Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory ,2000 Central and Eastern European Literary Theory and the West Michał Mrugalski,Schamma Schahadat,Irina Wutsdorff,2022-12-05 Literary theory flourished in Central and Eastern Europe throughout the twentieth century but its relation to Western literary scholarship is complex This book sheds light on the entangled histories of exchange and influence both within the region known as Central and Eastern Europe and between the region and the West The exchange of ideas between scholars in the East and West was facilitated by both personal and institutional relations both official and informal encounters For the longest time however intellectual exchange was thwarted by political tensions that led to large parts of Central and Eastern Europe being isolated from the West A few literary theories nevertheless made it into Western scholarly discourses via exiled scholars Some of these scholars such as Mikhail Bakhtin become widely known in the West and their thought was transposed onto new Western cultural contexts others such as Olga Freidenberg were barely noticed outside of Russian and Poland This volume draws attention to the schools circles and concepts that shaped the development of theory in Central and Eastern Europe as well as the histoire croisée the history of translations transformations and migrations that conditioned its relationship with the West Contemporary Literary and

Literary History: Towards a Global Perspective Anders Pettersson, Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, Margareta Petersson, Stefan Helgesson, 2011-12-22 Literary History Towards a Global Perspective is a research project funded by the Swedish Research Council Vetenskapsr det Initiated in 1996 and launched in 1999 it aims at finding suitable methods and approaches for studying and analysing literature globally emphasizing the comparative and intercultural aspect Even though we nowadays have fast and easy access to any kind of information on literature and literary history we encounter more than ever the difficulty of finding a credible overall perspective on world literary history Until today literary cultures and traditions have usually been studied separately each field using its own principles and methods Even the conceptual basis itself varies from section to section and the genre concepts employed are not mutually compatible As a consequence it is very difficult if not impossible for the interested layperson as well as for the professional student to gain a clear and fair perspective both on the literary traditions of other peoples and on one's own traditions. The project can be considered as a contribution to gradually removing this problem and helping to gain a better understanding of literature and literary history by means of a concerted empirical research and deeper conceptual reflection. The contributions to the four volumes are written in English by specialists from a large number of disciplines primarily from the fields of comparative literature, Oriental studies and African studies in Sweden. All of the literary texts discussed in the articles are in the original language. Each one of the four volumes is devoted to a special research topic.

Biblical Interpretation W. Randolph Tate, 2008-05-01 This comprehensive exploration of the interpretive process now available in paperback has served as a successful textbook. It focuses on the three worlds of biblical interpretation: the world of the author, the world of the text and the world of the reader to help students develop an integrated hermeneutical strategy. The book offers clear explanations of interpretive approaches which are supported by helpful biblical examples and succinct synopses of various interpretive methods. Pedagogical aids include end of chapter review and study sections with key terms, study questions and suggestions for further reading.

Reception Theory and Biblical Hermeneutics David Paul Parris, 2009-01-01 Traditional methods employed in biblical interpretation involve a two-way dialogue between the text and the reader. Reception theory expands this into a three-way dialogue with the third partner being the history of the text's interpretation and application. Most contemporary biblical interpreters have ignored this third partner although recently the need to include the history of interpretation has gained some attention. This book explores the hermeneutical resources that reception theory provides for engaging the history of biblical interpretation as a third dialogue partner in biblical hermeneutics. The first third of this work explores the philosophical background and hermeneutical framework that Hans Georg Gadamer provides for reception theory. The center of this study examines how this hermeneutical approach is fleshed out by Hans Robert Jauss. Jauss not only builds upon Gadamer's work but his literary hermeneutic provides a model applicable to the biblical text and its tradition of interpretation. The focus for the final third of the book shifts toward three studies that seek to demonstrate the applicability of various aspects of reception theory to biblical interpretation.

