GENERAL INFORMATION

• For Battery, Starter or Alternator replacement refer to Group 8B, Battery/Starter/Alternator Service. This Group 8A will cover diagnostics only.

The Battery, Starting, and Charging Systems operate with one another, and must be thoroughly tested as a complete system. To enable the vehicle to start and charge properly, it must have a battery that will perform to specifications. The starter motor, alternator, wiring, and electronics also must perform within specifications. Group 8A will cover Starting (Fig. 1) and Charging System (Fig. 2) diagnostic procedures. These will be covered from the most basic conventional methods to On Board Diagnostics (OBD) built into the vehicle's electronics. The need for conventional testing equipment has not been eliminated by the introduction of OBD. Frequent use of an ammeter, volt/ohmmeter, battery charger, carbon pile rheostat (load tester), and 12 volt (low wattage) test light will be required.

All front wheel drive vehicles are equipped with OBD and all OBD sensing systems are monitored by the Engine Control computer. The Engine Control computer will store in electronic memory, any detectable failure within the monitored circuits. It will retain this information for a period of 50 engine starts, then erase the memory if the failure does not reoccur during that period. This also will translate a monitor failure as a FAULT CODE when a readout command is given. A readout command can be made by turning the ignition switch to ON-OFF-ON-OFF-ON without starting the engine. The CHECK ENGINE LAMP on the instrument cluster will flash in preset sequences to show Fault Codes. However, the Check Engine Lamp cannot express fault codes for all failures. Fault codes are easier to obtain and more complete with the use of Diagnostic Tool (DRB II). This tool is plugged into the diagnostic connector
