere and oceanosphere atmosphere biosphere and anthroposphere of the Arctic the Antarctic and the Himalayas The drastic effects of climate change on polar environments bring to the fore the often subtle links between climate change and processes in the hydrosphere biosphere and lithosphere while unanswered questions of the polar regions will help plan and formulate future research projects Sample topics covered in the work include Terrestrial net primary production of the Arctic and modeling of Arctic landform evolution Glaciers and glacial environments including a geological geophysical and geospatial survey of Himalayan glaciers Sea ice dynamics in the Antarctic region under a changing climate the Quaternary geology and geomorphology of Antarctica Continuous satellite missions data availability and the nature of future satellite missions including scientific data sharing policies in different countries Software tools models and remote sensing technology for investigating polar and other environments For postgraduates and researchers working in remote sensing photogrammetry and landscape evolution modeling Advances in Remote Sensing Technology and the Three Poles is a crucial resource for understanding current technological capabilities in the field along with the latest scientific research that has been conducted in polar areas

Remote Sensing of Wetlands Ralph W. Tiner, Megan W. Lang, Victor V. Klemas, 2015-03-23 Effectively Manage Wetland Resources Using the Best Available Remote Sensing Techniques Utilizing top scientists in the wetland classification and mapping field Remote Sensing of Wetlands Applications and Advances covers the rapidly changing landscape of wetlands and describes the latest advances in remote sensing that have taken place over the past few decades

Emerging Trends, Techniques, and Applications in Geospatial Data Science Gaur, Loveleen, Garg, P.K., 2023-04-24 With the emergence of smart technology and automated systems in today's world big data is being incorporated into many applications Trends in data can be detected and objects can be tracked based on the real time data that is utilized in everyday life These connected sensor devices and objects will provide a large amount of data that is to be analyzed quickly as it can accelerate the transformation of smart technology The accuracy of prediction of artificial intelligence AI systems is drastically increasing by using machine learning and other probability and statistical approaches Big data and geospatial data help to solve complex issues and play a vital role in future applications Emerging Trends Techniques and Applications in Geospatial Data Science provides an overview of the basic concepts of data science related tools and technologies and algorithms for managing the relevant challenges in real time application domains The book covers a detailed description for readers with practical ideas using AI the internet of things IoT and machine learning to deal with the analysis modeling and predictions from big data Covering topics such as field spectra high resolution sensing imagery and spatiotemporal data engineering this premier reference source is an excellent resource for data scientists computer and IT professionals managers mathematicians and statisticians health professionals technology developers students and educators of higher education librarians researchers and academicians

M. Oukrop, 2011 Landscape Architecture , 1994 Dynamic Response of Coasts and Estuaries to Human Impacts Xiao Hua Wang, 2024-07-25

The coasts cover a diverse range of ecosystems within marine estuarine and freshwater environments. They are some of the most heavily populated and visited areas and are also some of the most threatened natural habitats. Coastal zones are critically important not only to the people who live there but for the health of the planet. Many world estuaries and coast environments are under tremendous stress in response to global warming and the increased anthropogenic forcing. Warmer waters, rising sea levels, tropical cyclones, storm surges, and flooding and coastal erosion are just some of the elements impacting coastal communities worldwide and transforming these environments. Coastal hazards such as storm events with associated storm surges are increasing in frequency and intensity as are marine heatwaves that devastate coral reefs. Human activities like sewage discharge, overfishing, navigation channel dredging, land reclamation, the construction of shipping ports, and marine plastics are also responsible for coastal pollution and degradation. Therefore, a good understanding of the current state of coastal environments and lessons learnt from these human influences is extremely valuable to restore and protect these habitats and ecosystems from further environmental degradation and even catastrophe. In this book, case studies are used to tell a story about how these environments respond to severe human-induced perturbations and what has gone right and wrong from an environmental and resource management point of view. The readership of the book includes high-level undergraduate Oceanography students and workers from Coastal Engineering and Management.

Forestry sector review: Pakistan, 2019 The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2020-03-01

Realizing the importance of the forestry sector's contribution to climate change mitigation and consequently to the improvement of local livelihoods, the World Bank and FAO Pakistan launched the Forestry Sector Review in 2017. The objective of the Review is to provide a better understanding of current and potential environmental, social, and economic impacts of the forestry ecosystem in the country. Pakistan is a federation of four provinces: Balochistan, Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, KP, Punjab, and Sindh. The country has three special areas, i.e., Federally Administered Tribal Areas (FATA), Gilgit-Baltistan (GB), and Islamabad Capital Territory (ICT). Pakistan is a forest-poor country with a small area of 4.478 million ha, 5.1 percent under forests. This amounts to 0.021 ha per person compared to the world average of 1 ha per person. The contribution of the forestry sector to the GNP and GDP, as per official estimates, seems quite insignificant, primarily due to the fact that a multitude of non-timber forest products (NTFP) and non-tangible environmental and ecological benefits of the forests are not taken into account. This review provides estimates of the total extent of forestry resources and identifies opportunities and hotspots while providing key recommendations for realizing a future sustainable forest system in Pakistan. Appropriate mechanisms and a well-defined strategy are required to address the numerous issues involved in sustainable forest management. The Review also highlights the involvement and contributions of local communities as an essential element for natural resource management and biodiversity conservation.
