Knapp, John Zeratsky, 2018-09-25 From the New York Times bestselling authors of Sprint comes a unique and engaging read about a proven habit framework that readers can apply to each day. Insider Best Books to Form New Habits If you want to achieve more without going nuts, read this book. Charles Duhigg, author of The Power of Habit, Nobody ever looked at an empty calendar and said, "The best way to spend this time is by cramming it full of meetings or got to work in the morning and thought, 'Today I'll spend hours on Facebook.' Yet that's exactly what we do. Why? In a world where information refreshes endlessly and the workday feels like a race to react to other people's priorities faster, frazzled and distracted has become our default position. But what if the exhaustion of constant busyness wasn't mandatory? What if you could step off the hamster wheel and start taking control of your time and attention? That's what this book is about. As creators of Google Ventures' renowned design sprint, Jake and John have helped hundreds of teams solve important problems by changing how they work. Building on the success of these sprints and their experience designing ubiquitous tech products from Gmail to YouTube, they spent years experimenting with their own habits and routines, looking for ways to help people optimize their energy, focus, and time. Now they've packaged the most effective tactics into a four-step daily framework that anyone can use to systematically design their days. Make Time is not a one-size-fits-all formula. Instead, it offers a customizable menu of bite-size tips and strategies that can be tailored to individual habits and lifestyles. Make Time isn't about productivity or checking off more to-dos. Nor does it propose unrealistic solutions like throwing out your smartphone or swearing off social media. Making time isn't about radically overhauling your lifestyle; it's about making small shifts in your environment to liberate yourself from constant busyness and distraction. A must-read for anyone who has ever thought, "If only there were more hours in the day," Make Time will help you stop passively reacting to the demands of the modern world and start intentionally making time for the things that matter.

The Mosaic Principle Nick Lovegrove, 2016-11-01 Life, personally and professionally, is lived to the fullest as a mosaic encompassing a rich and complex set of diverse experiences that provide purpose, meaning, happiness, and success. Yet the pressures of modern society push us toward narrower focus and deeper specialization in our lives and careers. Our pursuit of specific expertise risks us becoming isolated from those different from us; our lack of shared experience fosters suspicion and conflict. Today we have businesspeople and government officials who persistently distrust and demonize each other, a fortunate swath of society with professional and financial security increasingly isolated from those left behind, and community leaders who struggle to relate to and connect with the communities they serve. In every walk of life, we have allowed ourselves to be pushed into self-defining cocoons from which it is difficult to break out. Nick Lovegrove's compelling vision provides the way out of this contemporary trap. He supplies vivid portraits of those who get it right, such as Paul Farmer, the physician whose broad and imaginative choices bring health and hope to the world's poorest people, and those who get it deeply wrong, such as Jeffrey Skilling, the former CEO of Enron, and connects their experiences with a blueprint of six skills: a moral compass, transferrable skills, contextual intelligence, prepared mind, intellectual thread, and extended network The Mosaic Principle will help you to succeed in an ever changing more complex and diverse world and build a more remarkable and fulfilling life
