Coming Through The Search For A New Cultural Identity:

From Technology Transfer to Intercultural Development S. Strijbos, Jan van der Stoep, 2012-02-01 The idea for this book has been born in a dialogue between the authors of In Search of an Integrative Vision for Technology 2006 and a group of scholars and practitioners from South Africa whose research and development activities focuses on problems of traditional African society and culture Although there existed awareness in the writing of the earlier book that the search for normativity for our technological society should encompass the different cultural spheres of the world no attention has been paid to the problem of interculturality Focussing on the development of technology in the developed societies the emphasis was laid on finding a basis for interdisciplinarity bridging the gaps between the sciences and humanities as well as between theory and practice According to the vision that has been elaborated on in the above book not the autonomous dynamics of technology as a free flying projectile should determine the future of our global world but guidance has to be provided by a normative perspective on technology for the common good of all people and cultures Following further this line of research the current book aims to address explicitly the intercultural dimension of technology in our globalising world Civilising

Grass Jonathan Cane, 2019-07-01 Civilising Grass is a socio cultural analysis of the lawn on the South African highveld exploring the complex relationship between landscape and power in the country's colonial modernist and post apartheid eras Drawing from eco criticism queer theory art history and postcolonial studies this book offers a lively and provocative reading of texts and illustrations to reveal the racial and gendered aspects of natural environments It argues that the lawn an ordinary and often overlooked feature of South African everyday life is neither natural nor innocent Rather like other colonial landscapes the lawn functions as a site of commonplace violence of oppression dispossession and segregation This book explores an eclectic archive of artistic literary and architectural lawns between 1886 and 2017 analysing poems maps gardening blogs adverts ethnographies and ephemera as well as literature by Koos Prinsloo Marlene van Niekerk and Ivan Vladislavic In addition Civilising Grass includes colour reproductions of lawn artworks by David Goldblatt Lungiswa Gqunta Pieter Hugo Anton Kannemeyer Sabelo Mlangeni Moses Tladi and Kemang Wa Lehulere Examination of these and other works reveals the organic relationship between lawn and wildness and between lawn and human non human actors thereby providing rich and unexpected insights into South African society past and present Contingent Citizens Elizabeth

Hull, 2020-05-27 Contingent Citizens examines the ambiguous state of South Africa's public sector workers and the implications for contemporary understandings of citizenship It takes us inside an ethnography of the professional ethic of nurses in a rural hospital in KwaZulu Natal shaped by a deep history of mission medicine and changing forms of new public management Liberal democratic principles of transparency decentralization and rights though promising freedom from control often generate fear and insecurity instead But despite the pressures they face Elizabeth Hull shows that nurses draw on a range of practices from international migration to new religious movements to assert new forms of citizenship Focusing an anthropological lens on professionalism Hull explores the major fault lines of South Africa's fragmented social landscape class gender race and religion to make an important contribution to the study of class formation and citizenship This prize winning monograph will be of interest to scholars of anthropology development studies sociology and global public health

Towards the sustainable well-being of communities Attie van Niekerk, 2024-12-03 This book offers a transdisciplinary exploration of the southern African context examining the dynamic interactions between traditional African beliefs Christianity and the modern global empire all in close relation to the African landscape and ecology Drawing on original research the book delves into the ways these powerful forces have shaped contemporary households and communities emphasizing the importance of community agency and sustainable indigenous solutions for everyday challenges It highlights the intersection of cultural religious and ecological systems offering a holistic approach to building resilient and sustainable communities While centered on Southern Africa the book's insights are valuable to global researchers and those invested in creating a dignified livable and sustainable future for Africa

The Search for a New Alphabet Harald Hendrix, Joost J. Kloek, Sophie Levie, Willie van Peer, 1996-06-13 Literary Studies is currently going through a deep transformation preparing itself for the launch into the twenty first century The present volume which is dedicated to Douwe Fokkema on the occasion of his retirement from Utrecht University captures this transformation in a number of squibs by a select international group of scholars Topics dealt with are canon formation conventions cultural relativism hermeneutics vs empirical studies and the problem of values all themes very much central to current discussions in comparative literature and literary theory Taken together they form a variegated picture of a discipline in a changing world continually involved so to speak in The Search for a New Alphabet

Beneath the Surface Lynn M. Thomas, 2020-01-10 For more than a century skin lighteners have been a ubiquitous feature of global popular culture embraced by consumers even as they were fiercely opposed by medical professionals consumer health advocates and antiracist thinkers and activists In Beneath the Surface Lynn M Thomas constructs a transnational history of skin lighteners in South Africa and beyond Analyzing a wide range of archival popular culture and oral history sources Thomas traces the changing meanings of skin color from precolonial times to the postcolonial present From indigenous skin brightening practices and the rapid spread of lighteners in South African consumer culture during the 1940s and 1950s to the growth of a billion dollar global lightener industry Thomas shows how the use of skin lighteners and experiences of skin color have been shaped by slavery colonialism and segregation as well as by consumer capitalism visual media notions of beauty and protest politics In teasing out lighteners layered history Thomas theorizes skin as a site for antiracist struggle and lighteners as a technology of visibility that both challenges and entrenches racial and gender hierarchies

Modern African Elite of South Africa Lynette Dreyer, 1989-06-18 A profile of the lives of 60 eminent Black Africans who have reached the top of their professions and social hierarchy in South African society despite the political system It argues that White fears of a Black government destroying the economy of South Africa are unfounded
