Classic Horror Films and the Literature That Inspired Them Ron Backer, 2015-05-11. Classic horror films such as Dracula, Frankenstein, and The Picture of Dorian Gray are based on famous novels. Less well-known, even to avid horror fans, are the many other memorable films based on literary works. Beginning in the silent era and continuing to the present, numerous horror films found their inspiration in novels, novellas, short stories, and poems, though many of these written works are long forgotten. This book examines 43 works of literature, from the famous to the obscure, that provided the basis for 62 horror films. Both the written works and the films are analyzed critically, with an emphasis on the symbiosis between the two. Background on the authors and their writings is provided.

Irish Classics Declan Kiberd, 2001. A celebration of the tenacious life of the enduring Irish classics, this book by one of Irish writing's most eloquent readers offers a brilliant and accessible survey of the greatest works since 1600 in Gaelic and English, which together have shaped one of the world's most original literary cultures. In the course of his discussion of the great seventeenth and eighteenth century Gaelic poems of dispossession and of later work in that language that refuses to die Declan Kiberd provides vivid and idiomatic translations that bring the Irish texts alive for the English speaking reader Extending from the Irish poets who confronted modernity as a cataclysm and who responded by using traditional forms in novel and radical ways to the great modern practitioners of such paradoxically conservative and revolutionary writing Kiberd's work embraces three sorts of Irish classics those of awesome beauty and internal rigor such as works by the Gaelic bards Yeats Synge Beckett and Joyce those that generate a myth so powerful as to obscure the individual writer and unleash an almost superhuman force such as the Cuchulain story the lament for Art O Laoghaire and even Dracula and those whose power exerts a palpable influence on the course of human action such as Swift's Drapier's Letters the speeches of Edmund Burke or the autobiography of Wolfe Tone The book closes with a moving and daring coda on the Anglo Irish agreement claiming that the seeds of such a settlement were sown in the works of Irish literature A delight to read throughout Irish Classics is a fitting tribute to the works it reads so well and inspires us to read and read again Horror