Towards a Theory of Life-Writing Marija Krsteva, 2022-11-30 Towards a Theory of Life Writing Genre Blending provides a look into the rules of life writing genre blending proposing a theory to explain and illustrate the main regulations governing such genre play. It centers on fact and fiction duality in the formation of auto-biofictional genres. This book investigates the existing developments in this field and explores major criticism and lines of inquiry in order to arrive at the theory of life writing genre play textuality. The specific interplay of the different generic characteristics develops a specific textuality at the heart of it. This is termed biofictional preservation, biopreservation to explain the textual transformation and the shaping of the auto-biofictional genres. Written for undergraduate and graduate students but also for the general readers, the book further exemplifies the theory in the analyses of different biofictions about the American authors F Scott Fitzgerald and Ernest Hemingway featuring overlapping and juxtaposed material This volume aims to provide a theory of this specific textuality in order to better understand and approach the process in question as well as to open up new horizons for further study and exploration Rehabilitating Literary Theory Khaled Besbes,2011 The present work seeks to bring literary theory in line with the most recent practical turn the humanities are witnessing When simplified succinctly presented and skillfully used in multi coded interpretation within a semiocritical framework literary theories become practical exercises in criticism not only facilitating the interpretation of literature but also making it more enjoyable and more rewarding This book is different from its counterparts in the sense that it includes an exceptionally expanded model of the practice of literary theories and replaces long and theoretical discussions with brief synopses of the examined theories It relies on less overused texts for illustration as it compiles and organizes the terms and phrases that are often used by the proponents of the discussed theories The most influential literary theories that have so far been developed in academia are included the New Criticism reader response criticism structuralism deconstruction feminism Marxism psychoanalytic criticism linguistic criticism cultural materialism new historicism postcolonialism and semiotics Through eliminating the excesses made in the name of theory this book will restore the faith of students teachers and practitioners in the useful and enduring nature of literary theory for the analysis and appreciation of literature Seriality and Texts for Young People M. Reimer,N. Ali,D. England,M. Hamblin,Ann J. Abadie,2009-09-18 A turn of the century map of where Faulkner studies have traveled and where they are headed Faulkner and the Politics of Reading Karl F. Zender,2023-10-18 With this study Karl F Zender offers fresh readings of individual novels themes and motifs while also assessing the impact of recent politicized interpretations on our understanding of Faulkner s achievement Sympathetically acknowledging the need to decenter the canon Zender s searching interrogation of current theory clears a breathing space for Faulkner and his readers between the fustier remnants of New Criticism and the excesses of post structuralism Each chapter opens with a balanced presentation of the genuine gifts contemporary theory has bestowed on our comprehension of a particular novel or problem in Faulkner criticism and then proceeds with a groundbreaking reading The Politics of Incest challenges older psychoanalytic interpretations of Faulkner s use of the incest motif and Faulkner s Privacy defends the novelist s difficulty or reticence as an aesthetic resistance against the rude candor of der regionalized and depersonalized culture Subsequent chapters take up the volatile issues of Faulkner s representations of women and of African Americans and a close reading of the classic Barn Burning critiques the current tendency to blur the concepts of patriarchy and paternity The elegiac final chapter Where is Yoknapatawpha County draws on a comparison with John Updike s Pennsylvania fiction and a reading of Joan Williams s The Wintering to explore Faulkner

s disinclination to represent the quotidian realities of southern life in his later novels Zender shows that Faulkner's stylistic withdrawal attempts to transform into beauty his alienation from the postwar world and his fear of aging That Faulkner and the Politics of Reading itself recovers and gives new luster to Faulkner's beauty will surely please in the author's words those readers for whom literature is less a mechanism of social change than a source of pleasure The originality of its critical vision will inspire Faulkner scholars students of American literature and general readers Literature, Theory, History J. Hart, 2011-10-24 This book discusses literature theory and history in close relation Its main focus is on comparative literature and history culture poetics rhetoric theatricality genre and gender and balances close reading with theory and historical context The Humanities: Methodology And Perspectives, 2/E Kundu Abhijit, 2010-09 Roughing it in the Suburbs Valerie J.
