Miller,2008 Between 1600 and 1929 perhaps seven million men and women left Ireland and crossed the Atlantic Ireland and Irish America is concerned with Catholics and Protestants rural and urban dwellers men and women on both sides of that vast ocean Drawing on over thirty years of research in sources as disparate as emigrants letters and demographic data it recovers the experiences and opinions of emigrants as varied as the Rev James McGregor who in 1718 led the first major settlement of Presbyterians from Ulster to the New World Mary Rush a desperate refugee from the Great Famine in County Sligo and Tom Brick an Irish speaking Kerryman on the American prairie in the early 1900s Above all Ireland and Irish America offers a trenchant analysis of mass migration s causes its consequences and its popular and political interpretations In the process it challenges the conventional two traditions Protestant versus Catholic paradigm of Irish and Irish diasporan history and it

illuminates the hegemonic forces and relationships that governed the Irish and Irish American worlds created and linked by transatlantic capitalism Chambers's Edinburgh Journal ,1834 Our Young People ,1912 John Blake Dillon, Young Irelander Brendan O'Cathaoir,1990 Dillon 1814 66 was a co founder of the Nation newspaper and a leading member of the Young Ireland group After the attempted rising in 1848 he escaped to the United States where he worked as a lawyer for eight years He was a critical observer of the contemporary scene post Famine Ireland Irish America and the Church of Pioneros His weekly letters to his wife besides their intrinsic human interest proved to be a particularly valuable source of research material After returning to Dublin Dillon despite his rebel past and liberal Catholicism co operated with Archbishop Paul Cullen in forming the National Association Elected MP for Tipperary in 1865 Dillon made a remarkable impression during his brief parliamentary career His performance influenced Gladstone's reshaping of Irish policy and left its mark on that statesman's reforming ministry of 1868 74 His strategy of supporting the new liberal leadership was dramatically successful He outlined ideas which would be implemented under Parnell ably assisted by his son John Dillon This contextual biography of Dillon is long overdue it is based on primary sources mainly the Dillon papers in Trinity College Dublin

What Can Be Found in LOST? John Ankerberg,Dillon Burroughs,2007-12-01 What can Christians learn from one of the most popular TV series of all time In its first season LOST averaged 15.5 million viewers per episode The show features a cast that struggles with the eternal issues of identity conflict relationships and spirituality Though the show does not have a Christian foundation or theme there is much believers can learn about social and cultural attitudes and perspectives through its episodes such as the selfish bent of human nature the darkness of evil the hunger people have for acceptance and success the realization of our need for God the hope for a positive future Many of the problems and difficulties of everyday life are captured succinctly in LOST making it a useful point of reference for understanding how different people view issues of a spiritual nature Ankerberg and Burroughs offer practical suggestions for Christians who desire to talk effectively to others about the various themes in the show To Know You Shannon Ethridge,Kathryn Mackel,2013-10-22 Julia Whittaker's rocky past yielded two daughters both given up for adoption as infants Now she must find them to try to save her son Julia and Matt Whittaker's son has beaten the odds for thirteen years only to have the odds and his liver crash precipitously The only hope for his survival is a living liver transplant but the transplant list is long and Dillon's time is short His two older half sisters born eighteen months apart to two different fathers offer his only hope for survival But can Julia ask a young woman someone she surrendered to strangers long ago and has never spoken with to make such a sacrifice to save a brother she's never known Can she muster the courage to journey back into a shame filled season of her life face her choices and their consequences and find any hope of healing And what if she discovers in her own daughters lives that a history of foolish choices threatens to repeat itself Julia knows she's probably embarking on a fool's errand searching for the daughters she abandoned only now that she needs something from them But love compels Julia to take this journey Can grace and forgiveness compel her daughters to join her In To Know You Shannon Ethridge and Kathryn Mackel explore how the past creates the present and how even the most shattered lives can be redeemed Monsieur Guizot in Private Life, 1787-1874
