

Territorial census gains new $5 note

By Peter Harrison

The territorial census just increased by one when this fascinating Colorado territorial note, reported on Washington state and was consigned to Islandia Auctions. It ranks as the most exciting territorial find of the year because it is from a clareterritorial bank in a state's territory and, as you can see it is associated with superb paper quality, strong color and bold bank signatures.

There are now 31 reported Colorado territorial notes. This one is the equal or better of all the 5's that have been reported. As long as the note, it is by far from the smallest Colorado Territory bank from which a high grade Original 1875 series note is reported.

Only 5's were circulated by The First National Bank of Colorado Springs during the Original 1875 series period, which for the bank lasted from 1875 to 1895. Colorado was granted statehood on Aug.

8, 1876. However, no policy was in force then to cover the alteration of existing territorial

Sale to feature trove of financial documents

By Kerry Rodgers

On Nov. 20 Spink will put up for sale a vast inventory of historic financial instruments of the former German Reichsbank. The items document much the very heart of German economic history. They comprise largely of treasury bills and bonds of the Reichsbank and the German State from 1878 to 1938.

These certificates survived World War II and its aftermath in the vaults of the Reichsbank in Berlin. They remained largely untouched during the years of the GDR. Following German reunification the Ministry of Finance sought to establish any and all possible claims. This process is now complete and the historically valuable collection goes for auction in its entirety.

Any revenue from this auction will go directly to the Nazi Criminal Compensation
